PREFACE TO THE 1996 EDITION

I am pleased to issue this fifth Ivy Manual in a new graphic format and for the first time as a permanent bound volume, as the Ivy League enters its fifth decade of formal competition. The new Manual especially reflects the care and craft of Carolyn Campbell, Senior Associate Director of the Ivy Group. The substance of our rules, the clarity of their presentation and the effectiveness of their application all benefit immeasurably from her oversight.

This edition continues to be based on the substantial changes in organization made in 1987, under the direction of then Assistant Director Constance A. Huston [Hurlbut]. Production of the text has been the responsibility most recently of Jane Antis, and earlier of Marcia Staton, Lynda Jarvis and Celia Jacobowitz. We owe special thanks for format revisions in this edition to Marion Carty of Princeton University Printing Services.

Although the Preface to the third edition of the Manual (following) refers to it as “less a statute book than a statement of common procedures”, the Manual clearly now is a book of rules, albeit one which we hope is directed toward high purposes. Our ability to play together by these rules depends on both our wisdom in developing them and our fidelity and good sense in applying them. The founding Ivy Presidents’ words in 1954 are no less relevant today:

> It is the spirit of this agreement that it shall be carried out through wise and flexible administration and in a setting of mutual respect and confidence among the members of the Group, as institutions having a common dedication to the purposes and principles of higher education.

This revised Ivy Manual is dedicated to all those who have dedicated themselves, in countless ways, to Ivy athletics.

PREFACE (THIRD EDITION)

The Ivy Group began as a formal group in 1954 when the eight institutions extended a 1945 agreement regarding football to all competitive athletics. The 1954 Ivy Group Agreement established both formal rules and standing committees to enforce and to interpret these rules.

Experience and changing circumstances led to many modifications of the original rules. In addition, the decisions by the various committees established a body of procedures and policies governing the actions of Ivy Group members. In 1967, Jeremiah Ford II, former Director of Athletics at the University of Pennsylvania, prepared the first edition of the Ivy Group Handbook. Designed for intra-group guidance of and information for the standing committees, this handbook collected, synthesized and presented in a usable form Ivy policies previously found only in committee minutes and selected policy statements.

Further decisions and changes led, in 1972, to a second edition prepared by Adolph W. Samborski, Director of Athletics Emeritus at Harvard University. The second edition established a format in which each section was as self-contained as possible and organized by the areas of major responsibilities of the standing committees.

The establishment of an Ivy office in late 1973 meant for the first time there was an Ivy officer whose regular duties included participation in the deliberations of all Ivy Committees. Preparation of this edition was initiated by Ricardo A. Mestres, Executive Director of the Council of Ivy Group Presidents, and completed after his retirement. This third edition of the Ivy Handbook not only updates the second edition but extends the coverage to areas of common agreement less related to the conduct of athletics.

The task faced in turn by Messrs. Ford, Samborski and Mestres makes clear that the Handbook must be an ever changing document if it is to serve its purpose of guiding and informing Ivy officers and the standing committees. It is less a statute book than a statement of common procedures. It is hoped that the loose leaf format will allow for annual updating of the contents by the insertion of new or revised pages. These inserts will be sent to the offices of each member of a standing Ivy committee. Other users of the book should be careful to see that their copies include all revised pages.

PART I PRINCIPLES

A. Introduction

In the more than fifty years since the signing of the initial Ivy Presidents Agreement, the Ivy League has developed a variety of rules to govern individual eligibility and to specify the nature of Ivy athletic competition. These rules have reflected changes at Ivy institutions, including particularly admission of women to all our Colleges, and numerous national changes.

Various sections of the original Agreement thus have been tempered by specific changes, agreed to within the Group as being within the original spirit and intention of that Agreement. And in 1979, on the Agreement’s 25th Anniversary, the Council of Presidents issued a Statement of Principles that applies the Agreement’s intentions to the circumstances which the Council then observed.

The current texts of the Agreement and of the Statement are printed hereafter as Sections I-B and C, as self-contained references. Pertinent specific provisions of the Agreement and Statement also have been incorporated as athletic rules in the remainder of the Manual. In each case, the Agreement and the Statement have been amended as necessary to comply with the final judgment in United States v. Brown University, et al. Where necessary, other provisions of the Manual also have been revised to comply with the judgement.

The reader should remember that Ivy rules and NCAA and ECAC rules may differ in general scope, detail, or both. Those differences are noted here only occasionally, because this Manual is intended primarily to specify the particular rules and practices of our own Group. In most instances Ivy regulations are more restrictive than those of the NCAA or ECAC, but there are instances in which the national or regional associations are more restrictive.

Eligibility officers and athletic administrators thus should take the greatest care to assist students and coaches in applying differences between Ivy and national rules. Students in doubt should direct questions to their campus eligibility officers.

B. Ivy Group Agreement: Selected Provisions of the 1954 Presidents Agreement, the original text in its entirety is reproduced as Appendix A.

In November, 1945, the undersigned institutions entered into an agreement regarding football, with the purpose of maintaining the values of the game in the service of higher education. In order to extend to all competitive athletics in which they mutually participate the benefits derived from this agreement, these institutions here affirm and revise their agreement as follows:

i. The subscribing institutions constitute themselves, for the purposes covered by this agreement, members of a group to be known as “The Ivy Group.”

ii. The Group reaffirm the principle that in each institution the academic authorities should control athletics.
III. A. The Group affirm their conviction that under proper conditions intercollegiate competition in organized athletics offers desirable development and recreation for players and a healthy focus of collegiate loyalty. These conditions require that the players shall be truly representative of the student body and not composed of a group of specially recruited athletes. They further require that undue strain upon players and coaches be eliminated and that they be permitted to enjoy the game as participants in a form of recreational competition rather than as professional performers in public spectacles. In the total life of the campus, emphasis upon intercollegiate competition must be kept in harmony with the essential educational purposes of the institution.

B. The Group conclude that these conditions and requirements can best be fulfilled by denying to the fullest possible extent external pressures for competitive extremes.

C. To this end, the Group will foster intra-group athletic competition in all sports. No member institution, however, shall necessarily field a team in every sport.

D. The Group approve a round-robin schedule in football and the principle of round-robin schedules in as many sports as practicable.

IV. The Group establish the following policies to govern intercollegiate athletic activities of its members. Interpretations may be made by the appropriate committees.

A. Eligibility Rules

1. No student shall be eligible for a varsity team unless he has previously filed with the appropriate authorities of his institution a written statement in which he agrees to abide by the policies and spirit of the Ivy Group agreement.

2. [Except as may be provided by exception] Only undergraduate students shall be eligible for a varsity team.

3. No student shall be eligible unless he is in good scholastic standing as determined by the standards set by the faculty of his institution and unless he is enrolled in an academic program leading to a recognized degree and is making normal academic progress, both quantitatively and qualitatively, toward the degree.

4. The members of the Group reaffirm their prohibition of athletic scholarships. Athletes shall be admitted as students and awarded financial aid only on the basis of the same academic standards and economic need as are applied to all other students (provided that each institution shall apply its own standard of economic need).

5. No student shall be eligible who has received financial support from any source except (i) from personal or family resources; (ii) in return for services
(other than of an athletic character) rendered through employment at normal wages; (iii) from financial aid awarded by or with the specific approval of the regular academic authority of the institution in which the player is a student; (iv) from Government grants to war service veterans or regularly enrolled members of ROTC units.

6. No student entering after September 1, 1953 shall be eligible whose secondary school education was subsidized or whose post-college education is promised by an institution or group of individuals not closely related to the family as a consideration for his attending the particular institution.

v. It is the spirit of this agreement that it shall be carried out through wise and flexible administration and in a setting of mutual respect and confidence among the members of the Group as institutions having a common dedication to the purposes and principles of higher education.

This agreement shall become effective upon the prior approval thereof by all the governing boards of the subscribing institutions as attested to by the signatures of the Presidents. A subscribing member may withdraw from the Group upon giving written notice of such intention two years in advance. Amendments of the agreement pertaining to membership shall be made only with the approval of all the institutions acting through their respective governing boards.

In July of 1979, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Ivy Agreement, the Council agreed to the following Statement of Principles.

1. Intercollegiate athletics ought to be maintained within a perspective that holds paramount the academic programs of the institution and the academic and personal growth of the student athlete.

2. The member schools are committed to equal opportunities in athletics for men and women.

3. The member schools ought to look primarily within the Group for standards of competitive excellence and, for most sports, ought to measure success or failure in competition with each other.

4. Each member school ought not merely to tolerate, but to value a balance of competitive success within the Group. Although schools may differ in those sports in which they excel, a reasonable competitive balance among institutions over time over all sports should be sought.

5. Wide participation in intercollegiate athletics should be sought. Although many of our student athletes will have been at least recognized by alumni, admissions staffs, coaches, or faculty with athletic participation in mind, we should encourage non-recruited athletes to earn places on our teams.

6. Student athletes should be generally representative of their class and admitted on the basis of academic promise and personal qualities as well as athletic ability.

7. Student athletes must be admitted and notified of admissions status only by the admissions office, and must be awarded financial aid and notified of financial aid awards only by the office of financial aid. [Council; Spring 1999]

8. Financial aid for student-athletes must be awarded and renewed on the sole basis of economic need with no differentiation in amount or in kind (e.g., in packaging) based on athletic ability or participation, provided that each school shall apply its own standard of economic need.

9. The student athlete should be held accountable to the same academic standards as other students.

10. Athletic participation ought never to interfere with or otherwise to distort normal academic progress toward the degree or post-baccalaureate plans for graduate work or employment.
PART I     Principles

D. NCAA Relations: from The 1977 Ivy Manual reflecting subsequent modifications by The Council through December 1991

1. It is a fact of athletic history that the Ivy Group members were prime movers in the founding and initial organization of each of the so-called “parent” national organizations [NCAA, AIAW, ECAC]. At times the needs and objectives of the National Associations have set them on a course of action that is not always consonant with the objectives of the Ivy Group institutions, or institutions with similar philosophies.

2. To establish an Ivy posture of institutional autonomy in order to prevent parent organizations from committing Ivy assets in NCAA power struggles with the AAU and with the professional (sport) interests, the following resolution was passed:

   The Ivy Group believes that an institution has the basic right to:

   a. Determine what individuals or groups, and for what purpose those individuals or groups may use the facilities of that institution;

   b. Hold institutional membership in any amateur sports organization;

   c. Participate without restraint in any or all programs designed to develop sports on a local, sectional, or national scale;

   d. Encourage and permit its athletes to participate in non-collegiate events which are certified to be amateur by the organization conducting same, with the provision that these are in consonance with Ivy Group rules, in particular those relating to post-season contests.

3. Similarly, the Ivy Group has led the attempt within the AIAW to establish an institution’s right to adopt more restrictive rules.

4. The principle of need as the basis for financial aid for student-athletes is a cornerstone of Ivy belief. The Ivy Group has consistently adopted positions with the objective of requiring need as the basis for all such aid, while arguing against any related limitations on the number of scholarships awarded to athletes or any special admissions restrictions for athletes i.e., letters-of-intent.
PART II ORGANIZATION

A. Generally

1. Standing Ivy committees

The Group establishes the following five inter-institutional committees for the purpose of carrying out the cooperative purposes of this agreement: the Council of Ivy League Presidents, the Policy Committee, the Committee on Administration, the Committee on Admissions, and the Committee on Financial Aid.

2. Chairs

a. The terms of office of the Council’s officers, and of the Chair of each of the Committees, shall begin July 1. The sequence is keyed to the alphabetical rotation in accordance with the table below [for Policy Committee, see §II-C].

b. Years listed at left indicate Chairs; Vice-Chairs to be representatives of institutions next in alphabetical order of institutions. The Committees may choose to deviate from the above order when circumstances dictate, such as a new appointment to the Committee.

B. The Council of Ivy League Presidents

1. Responsibility

The Council shall have full and final responsibility, through the Policy Committee, for the determination of all agreed policies of the Ivy League and with respect to the organization and operation of the Committees on Administration and Admissions.

2. Membership

The Council of Ivy League Presidents shall consist of the Presidents of the eight subscribing institutions.

3. Relations with Committees

The Council may from time to time request the Committees on Admissions or Administration, or the Policy Committee, to study and report on specific policy problems and may, from time to time, invite one or all these Committees to meet with the Council.

4. Chair

The Council shall have a Chair and a Vice Chair. The chairmanship of the Council shall be held in biennial rotation by the Presidents of the member institutions proceeding in the alphabetical order of the institutions. The Vice-Chair shall be the member of the Council next in line for the chair [see §II-A-2].

5. Meetings and minutes

The Council shall meet at least once a year at the time and place to be arranged by the Chair. Special meetings may be called at any time upon the initiative of the Chair or by the request of three members. Minutes shall be compiled by the Executive Director.

6. Votes and decisions

a. Except as provided below, the Presidents’ Council shall make decisions on all matters within its responsibility by the affirmative vote of six members of the Council, whether it is meeting in person or by conference call. The Council may, upon the request of the Chair, consider and act upon a matter by mail or electronic vote, provided that the vote is unanimous.

b. When only seven members of the Council participate in a Council meeting (whether in person or by conference call), the Council shall make decisions by the affirmative vote of five members of the Council. Within a reasonable time after a decision, as determined by the Chair, the absent Council member may ask the Council to reconsider the decision with unanimous attendance and a decision by six affirmative votes. In the event such reconsideration can only be done by a poll vote (e.g. email), six affirmative votes will be sufficient for a decision.
7. Appointment of Legal Counsel [Council; Spring 1989]

   a. Upon request from the Executive Director, the Chair of the Council is authorized to approve the appointment of counsel as may be needed in specific instances, including approval of specific firms or persons and of fee arrangements.

   b. Any counsel fees shall be paid from the Ivy Office Reserve account; any costs in excess of amounts available in that account will be added to the Ivy Office budget.

   c. Counsel will report to and be supervised by the Executive Director, who in turn will report to an informal committee consisting of the Chair and Vice Chair of the Council, their institutional counsel, and institutional counsel for the institution at which the Ivy Office is located. Day-to-day contact between the Executive Director and Ivy counsel on the one hand, and this committee on the other, will be through the institutional counsel for the Chair.

   d. This arrangement is intended to provide the Executive Director and Ivy counsel adequate continuing guidance and supervision, and to provide the Council and institutional counsel adequate involvement, without unduly burdening either group. When possible and appropriate, as they may determine, the Executive Director and institutional counsel for the Chair will consult with counsel for all eight Ivy institutions about the engagement of counsel and other significant decisions in connection with the legal matter involved.

C. The Policy Committee

1. Origins and responsibilities

   a. The Policy Committee was established in 1977 to replace the Coordination and Eligibility Committee. This replacement continued the expansion in authority and function of the Eligibility Committee, established in 1975, to act on behalf of the Presidents and to study and make recommendations on most types of problems that might arise. Those policies and procedures jointly agreed to by the old Committee on Coordination and Eligibility and other standing committees remain applicable except where creation of the Policy Committee explicitly redefined authority.

   b. The Committee will monitor on a continuous basis the policies and programs in the Ivy League to assure they are consistent with the spirit and intent of this Agreement. As circumstances warrant, it may recommend changes in basic policy or the Agreement itself to keep current the spirit of the Ivy Agreement. The primacy of the Policy Committee is recognized by the Presidents’ statement that all recommendations from other standing Ivy Committees are to be reviewed by the Policy Committee before they come to the Council.

   (1) All policies and interpretations of policy relating to intercollegiate athletics fall within the purview of the Committee. In addition, league-wide rules on admission and financial aid, particularly as they affect directly or indirectly the recruitment, admission, and financial aid of student athletes, are to be considered by this Committee.

(2) The intention of this responsibility is not to usurp the authority of other Committees, but to provide independent review for the Council and to assure that policy changes are considered in light of their impact on all constituencies. The Policy Committee will undertake such studies as are requested by the Council and may undertake studies on its own initiative.

c. The Committee shall maintain a set of rules of eligibility for athletics consistent with the policies and principles agreed to by the League, which rules shall be administered by the Executive Director. The Committee may hear appeals from eligibility decisions of the Executive Director at the discretion of its Chair, as set forth in §III-B-3.

d. It is in the spirit and intent of this Agreement that any questions or rumors concerning matters covered by this agreement shall be made the subject of full and frank discussion in the Policy Committee, in order that the utmost mutual confidence and respect may be maintained among members of this League.

e. In discharging its duties, the Committee may review the actions of other committees or may initiate independently recommendations to these committees.

(1) The Committee shall be free at all times to request from member institutions and Committees whatever information it deems necessary to the successful discharge of its duties.

(2) Intensity of schedule and length of season come under continuing review by the Policy and Administration Committees. It has been agreed that one joint meeting each year between the Committees would be valuable.

(3) Half-time football shows come under periodic discussion by the Policy and Administration Committees; the Policy Committee has responsibility for actual review of specific shows.

2. Membership

a. The Policy Committee has thirteen members.

b. Each institution through its President shall appoint a representative to the Policy Committee. This representative shall be a senior University officer to whom the President or Provost would naturally turn for advice or support on matters involving athletics, admissions or financial aid.
c. Five NON-VOTING members shall be selected by the Chair and the Executive Director, one each from the members of the Committees on Athletic Administration and Admissions and one Director of Financial Aid. Also included shall be one representative of the Senior Associate Athletic Directors, or equivalent, and Faculty Athletic Representatives. These members shall serve staggered three-year terms with one new appointment each year, and shall be selected in a manner assuring a balance of talents and a diversity of institutional representation. No two of these four representatives should be from the same institution at any one time. At least one of the two Administration and Senior Associate representatives shall be a woman, and the terms of these two representatives shall not be simultaneous. [Council, Spring 1994; Spring 2015]

3. Chairs and meetings
   a. The Chair of the Policy Committee will be appointed by the Council to serve for a three year term.
   b. The Chair shall set the date and place of regular meetings and of any special meetings requested by any three members.
   c. The Chair shall report as necessary to the Council on the work of the Committee.
   d. The Chair shall have the authority to place appropriate issues on the agenda of the other committees.

4. Votes and decisions
   a. Policy: Each institutional member shall have a vote. To carry, a motion must receive at least five affirmative votes.
   b. Eligibility Appeals: Only institutional members shall have a vote, the school appealing not voting. Each of the remaining institutions shall cast one vote and the majority will rule.

D. Committee on Administration

1. Responsibilities
   a. It shall be the responsibility of the Committee on Administration to handle the various operational aspects of matters dealt with in this Agreement, other than those affecting the eligibility of players and the establishment of basic policies. In particular, it shall be the responsibility of this Committee to keep under close and constant review and appraisal the conditions under which intercollegiate sports are conducted and to promote inter-institutional cooperation designated to effectuate the spirit and intent of this Agreement.
b. The Committee on Administration, through the Policy Committee, makes recommendations to the Council for the interpretation, revision and amendments of the Ivy League regulations as the changing circumstances of Ivy athletic administration seem to warrant. A legislative proposal from the Administration Committee that requires approval by the Policy Committee or the Council and is not approved by that body may not be resubmitted by the Administration Committee in the next two legislative cycles, unless the Executive Director determines that there are compelling changes in the relevant circumstances under which the sport is conducted (see §II-I). [Council, Spring 2000]

c. Most of the Committee’s responsibilities are shared with either or both of the Policy Committee or the Committee on Admissions. Prime responsibility lies with the Committee on Administration for: management of the separate Ivy Athletic Leagues; League awards and trophies and all-Ivy teams and certificates; financial considerations; coaches’ activities; public relations; and representation for the Ivy League in the councils of national and regional athletic associations.

d. It is expected that the Committee on Administration will from time to time make recommendations to the Policy Committee with respect to the matters identified in §II-D-1-c as well as any other such matters of general concern, including, e.g.: the proper place and treatment of scouting; athletic publicity; common contracts, including tickets and other game proceeds; and the control of “extra-curricular” activity of coaches (e.g., broadcasting, telecasting or writing for publication on the subject of athletics).

e. Each institution agrees to furnish the Committee on Administration such information affecting the organization, support and conduct of intercollegiate sports, other than with respect to player eligibility, as the Committee may deem necessary to the effective discharge of its purpose.

f. Administration Committee discussions should be as candid and direct as possible. Similarly, the Committee’s freedom and flexibility to act, and to take unanimous or consensus public positions, should not be affected by public discussion of prior Committee conversations. These goals are best served when all participants know that their remarks are “off the record”, and will not be quoted or referred to in subsequent discussions. [Administration, Summer 2002]

g. Accordingly, in any remarks about Administration Committee discussions, Administration Committee members, Ivy Office representatives and any other participants should comment only on their own views, and should refrain from characterizing the Committee’s discussions or actions beyond what the Committee chooses to say in its minutes or public statements. Such minutes or statements ordinarily are circulated after all meetings, and are intended to provide a clear record of Committee decisions to all persons, including those who do not participate in the meetings. [Administration, Summer 2002]

h. Participants in Administration Committee discussions should not share with staff members, coaches, Committee liaisons to coach groups or any other persons the positions or votes of other participants, and should not characterize other participants as having particular views or as favoring or disfavoring particular proposals. [Administration, Summer 2002]

i. When positions of other participants need to be shared with a third party—e.g., with a President or other non-athletics administrator, or in order to prepare a colleague to represent a Director in an Administration Committee meeting—there should be an explicit understanding that this person should not share those positions further. [Administration, Summer 2002]

2. Membership, meetings, and decisions

a. Each institution shall name a representative to the Committee on Administration who shall be the responsible administrative officer dealing with intercollegiate athletics at the institution.

b. The Chair of the Committee shall be held in biennial rotation by the representatives of the member institutions in the order indicated in §II-A-2. [Administration, Summer 2006] The Chair shall set the date and place of the regular meetings and of any special meetings, as requested by the representatives of any three institutions, and shall be responsible for recording and distributing the minutes of such meetings, with this task normally delegated to the Ivy Office.

c. The members of the League agree to abide by any decisions within the purview of the Committee on Administration which are approved by a majority of the Committee.

d. For the annual spring meeting of the Committee on Administration, the Ivy Office will pay common Committee meeting room, meal and other expenses which it has approved in advance, up to a total amount approved by the Council and contained in the Ivy Office budget (this provision replaces a comparable prior provision under the Ivy Fund; see Part IX-C). If those expenses total less than the approved amount, the excess will be used to offset hotel accommodation expenses pro-rated among the institutions. In addition, with advance approved from the Ivy Office, the Office will pay the travel expenses for coach group chairs who are invited to attend the spring meeting. [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]
e. (1) A quorum ordinarily is all 8 schools, but 7 schools in case of an emergency or if a school fails to be represented at a call or meeting for which reasonable advance notice was given and does not have a compelling reason.

(2) A majority is a majority of schools present and voting, i.e., 5 of 8 or 4 of 7.

(3) Abstentions are countable votes and have the effect of negative votes, i.e., with 8 votes present and 4 affirmative votes, either a negative vote or an abstention denies a majority. An absent vote, however, is not counted—so a 4-3 vote with a school not present passes, a 4-3-1 vote with a school present but abstaining fails.

(4) The Committee has the expectation that all schools in fact will vote on any issue and that a school is eligible to vote, and will do so, even when it doesn’t sponsor a sport, given that many votes about sports with less than 8 sponsoring schools potentially can affect many 8-school sports (e.g., a vote on an issue in men’s lacrosse that could be transferrable to other sports). [Administration, Summer 2000]

E. The Committee on Admissions

1. Responsibilities

   a. The Committee on Admissions has jurisdiction over all matters of admissions that are affected by the spirit and purposes of this Agreement. Consequently it is particularly concerned with the admissions process as it relates to prospective students who wish to participate in intercollegiate athletics at Ivy League colleges. Admission matters include the recruitment activities of all persons so involved and acceptance procedures.

   b. The Committee on Admissions shall prepare detailed rules for the effective control of recruitment according to the policies agreed to by the League. Together with the Committee on Administration, it shall maintain constant review of the financial aid and recruitment regulations promulgated by national and regional conferences in which individual institutions of the League hold membership, with particular reference to the effect such regulations may have on the policies and procedures of the Ivy League institutions.

2. Relations with other Committees and institutions

   a. The Policy Committee will oversee eligibility requirements and assume responsibility for their coordination, to the end that appropriate academic standards are maintained in relation to the athletic activities of the colleges. It is thus the Policy Committee that will be concerned with eligibility of students prior to their matriculation. The two Committees will consult and agree on matters of general policy that must be referred to the Council.
b. Each institution agrees to provide complete information to the Committee on Admissions about recruitment procedures and the local regulations governing same, acceptance data, permissible financial aid data (excluding needs analysis or methodology), and such other information as may be helpful in the implementation of the purposes of this Agreement.

c. The Committee shall make recommendations jointly with the Committee on Administration to the Policy Committee, with respect to any changes in policies deemed to be advisable.

3. Membership, meetings, and decisions

a. Each institution shall name a representative to the Committee on Admissions who shall be the administrative officer having admissions responsibility at the institution.

b. The Committee on Admissions shall have a Chair whose position shall be held in annual rotation by the representatives of the member institutions in the order indicated in §II-A-2. The Chair shall set the date and place of the regular meetings and of any special meetings, as requested by the representatives of any three institutions. The Chair shall be responsible for recording and distributing the minutes of such meetings.

c. The members of the League agree to abide by any decision within the purview of the Committee on Admissions which are approved by a majority of the Committee.

F. The Committee on Financial Aid

1. Responsibilities

a. The Committee on Financial Aid has jurisdiction over certain matters involving the determination of financial aid for students applying for admission to the institution, as well as for those students who have matriculated and continue to be enrolled at the institution. The Committee’s jurisdiction, however, is limited by the consent decree and relevant antitrust legislation, including Section 568. (See Section 2 below.)

b. The Committee on Financial Aid will maintain close liaison with the Committee on Admissions and Administration. It shall maintain constant review of the financial aid and recruitment regulations promulgated by national and regional conferences in which individual institutions of the Group hold membership, with particular reference to the effect such regulations may have on the policies and procedures of the Ivy League institutions.
2. Consent Decree and Section 568

a. On May 22, 1991 the Ivy League institutions agreed to settle a civil antitrust case filed against them by the U.S. Department of Justice through a common Consent Decree. The Decree, which will be in force until September 20, 2001, prohibits, among other things, certain agreements and exchanges of information relating to financial aid.

b. Section 568 of the Improving America’s Schools Act of 1994 permits, until September 30, 1997, certain financial aid agreements with respect to undergraduate education among institutions that practice “need-blind” admissions. Thus, with respect to undergraduate education and notwithstanding the Consent Decree, Section 568 permits (with certain limitations) institutions that practice “need-blind” admissions:

(1) to use a common financial aid application:

(2) to agree on principles of need analysis;

(3) to exchange certain pre-award letter family financial information; and,

(4) to agree to award aid only on the basis of need.

c. Members of the Committee should familiarize themselves with the specific terms of the Consent Decree, Section 568 and other relevant antitrust legislation, as all Committee activities must be consistent therewith.

3. Relations with other Committees and institutions

a. To the extent permitted by the Consent Decree and relevant antitrust legislation including Section 568, and any successor provision, the Committee on Financial Aid shall make recommendations to the Policy Committee with respect to any changes in policy deemed to be advisable.

4. Membership and meetings

a. Each institution shall name a representative to the Committee on Financial Aid who shall be the administrative officer having financial aid responsibility at the institution.

b. The Committee on Financial Aid shall have a chair whose position shall be held in annual rotation by the representatives of the member institutions in the order indicated in §II-A-2, normally to agree with the Committee on Admissions. The Chair shall set the date and place of the regular meetings and of any special meetings, as requested by the representatives of any three institutions. The Chair shall be responsible for recording and distributing the minutes of such meetings.
c. In order to determine which institutions meet the Section 568 “needblind” criteria, a certification form must be provided to the Executive Director by the Antitrust Compliance Officer of each institution which qualifies. Those institutions not providing such certification will not be eligible to participate in any discussions, agreements or exchanges otherwise permitted by Section 568, as described in §II-F-2-b.

5. Decisions

a. To the extent permitted by the Consent Decree and relevant antitrust legislation (including Section 568), the members of the League agree to abide by any decision about administrative matters within the purview of the Committee on Financial Aid that are approved by a majority of the Committee.

b. Policy issues falling within the purview of the Committee on Financial Aid, but requiring broader institutional decisions, will be voted on by the Committee. The results of such votes will be forwarded with, or as recommendations to, the Policy Committee and/or the Council.

c. Votes may be taken by mail or telephone unless there is an objection by one or more institution(s). Such objection(s) will table the issue until the next formal Committee meeting.

G. The Ivy Office and League Administration [rewritten 1989]

1. Executive Director

a. It was agreed to establish the full-time position of Executive Director of the Council of Ivy Group Presidents as defined in the minutes of the July 11, 1973 meeting of the Policy Committee.

b. The Director is responsible to the Council through the Chair of the Council. The Director is the Council’s executive officer, charged with administering the League’s rules and activities, by and among the Ivy institutions, in the spirit of the Ivy Agreement.

c. Among the Director’s principle responsibilities are:

(1) Administering the Ivy Agreement, Ivy League and national eligibility rules and Ivy League and national rules for the conduct of athletics (see II-G-2,3, below);

(2) Representing the Council within and outside the Ivy League and in NCAA and other national activities;

(3) Compiling and revising the Ivy Manual;
(4) Coordinating the activities of the various Ivy Committees, including the annual Ivy Legislative process;

(5) Carrying out selected league-wide informational activities and maintaining certain Ivy records; and

(6) Carrying out studies desired by the Council or the Policy Committee.

d. The Executive Director shall maintain a central file of Council and all Committee minutes.

e. The budget of the Ivy Office is approved by the Council and divided equally among the eight institutions.

2. Rules administration

a. The Executive Director shall administer the Ivy Agreement and relevant national rules, the imposition of penalties as may be appropriate and the implementation of such procedures for exceptions to Ivy rules as may be established by the Committee with authority in such areas. Administration of eligibility rules is governed by §III-B and C. Each institution shall furnish the Director such cooperation as he or she may require in any of his or her duties.

b. In the event of an alleged violation of the Ivy Agreement or Ivy rules initiated by an Ivy institution (including complaints concerning recruitment, admission or financial assistance offered prospects for admission), the allegation should be discussed first by the concerned institution with the responsible officer at the other institution involved. Should the issue not be resolved at this level, or if circumstances then indicate a violation may have occurred, the matter should be referred to the Executive Director.

c. If an alleged violation is referred to the Executive Director, or when the Ivy Office initiates inquiry into a possible violation, the Executive Director or designee shall investigate on behalf of the Ivy League.

(1) The Executive Director shall attempt to resolve disputes between institutions when informal discussion between institutional representatives cannot resolve the dispute or is deemed inappropriate.

(2) The Executive Director is empowered to speak directly with the parties involved and any other University representatives, employees or students, or others who may have information pertinent to resolving the allegation, or the Director may request the institution to investigate and prepare a report.
(3) The President and Policy Committee representative of the institution will be informed whenever a charge involving a serious violation is being investigated.

d. Except as provided in Section II-G-3 below, the Executive Director shall make and report the final determination to the complainant (if any) and appropriate representatives of the institution(s) involved. In the event a violation is involved, the Director may prescribe a penalty and/or course of remedial action. All such findings and penalties may be reviewed by the Policy Committee and the Council.

e. The Executive Director may grant an exception to any Ivy League rule for which a specific exception procedure is not provided, in individual cases in which the circumstances are unusual and in his or her judgment such an exception is in accord with the spirit of the Ivy Agreement. The Committee on Administration also may consider exceptions to the Ivy rules under its jurisdiction, in unusual circumstances, and refer favorable recommendations to the Ivy Office under this section. The Executive Director’s denial of any exception request may be addressed to the Chair of the Policy Committee who has sole discretion as to whether the case shall go to the Policy Committee.

3. Processing “serious” cases; Advisory Disposition Committee

   a. The Executive Director shall refer cases of possible violations of Ivy or NCAA rules that he or she considers potentially “serious” to the Chairs of the Council and Policy Committee, and the process set forth in this section shall attach if they agree that the case is “serious.” The Executive Director may conduct a preliminary inquiry into the matters as a basis for recommending to the Chairs whether or not to invoke this process. It is the Council’s expectation that in considering whether to refer a case, the Director will take an expansive view of the process’s potential application.

   (1) If the institution which the Chair of the Council represents is involved in the case, the Vice-Chair of the Council shall participate instead.

   (2) If the institution which the Chair of the Policy Committee represents is involved in the case, the Executive Director shall designate a different institutional representative to the Policy Committee to participate instead.

   b. A “serious” case is one wherein the nature or scope of the alleged activity is deemed to call into question compliance with a fundamental Ivy rule or the integrity of the institution’s commitment to fundamental Ivy principles.
c. In processing cases that are determined to be “serious”, the Executive Director shall be advised by an Advisory Disposition Committee (ADC), whose composition is described in section (i). The ADC is intended to provide “institutional” and “Committee” perspectives to the Executive Director in processing such cases, but not to investigate or process cases itself. The ADC also is expected to propose changes or additions to Ivy League rules that may be suggested by its work, especially as to the definition of Ivy League rules, for consideration in the regular Ivy legislative process.

d. The Executive Director will notify the Council, Policy and Administration Committees of all “serious” cases; where appropriate in view of the issues involved, the Admissions and/or Financial Aid Committees also will be notified. Council and Committee members will not discuss such cases either within their institutions or publicly, and will refer all public and media inquiries to the Executive Director.

e. The ADC will review the initial allegations with the Executive Director and will advise the Director on the proposed conduct of the inquiry, which will be conducted by the Ivy Office with such cooperation of the institution(s) involved as the Director may require.

f. The Ivy Office will seek to process any issues of NCAA compliance as promptly as possible, without waiting for resolution of Ivy issues if appropriate, especially when seeking to maintain or restore the eligibility of individual athletes.

g. At the conclusion of the inquiry, the Executive Director will submit to the ADC his/her proposed findings, disposition, and report, and the ADC will provide the Director its views as to:

1. the completeness of the inquiry;
2. the definition and identification of Ivy or NCAA violations;
3. the completeness, clarity and adequacy of the proposed disposition, as to both remedy and deterrence of future such activities by any Ivy institution;
4. the statements proposed to be made to the League and to the public and media; and,
5. whether the full report should be disclosed to the League and the public, and if so, whether in redacted form (it will be presumed that the full report will be disclosed, either with or without redaction, unless the Executive Director and the ADC find a compelling reason not to do so).
b. After the Executive Director and the ADC are satisfied in all these respects, the proposed findings, disposition and report will be submitted to the Chair of the Council, who will approve it, seek further action from the Executive Director, or refer it to the Policy Committee or the full Council for further action.

(1) The ADC shall consist of eight members, chosen by the Chair of the Policy Committee and the Executive Director to include one representative from each institution and two representatives from each of the Ivy Committees.

(2) The members will normally include the following:

a. Serving in accordance with their terms on the Policy Committee, so long as there is only one member from the same institution:
   - The Chair of the Policy Committee
   - Administration Committee Representative to the Policy Committee
   - Financial Aid Committee Representative to the Policy Committee
   - Admissions Committee Representative to the Policy Committee

b. Representing the four remaining institutions, serving two-year terms, with two terms expiring each year:
   - One Institutional Policy Committee Member
   - One Administration Committee Member
   - One Admissions Committee Member
   - One Financial Aid Committee Member

(3) The membership of the ADC shall be chosen prior to August 1 for the academic year beginning that summer, reflecting changes that may be required by changes in the Committee representatives to the Policy Committee or for other reasons (e.g., retirements, or if the Chair of the ADC and one of the three Committee representatives to the Policy Committee are from the same institution).

(4) Provided that there remains one representative from each institution, the Chair of the Policy Committee and the Executive Director also may adjust the composition of ADC to better address the subject matter of a particular case (e.g., if in their judgment there should be more Policy or Administration representatives and fewer Admissions or Financial Aid representatives), or to assure greater diversity of representation (in particular, to assure that a minimum of two ADC members are women). For the purposes of seeking greater diversity, the Chair and the Executive Director may select a Senior Woman Athletics Administrator for the ADC. An institution that is the subject of a serious case inquiry also may request that there be a change in its representative on the ADC.
4. Relations with national and regional athletic associations
   a. The Ivy League is committed to active ECAC and NCAA participation by the Ivy Office and the Ivy institutions. The individual Ivy institutions hold membership in the NCAA and ECAC; the Ivy League is an affiliated member through the Ivy Office.
   b. The Executive Director and the members of the Committee on Administration usually represent the Ivy League at the official meetings of the ECAC and the NCAA. Such representation requires:
      (1) Thorough review, with one or all of the standing Committees, of proposed legislation as it may affect the Ivy League.
      (2) Development of a League position on pertinent issues when necessary for the benefit of the League representatives.
      (3) Communication to all concerned of the content, and of the import to the League, of legislation enacted at the official meetings of these athletic governing organizations.

H. The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee [Administration, Spring 1999]
   1. Student Representatives

      The committee is comprised of two representatives from each institution, to be selected by the institution.

   2. Voting

      Each representative gets a vote on any issue where a vote is taken. If one institutional representative is missing, the other assumes two votes. An institution may appoint one alternate to attend if one representative is not available. If institution is not represented, it does not get a vote.

   3. Meetings

      a. Funding—conference calls, meeting expenses and travel (by car or train) are funded by Ivy Office budget.
      b. In-person meetings will be held two times per year
      c. Conference calls will be held as necessary (1 or 2 per semester)
1. Ivy Legislative Process

1. Any Ivy institution or coaches group may propose a change in Ivy League legislation. Changes also may be proposed by the Ivy League Office. The process for submitting proposals will be communicated by the Ivy Office at least two months in advance of the due date.

2. Those proposing changes are required to complete an “impact” statement in a format approved by the Policy Committee and administered by the Ivy League Office, describing how the change will affect student-athlete welfare, institutional resources, and team competitiveness.

3. A sub-committee consisting of Athletic Administrators and Policy Committee members will review the proposals and provide feedback to the proposers, ensuring that all of the information the Committees need to make an informed decision is available.

4. The submitted proposals will be voted on at the Committee on Administration meeting in May. Prior to voting, the Committee on Administration will review the Statement of Principles (I-C). Those approved by the Committee on Administration that would increase the scope of athletics will be forwarded to the Policy Committee for its approval, and then to the Council of Ivy Group Presidents as indicated (see also II-D-1-b).

5. A legislative proposal from the Administration Committee that requires approval by the Policy Committee or the Council and is not approved by that body may not be resubmitted by the Administration Committee in the next two legislative cycles, unless the Executive Director determines that there are compelling changes in the relevant circumstances under which the sport is conducted (see §II-D-1).

6. [Council, Spring 2000]

6. Changes in the following areas will require both Policy Committee and Council action:

   a. the Ivy League athletic admissions structure, or the administration of financial aid for athletes;
   b. the length and starting dates of competitive and practice seasons;
   c. the number of playing dates in competitive seasons;
   d. in practice seasons, the total number of playing dates and the kinds of permissible activities that may take place on those dates (e.g., formal contests or scrimmages, practice dates);
   e. any changes in scheduling approaches that would create academic conflicts;
   f. any changes in the format for determining Ivy League championships that would lengthen playing seasons or create academic conflicts;
   g. Ivy League participation in post-season team competition;
   h. The kind and general frequency of permissible activities in any off-season activity.
7. Changes in the following areas will require Policy Committee action and will be presented to the Council as a "consent agenda": The Council Chair will review the agenda and indicate to the Council whether he or she believes any items should be considered separately by the Council (any Council member also may remove any item from the consent agenda):

a. the effect on Ivy athletes of changes in the Olympic support structure for individual athletes;

b. the number of any permissible activity that may occur during practice or competitive seasons; provided that the total number of dates for all such activities in either season are subject to Council approval under 6-c/d above.

c. the number of any permissible activity that may occur during practice season (e.g., practice dates or contests).

d. scheduling changes and changes in the format for determining Ivy League championships that would not affect season limits or contest numbers and would not create academic conflicts;

e. participation by Ivy League athletes in individual post-season events;

f. the number of any permissible activity that may occur in an off season;

g. travel squad limits.

PART III  ELIGIBILITY: RULES AND PROCEDURES

A. Establishment and application of rules

1. Establishment of Ivy rules

   a. The Ivy League, acting through the Committee on Coordination and Eligibility established by the Articles of Agreement and its current successor, the Policy Committee, have adopted the following regulations to govern the representation of these institutions in intercollegiate athletic competition.

   b. It is the spirit of this agreement that it shall be carried out through wise and flexible administration and in a setting of mutual respect and confidence among the members of the League, as institutions having a common dedication to the purposes and principles of higher education.

   c. The Ivy League rules of eligibility shall apply equally without regard to sex.

2. Application of Ivy rules

   a. Every undergraduate student of a member college or university shall be eligible to represent his or her institution in intercollegiate athletic competition, subject to the provision of these rules and provided the student has filed with the appropriate institutional authorities a written statement in which the student agrees to abide by the policies and spirit of the Ivy Group Agreement, and the rules of national and regional governing bodies.

   b. First-year students participating in NCAA sports must have NCAA initial eligibility certified by the NCAA Eligibility Center. First-year students only participating in non-NCAA sports (e.g., sprint football, men’s rowing, men’s squash) do not have to have initial eligibility certified. [Council, Spring 2005]

   c. These rules apply to [This text also at VI-A-2.]:

      (1) Every varsity, freshman and sub-varsity athlete and team (whether or not in a sport that is an Ivy round-robin sport) engaged in intercollegiate sports and officially sponsored by more than one Ivy institution or listed as a championship or emerging sport by the NCAA; [Council, Spring 2010] and,

      (2) Every other Ivy athlete or team participating in Ivy round-robin or championship competition officially sponsored by the Group.

3. National and regional rules

   It is the intention of the members of the Ivy League to subscribe to the principles and practices approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, and other regional or national governing bodies which the League may join, and to keep abreast of the annual amendments and special rulings of these bodies.

Ivy rules and NCAA and ECAC rules may differ in general scope, detail or both. In most instances Ivy regulations are more restrictive, but there are instances in which the reverse is true. The more important differences between Ivy and NCAA rules are noted in Parts VI and X-F of this Manual, but the NCAA Manual should be consulted directly as necessary. Eligibility officers and athletic administrators should take the greatest care to assist students and coaches in applying differences between Ivy and national rules.

4. Each Ivy institution is required to schedule and receive a compliance review (conducted by the Ivy office or another third party) at a minimum of once every eight years. If an outside third party is used, the Ivy office will receive a copy of the final report.

B. Procedures in eligibility matters, including appeals

1. Institutional eligibility officer

   a. Each institution shall appoint an eligibility officer. This individual, if not the institution’s representative on the Policy Committee, should maintain a close working relationship with that representative. He or she should not be a member of the athletic department.

   b. The eligibility officer is responsible for advising students of their eligibility under Ivy rules.

   c. All requests for exceptions to Ivy rules, interpretations of such rules, reports as required under these rules and other eligibility requests to the Ivy League will be made by the eligibility officer or designee.

2. Eligibility Decisions

   a. The Executive Director is responsible for all eligibility decisions on behalf of the Ivy League. Requests should be submitted in writing to the Executive Director with a copy to the institution’s Policy Committee representative. Decisions will be returned in writing. The Executive Director, after discussion with the Chair, may choose to submit the case to the Policy Committee for action.

   b. Each institution agrees on request to provide complete information to the Executive Director concerning any candidate in any sport.

   c. The Executive Director will inform institutions when the case requires action by other associations such as the NCAA or ECAC. When a case involves action by these other associations as well as the Ivy League, eligibility requests always should be directed first to the League.

d. Exceptions to these rules may be allowed in individual cases in which the circumstances are unusual and the Executive Director, after consulting with the Chair of the Policy Committee, decides the exception is in accord with the spirit of the Ivy Agreement.

e. A master file of completed decisions shall be maintained at the office of the Council of Ivy League Presidents. Reports will be made as necessary to the Policy Committee and/or all eligibility officers on decisions and cases, particularly as they might apply to other possible cases.

3. Appeals

a. Appeals from decisions by the Executive Director shall be directed to the Chair of the Policy Committee in writing. The Chair has sole discretion as to whether the case shall go to the Policy Committee.

b. In appeal cases, the institution appealing shall not vote.

4. Eligibility responsibilities and coaches [Ivy Office, 1987 and 1989]

a. In determining eligibility within an institution all relevant officers—eligibility, admission, disciplinary and athletic—and all coaches should understand that a student’s eligibility status can be ascertained officially only from the appropriate institutional officer, who should be clearly identified. There should be in place at each institution a procedure for promptly and accurately communicating eligibility decisions to the coach of the sport in question, through whatever channels are deemed necessary. Although the eligibility officer is primarily responsible for assuring compliance in this regard, not the athletic authorities, athletic officers also must carry out their obligations clearly. In particular, coaches under any circumstances should seek and rely only on official opinion, and not on students’ representations.

b. In determining eligibility of another institution’s students, questions should be approached as follows:

(1) An Ivy institution should be assumed to have verified the eligibility of any competitor who steps up to represent it.

(2) It is an institutional matter whether questions about another institution’s students may be raised preliminarily between coaches, or should from the beginning be made by administrative officers.
(3) If there continue to be questions after initial coach discussions, further inquiry is the responsibility of institutional athletics or eligibility administrators—whether the communication is with the competing institution or any third institution, or is with the Ivy, ECAC or NCAA offices.

(4) Although coaches should feel free in these instances to consult their sports liaisons as well as their Directors for clarification of the rules, individual cases are to be pursued institutionally, not through liaisons or coach chairs.

5. Competition while ineligible — effect on records

a. This section applies whenever an institution per penalty assessment by the Ivy Office or Advisory Disposition Committee, as appropriate, forfeits a contest (or, as appropriate in an individual sport, an individual’s points or match) because of participation by an ineligible student-athlete, when the ineligibility is declared subsequent to the playing of the contest.

b. The following shall apply to all Ivy League and overall records for all affected institutions, including standings, wins and losses, and coaches’ records, both seasonal and cumulative.

1. The score of the contest as played shall be listed in the records of contests played.

2. The contest shall be recorded as a loss for the forfeiting team and as a win for the team receiving the forfeit, and any standings shall be computed on that basis.

3. There shall be added to all applicable records an asterisk and a footnote, which shall read as follows: “Records reflect that per [NCAA and/or Ivy as applicable] rules, Team X forfeited [#] Ivy League and [#] other victories [Teams A, B...] due to use of a player subsequently declared ineligible.”

4. Team and individual statistics for all affected teams shall be unchanged.

c. When the forfeit of one or more contests would result in a different team winning (or tying for) an Ivy League championship, that team shall be declared the sole (or joint) champion, and the following footnote shall be added to the relevant championship listing: “Team X victories over Teams A, B, etc. forfeited due to subsequent declaration of participation by an ineligible student-athlete; Team Y declared Ivy champion.”

d. This section shall apply to all publications of the Ivy Office and of all Ivy institutions. The Ivy Office shall prepare, and shall distribute to all institutions, listings of all records that are required to be based on this section.
c. Determination of forfeiture as a penalty [Council, Spring 2002]

1. Whenever it has been determined that a student-athlete participated in competition while ineligible, this section will be applied to determine whether, in addition to any penalties imposed by the NCAA, forfeiture of any kind shall be imposed as a penalty by the Ivy League.

2. If the student-athlete(s) competed in individual sports, the team shall forfeit any advantage gained (e.g., tennis matches won, track points earned), and the final scoring of the competition shall be adjusted accordingly.

3. If the student-athlete(s) competed in team sports, the determination will be made according to this section, beginning with an investigation by the Ivy Office.
   a. In any case which the Ivy Office determines to be one of inadvertent violation (e.g., “paperwork” error by the institution when the student-athlete was otherwise eligible, overdue financial forms, NCAA clearinghouse formalities) there will be no forfeiture, unless the Ivy Office identifies other circumstances that require review by the Advisory Disposition Committee.
   b. In any case which the Ivy Office determines to involve unethical conduct (e.g., attempt to cover up violation, knowingly allowing student to compete while ineligible), forfeiture will be imposed unless the Advisory Disposition Committee determines otherwise, based on specific mitigating evidence.
   c. In all other cases, forfeiture will be imposed unless the Advisory Disposition Committee determines otherwise, based on specific mitigating evidence.

4. In making recommendations or determinations as set forth Section III-C-3-c above, the Ivy Office and the Advisory Disposition Committee shall:
   a. Give substantial weight to the institutional process in investigating and remedying the violation, and to the behavior and forthrightness of institutional personnel (e.g., took corrective action immediately and on its own initiative, versus passive response to inquiries made by investigating authorities).
   b. Not consider the extent or effect of the student-athlete’s participation in the competition.
   c. Consider the nature of the student’s conduct in creating and/or resolving the violation.

5. The Ivy Office shall maintain a file of all cases decided under this Section.
PART IV  ELIGIBILITY: AMATEURISM

A. Principles (This text also appears in Section IB.)

1. 1954 Ivy Agreement §IV A-6, 7, 8

6. The members of the Group reaffirm their prohibition of athletic scholarships. Athletes shall be admitted as students and shall be awarded financial aid only on the basis of economic need.

7. No student-athlete shall be eligible who has received financial support from any source except (i) from personal or family resources; (ii) in return for services (other than of an athletic character) rendered through employment at normal wages; (iii) from financial aid awarded by or with the specific approval of the regular academic authority of the institution in which the player is a student; (iv) from Government grants to war service veterans or regularly enrolled members of ROTC units.

8. No student-athlete shall be eligible whose secondary education was subsidized or whose post-college education is promised by an institution or group of individuals not closely related to the family as a consideration for the student attending that particular institution.

2. 1979 Statement of Principles, Number 8

8. Financial aid for student-athletes must be awarded and renewed on the sole basis of economic need with no differentiation in amount or in kind (e.g., in packaging) based on athletic ability or participation, provided that each school shall apply its own standard of economic need.

B. Specific Issues

1. Amateurism Certification

a. Student-athletes and prospective student-athletes must be deemed amateurs in good standing by the NCAA.

(1) Exception – Student-athletes participating in non-NCAA sports are not required to go through the Eligibility Center, but must be certified as amateurs in accordance with their sports governing body, collegiate conference affiliation regulations and Ivy League rules by institutional personnel.

(2) In Squash, any participation as an individual or a team representative in organized sports competition by a student during each 12-month period after the student’s 21st birthday and prior to full-time enrollment in a collegiate institution shall count as one year of varsity competition in that sport. Participation in organized competition during time spent in the U.S. Armed Services shall be excepted.
2. Permissible Activities - The following activities will not negatively impact an individual’s amateurism in the Ivy League:

   a. Trying out with a professional team, as defined by NCAA rules, in accordance with NCAA legislation.

      (1) Exception in basketball – a student-athlete may not miss class for tryout activities.

   b. Practicing with or competing with a professional team as permitted by NCAA rules for prospective student-athletes and current student-athletes.

   c. Entering his/her name in a professional draft as permitted by NCAA rules.

3. Prohibited practices

   A student ceases to be an amateur by committing any of the following acts:

   a. Participating in any athletic competition under an assumed name, or otherwise with intent to deceive.

   b. Directly or indirectly receiving money or other remuneration for participation in any competition in any sport contrary to NCAA regulations, including receipt of money from Agents, representatives of athletics interest, and for current student-athletes from professional teams. [Note: NCAA rules govern only sports in which a student is seeking eligibility; Ivy rules proscribe eligibility in all sports if a student is professionalized in any sport sponsored at the varsity level by any Ivy League institution. IV-E] [Council, Spring 2009, Spring 2013]

      (1) Exception in tennis prior to full-time collegiate enrollment—
       In tennis, prior to full-time collegiate enrollment, an individual may accept up to $10,000 per calendar year in prize money based on his or her place finish or performance in open athletics events (events that are not invitation only). Such prize money may be provided only by the sponsor of an open event in which the individual participates. Once the individual has reached the $10,000 limit in a particular year, he or she may receive additional prize money on a per-event basis, provided such prize money does not exceed the individuals actual and necessary expenses for participation in the event. The calculation of actual and necessary expenses shall be in accordance with NCAA rules.

   c. Engaging for money or other substantial consideration in any occupation, business transaction or advertising promotion wherein that money or consideration is dependent on the student’s usefulness as an athlete or the value of the student’s name as an athlete, rather than from the ability to perform the usual and normal acts and duties incident thereto.
4. Non-professionalism and multiple sports [Ivy Office, 1987]

Unlike NCAA rules, Ivy rules proscribe eligibility in all sports if a student is professionalized in any sport; see §IV-B-1 above. A student who is considered a professional in one sport may compete on the sub-varsity level in a different sport [Council, Spring 1995]. A student who has been determined under NCAA rules to be a professional in a sport shall be considered ineligible under IVY League rules for varsity competition unless granted a waiver. A student willing to give up eligibility in one sport under NCAA rules may retain IVY eligibility in other sports under the following guidelines:

a. The student may:

(1) sign with an agent for representation in the one sport, as long as the student receives no money;

(2) assemble clippings, photographs, etc. for use by the agent;

(3) enter his/her name in that sport’s draft;

(4) travel to a professional team’s location in that sport to have a physical examination and to be tested as long as the student pays his/her own way.

b. The student may not [Council, Spring 1989]:

(1) participate in practice or competition with a professional team in any restricted sport, except as permitted under NCAA rules (i.e., sport sponsored at the varsity level at any Ivy institution).

(2) sign a contract with a professional team in any restricted sport unless the student has no potential Ivy eligibility remaining in that sport;

c. Employment [Policy, March 1986; rewritten 1989]

1. Generally

Ivy governance of student employment historically has addressed a few specific situations and otherwise relied on this general admonition, as taken from the 1977 Manual: “Students should be careful to clear with the appropriate institutional authorities any employment opportunities that might jeopardize their amateur standing.” The absence of detailed regulation has reflected, in part, not only the development of extensive NCAA rules but a general acceptance of their broad outline, as well as the frequently restrictive nature of their specific application; the few rules in the 1977 Manual paraphrased specific NCAA rules. This Part IV-C sets out both the few traditional Ivy rules and the more generally applicable NCAA rules.
2. Coaching, teaching, instruction and camps

a. The 1977 Manual specifically permits “employment, or competition incident to such employment, at a summer camp.” See NCAA B.12.4.3 and B.13.12.2 for NCAA regulations.

b. There have not been Ivy limits on employment as a coach, or instructor in a physical education class. See B.12.4.2 for NCAA rules.

c. Fee for lesson instruction

NCAA and Ivy rules allow student-athletes to receive fee-for.lesson compensation for coaching and teaching sports, with the following provisions:

1. Institutional facilities are not used;

2. Playing lessons shall not be permitted;

3. The institution obtains and keeps on file documentation of the recipient of the lesson(s) and the fee charged for the lesson(s) provided during any time of the year; and

4. The compensation is paid by the lesson recipient (or the recipient’s family) and not another individual or entity.

These restrictions do not apply prior to a student-athlete’s enrollment in a collegiate institution.

3. Other specific employment

a. Ivy rules do not limit employment unrelated to athletics ability. See NCAA regulations for questions related to the following activities:

   promotional activities B.12.5.1
   modeling B.12.5.1.3
   commission based sales B.12.4.2.4

4. Olympic Participation

In accordance with NCAA bylaw 12.4.2.2 student-athletes are permitted to receive broken-time payments.

D. Special elements of men’s ice hockey

1. A student who has played on any major Junior A team in the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will not be considered eligible for participation until the NCAA has reviewed the case. A strict application of these guidelines presumes that Junior A hockey players will ordinarily be ineligible and thus subject to the NCAA penalties set forth at B.12.2.3.2.4 [Policy, Spring 1996]
2. A student who has played on any Junior B team in the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will be considered eligible for participation in accordance with NCAA and Ivy League rules as long as he has not signed a professional contract, and has not received any remuneration in connection with such participation beyond actual and necessary expenses for practice and competition. This may include meals and lodging expenses during the practice and playing season, but not outside of the season. [Policy, Spring 1996]

E. Ivy Sports

Ivy rules deny eligibility in all sports if a student is professionalized in any sport sponsored at the varsity level by any Ivy institution. A student who is considered a professional in one sport may compete on the junior varsity level in a different sport. The sports sponsored by Ivy League institutions at the time the student enters any collegiate institution will apply. Any derivations of these sports, as defined by NCAA interpretation, are also included (e.g. sculling is considered rowing, triathlon is considered swimming, track, and cross country; roller hockey is considered hockey, freestyle skiing is considered skiing, biathlon is considered skiing, box lacrosse is considered lacrosse, all running is considered track and field). The following sports are offered at the varsity level by at least one Ivy institution during the 2017-2018 academic year:

- Archery
- Baseball
- Basketball
- Cross Country
- Diving
- Equestrian
- Fencing
- Field Hockey
- Football
- Golf
- Gymnastics
- Ice Hockey
- Lacrosse
- Polo
- Rowing
- Rugby
- Sailing
- Skiing
- Soccer
- Softball
- Squash
- Swimming
- Tennis
- Track & Field
- Volleyball
- Water Polo
- Wrestling
PART V  ELIGIBILITY: ACADEMIC STANDARDS AND RESIDENCE

A. Residence and years of eligibility

1. Seasons of competition

   a. No student shall be eligible for more than four seasons of intercollegiate eligibility in any sport.

   b. Subject to V-A-2 below, all students are expected to use their years of varsity eligibility in a particular sport during the first four seasons of that sport (even though they may be formally enrolled in a five-year program), provided the student is enrolled as a full-time student during each of those seasons.

   c. In determining years of competition in all cases:

      (1) Participation, however brief, in any intercollegiate athletic competition in any college year will cause that season to count as one of the allotted seasons of competition in that sport [see NCAA definition of competition], B.12.8.3.1.

      (2) In the sports of women’s volleyball, field hockey, and men’s and women’s soccer, a student-athlete may represent the institution in outside competition during the segment of the playing season that does not conclude with the NCAA championship without using a season of competition, provided the student-athlete was academically eligible during the segment that concludes with the NCAA Championship.

      (3) The year or years during which a student may have represented any institution in intercollegiate athletic competition shall normally count in the total years of eligibility.

2. Season of Competition Waivers [Ivy Office, 2005]

   a. Season of competition waivers will normally be granted when a student misses a season due to illness or emergency beyond the student’s control. Waivers will normally be denied when students choose not to participate in athletics during a term in which they are enrolled and eligible, or do not participate at the discretion of the coach.

   b. A student may have a season of Ivy League eligibility restored on the basis of a medical hardship that prevents or terminates athletic participation when an illness or injury occurs prior to the completion of the first half of the season and prior to participation in more than 30% of the scheduled in-season contests or dates of competition per NCAA bylaw 12.8.4, and results in incapacity to compete for the remainder of the season. [Council, 2007]
c. Medical and contest count information should be documented when the injury occurs, and a waiver should be requested from the Ivy Office during the academic year of the missed season. [Ivy Office, 2005]

d. A student who receives an Ivy or NCAA medical hardship exception in wrestling may not have competed in “outside” wrestling events from the first practice date after the injury through the EIWA meet in the season in which he suffered the injury on which the exception is based. [Administration, Spring 2001]

e. A Medical Advisory Committee comprised of three team doctors from the Ivy Leagues schools will review applications for Ivy Non-Participation Medical Waivers in cases where the nature of the injury or level of documentation does not very clearly meet the criteria for restoring a season of competition. The Ivy Office will determine which cases to forward to the Committee, and will consult the Chair as needed. The Ivy Office will make the final determination of whether or not a season of eligibility is restored. [Ivy Office, 2005]

3. Years of Eligibility [Council, 2005]

a. Students are normally expected to use their four seasons of eligibility within the four calendar years following initial enrollment. Eligibility beyond four calendar years requires the approval of the Executive Director.

(1) Students who request a leave of absence or extension of enrollment with the intent to participate in athletics during a 5th calendar year must talk personally with an academic advisor who will certify that the student appropriately considered academic and career goals when choosing this enrollment pattern, that the decision was in the student’s interest regardless of athletics participation, and was made by the student, without pressure to do so from a coach or other athletics department staff member.

(2) A transfer student is not subject to the four-year limit unless he or she has transferred from one Ivy League institution to another, or takes a leave of absence after enrolling at the second institution.

b. Under Ivy League and NCAA rules, a student shall not represent an institution in intercollegiate competition after a period of five calendar years from the first date of matriculation at any university, college or junior college. [Council/Policy, 1978]

The rules of the NCAA and ECAC permit only limited exceptions to this rule, which the Group applies (B.12.8.1), and students should not presume they will be eligible after five years from initial matriculation.

c. Compare the 1979 Statement of Principles, No. 10: “Athletic participation ought never to interfere with or otherwise to distort normal academic progress toward the degree or post-baccalaureate plans for graduate work or employment.
4. Freshman Eligibility
   a. During the freshman year of residence a student shall be eligible for competition on freshman, varsity and junior varsity teams in all sports. [Council, 2012].
   b. It is an institutional decision whether or not to retain freshman programs for sports in which freshmen are permitted to compete on the varsity level.

B. Transfer students

1. Except as set out below, the Ivy Group has no specific rules for the eligibility of transfer students. The NCAA and ECAC do maintain such “sit-out” rules and they are frequently quite complex, B.14.5. Therefore, no transfer student should assume that he or she will be eligible in the first year of Ivy residence until having received explicit approval from the institutional eligibility officer. NCAA transfer provisions are administered by the institutions unless NCAA or conference approval is specifically required; questions about transfer status should be directed to the Ivy Office.

2. A temporary student who is a participant in a bona fide exchange program may be eligible to represent an Ivy institution if the student satisfies institutional, Ivy, and NCAA standards of eligibility. But after initial enrollment at any post-secondary institution, even informal temporary attendance at a second institution requires careful attention as to whether “transfer” status has attached and, if so, whether the student may use any of the various exceptions to the “sit-out” rule, B.14.5.5.2, 14.5.2, 14.5.3.

C. Matriculation and academic standing

1. Generally: 1979 Statement of Principles, Nos. 9 and 10
   a. The student athlete should be held accountable to the same academic standards as other students.
   b. Athletic participation ought never to interfere with or otherwise to distort normal academic progress toward the degree or post-baccalaureate plans for graduate work or employment.

2. Matriculation
   a. No student shall be eligible to represent an institution in intercollegiate athletic competition unless the student is a duly matriculated student regularly studying for a Baccalaureate degree. No “special” student shall be eligible [Council, Spring 1988].
   b. A student carrying less than the number of courses normally taken by members of his or her class shall not be eligible without Ivy Group approval unless the student’s schedule has been temporarily reduced by academic authorities because of illness or other circumstances warranting such reductions, or unless the provisions of B.14.2.2.1.3 apply in the last semester of study for the Baccalaureate degree.

c. Cases of foreign students coming for a year under exchange programs and not studying for a Baccalaureate degree should be presented to the Group.

3. Standing

a. No student shall be eligible to represent an institution in intercollegiate athletic competition unless the student is in good academic standing as determined by the faculty of that institution, and is making normal academic progress, both quantitatively and qualitatively, toward the degree [1954 Ivy Agreement, §IV-A-5].

b. Making “normal academic progress quantitatively” requires that a student have attained sufficient credits toward the degree to be able to graduate on schedule by successfully completing the remaining semesters with programs within the limits of points and courses normally permitted by the faculty of the institution.

c. Each institution will inform the others:

(1) Of its categories of academic or disciplinary probation;

(2) The grounds upon which such probation may be imposed; and,

(3) The terms and conditions of such probationary status.

4. Changes in eligibility status

a. A student who has been declared ineligible for any reason and whose period of ineligibility terminates at the close of any term or semester, other than the last term of the year, shall be eligible for competition the day after the end of the exam period of that term.

b. A student absent the previous term will also be eligible the day after the end of the exam period.

c. A student first entering an institution at any time other than the beginning of an academic year may begin practice, participate in scrimmages, and travel with the team on the day after the examination period ends for the previous term, and may begin competition on the first day of classes of the term for which he or she first registers. [Policy, Fall 1988].

d. A student who is eligible during one term but will not be eligible in the subsequent term (because not registered or for any other reason) remains eligible for practice and competition until the first day of classes for that term.
e. A student who is participating in an institutional off-campus academic program and is considered by the institution to be a full time student at the institution, may practice and compete on the same basis as any full time student.

5. Practice [Policy, Fall 1985]

a. A student who has been ruled ineligible to compete for reasons relating to transfer status or academic progress limits may practice so long as he or she:

   (1) meets the requirements for matriculation and good standing set forth in this Section; and,

   (2) is enrolled in a minimum full-time program of studies [Administration, Spring 1992].

   (3) otherwise is permitted to practice under institutional rules; and,

   (4) is eligible to practice under NCAA rules.

b. A student who has been ruled ineligible to compete for any other reasons may practice only if, in addition, an institutional or Ivy appeal is pending.

6. Dartmouth Calendar and Athletic Eligibility

Dartmouth’s unique calendar creates unique eligibility questions. In response, the Committee on Coordination and Eligibility made a number of decisions which refine the eligibility rules as they apply to Dartmouth students.

a. Students may compete in their twelfth term as long as they are registered in the normal way.

b. Students returning after being absent in the previous term may begin eligibility the day after the day of the official end of term (including examination period).

c. Students enrolled and eligible in a term remain eligible until the first day of classes of the subsequent term.

d. Students may train but not compete in terms in which they are not registered. (Note: NCAA waiver approved 2004)

e. Room and board may not be paid for students in terms in which they are practicing but are not registered. Room and board may be paid during intersession prior to registration.

f. Special tuition and room and board charges are not permissible. Expenses and course loads must be those permitted for all students by the institution and not special arrangements for athletes.
D. Completion of Baccalaureate requirements

1. Except as indicated below, no student who completes the requirements for a Baccalaureate or equivalent degree shall be eligible to represent an institution in intercollegiate athletic competition, even though the actual award of the degree is postponed. This Section does not apply to a student enrolled for a second Baccalaureate degree at the same institution.

2. Unlike NCAA rules, a student who has received the Baccalaureate degree and is enrolled in the graduate or professional school of the institution from which that degree was awarded, and who has athletic eligibility remaining, is not permitted to participate in intercollegiate athletics [compare B.14.6] [Council, Fall 1985].

   a. Exception

      Student-athletes who complete their undergraduate degree requirements in fewer than eight semesters of enrollment, and have not exhausted their athletic eligibility, may compete while enrolled in a full-time graduate program of study at the institution granting the undergraduate degree. Eligibility is limited to four calendar years from the time of matriculation [Council, Spring 1996].

3. A student who completes the requirements for a Baccalaureate or equivalent degree at the end of a spring term, shall be eligible to represent an institution in intercollegiate athletic competition through the date of the national collegiate championships in any given sport; and at a later date only if the student represents his or her institution in any event duly authorized by that institution as part of its athletic program.

4. A student who completes the requirements for a Baccalaureate or equivalent degree at the end of a fall or summer term, shall be eligible to represent an institution in intercollegiate athletic competition until the opening of the succeeding academic term.
A. Generally

1. The Ivy Spirit

It is the spirit of this agreement that it shall be carried out through wise and flexible administration and in a setting of mutual respect and confidence among the members of the Group as institutions having a common dedication to the purposes and principles of higher education.

2. Application

These rules apply to:

a. Every varsity, freshman, and sub-varsity athlete and team (whether or not in a sport that is an Ivy round-robin sport) engaged in intercollegiate sports and officially sponsored by an Ivy institution and,

b. Every other Ivy athlete or team participating in Ivy round-robin or championship competition officially sponsored by the Group. [This text also at III-A-2.]

3. Specific Sports

These rules have been adapted to circumstances of specific sports in matters such as squad size, travel, and scheduling. As far as possible, such changes have been removed from this text to Part VII, which should be consulted carefully.

4. Principles of Conduct [Committee on Administration, Spring 1997; Council, Spring 2002]

a. Expectation of Good Sportsmanship in Ivy League Athletics

(1) The Council of Presidents has traditionally relied on the Committee on Administration to define appropriate standards of good sportsmanship in the conduct of Ivy League athletes, and that Committee has rightfully expected that the primary responsibility for assuring good sportsmanship among both participants and spectators should be and is assumed by the individual institutions.

(2) The Committee now believes that it is important to support institutions and coaches in this effort by stating explicitly that it expects good sportsmanship to be practiced by Ivy League institutional administrators, staff members, coaches, athletes and spectators.
(3) Specifically, members of all these groups are expected to abide by standards of good sportsmanship in connection with any athletic activities involving their institutions, and are expected not to commit, nor to lead others to commit, any act of verbal or physical abuse in connection with any such activities. Each Ivy League institution will make this expectation clearly known, at the beginning of each year or season as appropriate, to its administrators, staff members, coaches, athletes and student bodies.

(4) The Committee hopes and expects that it can avoid the need for detailed substantive or procedural rules, and that it can continue to rely on the holding by all Ivy institutions of a mutual sense of appropriate conduct, and on the taking by all Ivy institutions of appropriate actions to teach and secure such conduct.

b. Conduct of and at Contests

(1) These policies shall apply to both pre- and post-contest activities as well as to the contests themselves, and shall specifically apply to conduct of spectators, and to conduct directed at spectators, officials, coaches and competitors.

(2) As general principles, it is the responsibility of each home institution to make every effort to assure that:

   (a) Both teams shall be allowed to prepare and to compete in a safe atmosphere;

   (b) The contest itself will be conducted in a manner that discourages spectators and any other unofficial persons from disrupting or interfering with the event;

   (c) Visiting spectators will be permitted to support the visiting team as a group, free from interference and intimidation from home team fans and, where possible, seated together; and

   (d) Visiting team benches are safeguarded from interference and harassment, through “buffer zones” or otherwise as appropriate, and bands are seated so as not to be able to harass or interfere with visiting benches.

(3) It is within the spirit of Ivy competition to encourage a positive attitude among spectators in support of their teams, and strong competition between teams in a friendly and sportsmanlike environment.

   (a) The following statement shall be made or distributed publicly before the beginning of every intercollegiate varsity or junior varsity athletic contest held at an Ivy League institution (e.g., through a public address system, or by inclusion in a game program):
“Ladies and gentlemen, [Insert Institution Name] and the Ivy League welcome you to today’s contest. We ask that you join us and today’s coaches, participants and officials in practicing good sportsmanship in supporting your teams and in your conduct toward competitors, coaches, officials and other spectators. [Please note that the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages are prohibited.]”

All participants, coaches, administrators and spectators are expected to refrain from any and all discriminatory acts of verbal or physical abuse in connection with all Ivy League activities.

(b) The Council of Presidents has noted that banners or signs that contain potentially offensive language or pictures (particularly displays that may be vulgar or obscene) should be discouraged without inappropriately limiting spectators’ opportunities to express themselves [Council, Spring 1987].

(4) In addition to adherence to IX-B as to complimentary tickets, adequate provision should be made on behalf of visiting team fans to minimize interference and intimidation from home team fans, including seating visiting team fans contiguously.

(5) Decisions about facility control, and regulation and removal of spectators, are within the purview of the home institution.

(6) The firing of cannons is banned from all Ivy stadia.

(7) The use of artificial noisemakers by spectators is prohibited in Ivy League venues unless the noisemaker is provided by the athletic department. [Administrative Committee, Spring 2011]

5. Use of Tobacco and Alcohol [Ivy Office and Administration, Spring 1991]

a. The Committee on Administration discourages the abuse of alcohol and does not condone its possession or consumption by persons under the legal drinking age. Each member institution has adopted and implemented a program designed to prevent the abuse of alcohol by students, faculty and staff. The Committee fully supports each institution’s efforts and encourages each athletic department to assist in these institutional efforts and to develop complementary departmental policies or guidelines. Alcoholic beverages should not be served or consumed in any activity related to athletics in circumstances that would result in violations of law or that would serve to encourage their use by students.

b. The Committee on Administration discourages the use of tobacco products in all activities related to athletics.
c. Except to the extent an institution may be legally responsible for a student’s possession or use of alcohol or tobacco products, the Committee on Administration views the above statements as matters of principle rather than as rules in the usual sense. Because of the important personal and health consequences involved, however, the Committee believes it is important to state these principles and to encourage each institution’s policies and practices to support them.

d. The distribution of smokeless tobacco product samples in Ivy locker rooms is prohibited [Administration, Spring 1992].

6. Concussion Education

a. All Student-athletes and coaching staff members will view the NCAA concussion video at least annually;

b. Each team will at least annually meet with athletic trainers, team physicians or an outside speaker regarding the signs of concussion, the importance of reporting symptoms and the potential life changing impact of concussion;

c. See section VI D and VII for sport specific rules related to concussion prevention in football, ice hockey, lacrosse, soccer, rugby and wrestling.

7. Team Entertainment [Administration, 2013]

a. Away from home contests
   The institution may pay the actual costs (may not provide cash) for reasonable entertainment that takes place within a 100-mile radius of where a team plays or practices in connection with an away-from-home contest or en route to or from such a contest.

b. Vacation periods
   An institution may pay the actual costs (may not provide cash) for reasonable entertainment that takes place within a 30-mile radius of the institution’s campus or practices site during vacation periods when the team is required to reside on campus (or at a practice site normally used by the institution) and classes are not in session.

c. Professional sports tickets Complimentary tickets to professional sports contests shall not be provided to student-athletes, unless the tickets are provided by the institution (or by a representative of athletics interests through the institution) for entertainment purposes to student-athletes involved in an away-from-home contest. Under the latter circumstances, the institution may pay actual costs for reasonable entertainment that takes place during a team trip.

d. Movies in conjunction with a home contest
   The institution may rent a film or movie or take its intercollegiate team to the movies the night before a home contest.
B. Ivy Sports and Championships

1. Ivy sports [Administration, Spring 1995]

   a. “Ivy sports” are defined in this section as those sports in which a minimum of five Ivy institutions have made a commitment to Ivy League championship competition with official institutional varsity teams.

   b. An official Ivy champion will be determined only in those sports designated as Ivy sports, through the competition and championship formats established in this section.

   c. An official institutional varsity team:

      (1) receives institutional financial support, including support for coaching, scheduling and recruiting, and regular access to institutional facilities; and, [Administration, Spring 1996]

      (2) receives full athletic administrative support and supervision for scheduling, event management, and overall program development; and,

      (3) is fully subject to all applicable Ivy, ECAC and NCAA rules and to the exercise of full institutional compliance responsibility.

   d. A sport designated as an Ivy sport will:

      (1) have a liaison appointed from the Committee on Administration and be expected to have annual coaches meetings, as described in Section VIII below; and,

      (2) be the subject of periodic official Ivy League publicity, from the Ivy Office or under its supervision, and have its records included in the Ivy League Record Book. [Administration, Spring 1998]

      (3) name an All-Ivy team, for which members will receive an All-Ivy Certificate. [Administration, Spring 1996]

   e. If in any year fewer than five schools sponsor varsity teams in a particular Ivy sport, the sport will retain that designation, and be permitted to have championship competition, during that one year only.

2. Ivy Championships Generally

   a. The conduct of Ivy League championships is addressed in detail in the Ivy League Championships Handbook. [Administration, Spring 1999]

   b. Playoffs will be conducted only in the sport of volleyball. Such playoffs determine only the post-season participants: teams that are tied at the end of regular season round-robin play shall be declared Ivy Co-Champions. [Administration, Spring 1988]
c. Any net revenue from an Ivy playoff in volleyball, or a divisional playoff in baseball or softball will be distributed in equal shares to each school sponsoring the sport in which a playoff was held. Any net deficit from an Ivy playoff will be shared equally by each school sponsoring the sport in which the playoff is held, up to a maximum of $200 per school; any additional deficit will be paid for through the Ivy Office. [Administration, Spring 1999]

d. Any net revenue from an Ivy championship or tournament will be distributed in equal shares to each school sponsoring the sport. Any net deficit from an Ivy championship or tournament will be shared equally by each school sponsoring that sport, with the exception of the baseball and softball championships, where the maximum to be paid will be $200 per school, with any additional deficit paid by the Ivy Office.

e. Junior varsity competition is prohibited during the conduct of Ivy League and Heptagonal championship events. [Administration, Spring 2001]

f. An Ivy team that is not eligible for post-season play due to NCAA Academic Performance Program or other penalty may not participate in Ivy League post-season events. For round robin sports, the automatic qualification (AQ) will go to the conference champion as determined by the round robin or the next highest finisher if the conference champion is subject to a post season ban.

3. Round-Robin Championships

a. Except as provided below, Ivy championships are determined by round-robin Ivy League competition or by the best record in Ivy-vs.-Ivy play in leagues that include non-Ivy teams (e.g., ECAC Ice Hockey).

b. All Ivy championships in round-robin competition will be determined by best Ivy record with the exception of soccer and ice hockey which will be determined based on point systems (Soccer, W=3, T=1; ice hockey, W=2, T=1). Every attempt will be made to play games having a bearing on the championship in a sport.

c. See section VII for a specific sport rules on the date and site, when a playoff is required to determine a post-season representative. [Committee on Administration, Spring 2012]

4. Qualifying Championships

Baseball and softball championships are determined by qualifying championships. [Council, Fall 2008]

5. Inclusive Championships

Cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, and golf championships are determined on the basis of the best team score at the Championship for each sport. Women’s rowing championship is determined by the first place finish of the varsity 8 grand final race. [Committee on Administration, May 2011]
6. Men’s Rowing Championships

   The Eastern Sprints will be considered the Ivy Championship race for men. The Champion is determined by the First place finish of the varsity 8 grand final race.

7. Tournament to determine automatic qualification.

   In basketball and lacrosse a single elimination tournament involving four league members will determine the League’s automatic bid to the NCAA Championship. Regular season conference standings and the tie-breaking formula, if necessary, will determine participants and seedings.

8. Budgets and Finances

   a. An institution hosting an Ivy inclusive championship or round robin event-must have estimated budget approved by the Ivy Office and CFO’s at least 60 days in advance. [Administration, Spring 1999]

   b. After the event, any net loss or profit is shared equally by all the schools that are official Ivy League members in that sport, except when provided otherwise in a specific sport. The host institution shall submit the championship financial report to the Ivy League office, according to the schedule found in Championships Handbook. Each school then will be sent a statement from the Ivy Office for centralized cost-sharing of each championship event. The championship events will be reconciled on a seasonal basis (as recommended and agreed by the Chief Financial Officers in May, 2003). The schedule for those seasonal reconciliations is also found in the Championships Handbook.

   c. A school that hosts an Ivy inclusive championship will receive a stipend of $1,000 for a one-day event, $2,000 for a two-day event, and $2,500 for a three day event. [Administration, Spring 2010]

9. Awarding Championship Trophies

   a. The Ivy League championship trophy will be presented at the conclusion of a contest in which a team has won an Ivy championship in a “round-robin” sport to the home or visiting team. The presentation will be made on the venue’s playing surface after an appropriate “cooling off” period as determined by the two schools. Each institution will have the discretion to select the presenter of the championship trophy. The institution is required to inform the Ivy Office in advance if they wish to have an Ivy Office staff member present for the trophy presentation. The home team will be required to provide use of the public address system and sufficient security to ensure a safe and secure environment for the teams and fans. The visiting team may choose to defer their presentation to an alternate day and time. [Committee on Administration, Fall, 2016]

   b. There should be no other activities when a visiting team wins a championship (e.g., cutting down nets).
c. Each institution will provide a trophy to be presented to their team as part of the presentation following a deciding contest if they do not have the perpetual trophy to present. It there is a potential for a presentation to a visiting team, it is the visiting team’s responsibility to supply the trophy for that presentation if they do not have the perpetual trophy to present. [Committee on Administration, 2017]

- For championship scenarios involving two or more teams but not a reigning champion, the institution that will be provided the perpetual trophy for a potential presentation shall be determined by head-to-head competition among all institutions in contention for the championship. If the tie cannot be broken or the teams have not played the same number of contests against each other, a name will be pulled from a hat to determine the recipient of the perpetual trophy.

- The sharing schedule for the perpetual trophy will follow the same procedure as noted above. [Committee on Administration, Spring, 2016]

c. Squad Sizes

The following are mandatory limits for squad sizes (eligible players who are dressed) for Ivy teams in all term-time contests, except when post-season championship limits may apply. [Administration, Spring 1993, 2008]

1. Home Teams  There are not limits on the number of eligible home team squad members who may dress for a varsity contest.

2. Away Teams: Travel Squad Limits  There are limits (see #4 below) on the number of eligible away team squad members who may travel with a team and dress for any regular season term-time contests (i.e., during the academic year, non-vacation).

3. Varsity and Junior Varsity Teams Traveling Together during the Academic Year (nonvacation)  [Administration, Spring 2000, Spring 2008]

A team may travel with greater than the varsity travel squad limit only to contests for which there is a junior varsity competition. Those competing for or scoring for the varsity must be declared in advance, and may not exceed the varsity travel squad limit. Administrators should confirm in advance (via contract, e-mail, or telephone) that these provisions will be met before allowing greater than the varsity limit to travel.

a. Cross Country Exception
Up to three times per season, teams may travel with the varsity and junior varsity travel squads and compete in the same event as one team. The contests count against the Ivy contest limit for both the varsity and junior varsity teams if five or more junior varsity participants travel (the number which constitutes a team as defined in VI-E-2-d).

b. Other Individual Sports Exception
In the following individual sports, up to the following number of times per season, teams may travel with the varsity and junior varsity travel squads if the institution is entering two separate teams in a multi-team event that does not include other “junior varsity” competitors. The contests count against the Ivy contest limit for both the varsity and the junior varsity teams if the number of junior varsity participants which constitutes a team (as defined in VI-E-2-d) travels.

Swimming 3
Tennis 5
Track and Field 5 (total indoor and outdoor) Wrestling 3
c. Definition of Separate JV Event
A JV team may travel to an event held in conjunction with a varsity event that does not meet the provisions of (a) or (b) above, only if the JV team has its own competition. The junior varsity competition (i.e., swim meet, track meet) does not have to be conducted separately from the varsity (e.g., heats for varsity and JV in the 100 free may be scheduled one after the other, the jumping and diving events may include varsity and JV participants, there does not have to be a team score kept for the junior varsity), so long as any event in which a junior varsity competitor participates includes a junior varsity competitor from at least one other school. A junior varsity competitor is one who is declared as such in advance and who does not compete for or score for the varsity in any event. The contests count against the Ivy contest limit for both the varsity and the junior varsity teams if the number of junior varsity participants that constitutes a team (as defined in VI-E-2-d) travel to the meet.

5. Exceptions

a. Injured or otherwise incapacitated squad members may also travel with a team (but not dress), provided that this does not result in any additional transportation expenses (lodging and normal food support may be provided); these players may be on the sideline or bench. No other eligible squad members may travel with the team, result in additional expenses, be on the sideline or bench, or receive complimentary tickets.

b. Post-season non-Ivy tournament limitations, if any, supersede these Ivy limits.

c. One manager who is an eligible player may travel with the team.

d. In sports other than football, travel squad limits do not apply to trips for competition vs. non-Ivy opponents that involve no missed freshman orientation activities, and no overnight travel. Additional transportation expenses may not be paid (i.e., addition to travel party may not result in changing the mode of transportation or number of vehicles used). This provision does not apply to any trip where the team travels overnight (e.g., the first or second contest of a two-contest trip).
e. For one non-overnight Ivy League contest all team members may travel. This exception is applicable to all sports other than football.

f. All sports may exceed the travel squad in order to allow all seniors to travel to the final regular season overnight Ivy contest. No additional transportation costs may be incurred (flights, or separate buses). The seniors exceeding the travel squad may dress for the contest.

D. Practice and Season Calendars [revised generally 1991, 2006]

1. Generally

   a. With the advice of the Committee on Administration, the Policy Committee establishes the starting dates of practice in all sports, as well as limitations on out-of-season practice. Competitive seasons are set out below; specific calendars for each season are set out in Part VI-D-3 and notes about the fall, winter and spring seasons are in VI-D-5,6,7,8.

   b. All sports are restricted to practice and competition (including alumni games) in the periods set forth except as may be noted otherwise in Part VII. Any other out-of-season team participation must be approved by the Administration and Policy Committees. Consult Part VI-F as to permissible off-season activities.

   c. Students who wish to participate in more than one sport during an academic year should not be negatively influenced in this regard by coaches or administrators, particularly in the student’s choice to compete in one sport during the practice season of another sport. [Administration, Spring 1989]

   d. Out-of-season practice opportunities must be scheduled as not to conflict with facility usage (practice or competition) for in-season sports. Athletes shall not be required to attend out-of-season practice or contests if they wish to participate in another sport [Administration, Spring 1992]
e. No class time shall be missed and no overnight travel shall be permissible while classes are in session for practices activities except when a team is traveling to an away-from-home contest and the practice is in conjunction with the contest. [Administrators, Spring 2013]

(1) Exception for Golf. In the event that the institutions regularly used golf course(s) is/are closed during the championship segment while classes are in session, overnight travel for practice activities associated with the sport is permissible on a maximum of three occasions provided: no class time is missed, air transportation is not used, and entertainment expenses are not being provided during the practice trip (including in transit to/from the practice site) for activities that are not golf related. [Council, Spring 2015]

f. Ivy League teams are required to have 14 consecutive days off (free from countable athletically related activity) after the conclusion of the championship season, which may be included in the rest period (if classes are in session). [Administrators, Spring 2016]

(1) VI-D-f-1 Exception for Individual Sports. Individual sport student-athletes may continue to practice until the conclusion of any competition for any student-athlete in that sport. The 14-day recovery period would begin at the conclusion of competition for any student-athlete in that sport.

2. Team Rest Periods [Council, Spring 2002]

Students in each sport will have a “rest period” totaling 49 days during the academic year. These periods shall have no required athletic activity, no voluntary activity under the supervision of a team-coach, no team athletic activities [e.g. no “captain’s practices”], and no team or team member athletically related activities resulting from encouragement by the coaching staff to engage in such activity. Under no circumstances will any athletically related activity involving team members be supervised by a team-coach, nor will facilities be reserved for team activities.

a. Team members will be free to participate in any recreational venue or activity open to all other students, and to have whatever supervision is provided in those circumstances. Sport specific facilities and equipment normally open only to team members or permitted to be used only under the supervision of the coaching staff for safety reasons (e.g., archery range, gymnastics venue, rowing tanks, rowing shells) may not be used by team members during these “rest periods”. Institutions may permit the use of “varsity” weight rooms and cardiovascular equipment (including ergometers), but with no advance scheduling or team-coach supervision. Strength and conditioning coaches who perform such duties on a department-wide basis may supervise the use of the weight room and cardiovascular equipment, but may not conduct workouts.

b. When a rest period is scheduled in the first two weeks of the fall term, a team coach may conduct one organizational meeting for prospective team members during that time provided no physical or sport-related activity occurs.

c. Rest periods will be scheduled so that each student has a rest period of 49 days per academic year. The choice of rest periods must include the seven days prior to out of season examination periods. All rest period schedules must be approved by a designated institutional administrator.
(1) Periods must be scheduled at a time when classes, reading period, or examinations are in session.

(2) For an in-season day to count as a day off, the entire team must have the day off. Rest period day may not occur on a required NCAA day off during the championship season. A team must have a second day off for it to count as an Ivy rest day. Out-of-season any day off may be counted as a rest day and days may be scheduled separately for individuals.

(3) Rest periods may be scheduled during times when there is the possibility of post-season play only if time remains in the academic year for that time to be rescheduled (note especially in spring sports). With the permission of the Ivy Office, a rest period may be scheduled in individual sports during time of post-season play if a very small number of students are participating in such play and the time is rescheduled for those individuals.

(4) In spring sports, no more than two weeks (14 days) may be scheduled after the end of the regular season.

d. Students who participate in three seasons (particularly cross country, indoor and outdoor track) will be encouraged to take time off between seasons.

e. The Ivy Office may grant a waiver for reduced rest periods if requested by the institution’s Policy Committee member for individual “elite” athletes who are training for a specific national or international event and who would be significantly disadvantaged if prohibited from training with a team coach (e.g., swimmer preparing for national-team/Olympic selection trials in April, after end of college season).

3. Season Declarations [Administration, Spring 1989]

a. By August 1 preceding each academic year, the following must be submitted to the Ivy Office for approval:

(1) Schedules for practice and competition start dates all fall sports; and,

(2) NCAA playing season declarations in all sports.

b. NCAA playing season regulations, including the requirement for declarations, are found at Bylaw 17.1 and are charted at Figures 17-1 and 17-2. B.17.1 should be consulted in its entirety for complete rules about duration, dates, and periods to be included in “playing season” declarations. Note B.17.1.7.2 as to counting “weeks” and holiday, vacation, examination and summer periods.
4. Fall Practice and Competition Prior to Start of Classes

a. Preseason Practice Meals and Lodging Prior to Start of Practice

(1) Two days before the first day of fall practice, member institutions may gather their squads for physical examinations. Other administrative meetings may take place on the day prior to the first practice.

(2) Lodging may be provided starting two nights before the first practice. Meals may be provided starting two days before the first day of fall practice.

(3) No athletically related activity may be conducted until the official first day of practice. [Administration, Spring 2015]

b. Freshman Participation Prior to the Start of Classes

(1) Freshmen in all sports may report to practice on the date the varsity reports, provided that freshmen are required to attend all mandatory freshman orientation activities. The decision about what activities would preclude practice whether “required” or otherwise at the institution’s choice, is left to the appropriate non-athletic authorities at each institution. [Council, Spring 1993]

(2) If an Ivy versus Ivy contest is scheduled initially on a date at which one institution’s first-year students are precluded from participating due to orientation activities that are mandatory to all freshmen, the two institutions should attempt to change the contest date to avoid this conflict. If no compromise date is agreed upon by both schools, then neither team may utilize any freshman students in that contest. During the previous year, each institution shall supply the Ivy office with its next fall’s orientation dates during which its freshman students shall be precluded from participating in contests. The Ivy schedulers are encouraged to avoid scheduling Ivy versus Ivy contests on these dates if possible. [Council, Spring 1993]

5. Fall sport calendar provisions—sports other than football with fall seasons

a. Practice and Competition Start Date Formulas

(1) In cross country the first permissible fall contest date is the 12th Friday before Thanksgiving. Practice may begin 10 days prior to the first contest date (regular season, not scrimmage). [Administration, Spring 1989, 2016] (Beginning in fall 2017)

(2) Field hockey, men’s soccer, women’s volleyball and men’s water polo:
(a) the first permissible contest date is 12 Fridays before Thanksgiving. [Council; Spring 2002, 2003, 2008]. (Note: Under NCAA rules water polo may not begin competition before the 1st Saturday in September.)

(b) The first permissible practice date is 14 days prior to the first permissible contest date. Within the 14 days there must be 2 days off (one per week) that include no athletically related activity that is required or expected or supervised by a coach. The 12 practice days include 6 days during which there is a limit of 5 hours of practice per day, and 6 days during which there is a limit of 3 hours of practice per day. [Council, Spring 2008]

(c) See section VII-L-3 for soccer rules related to concussion prevention.

(d) In these sports it is expected that students will not gather on their own to engage in practice activities prior to the practice start date, and that each athletic department will re-emphasize this expectation with coaches and student-athletes during the previous spring term.

(3) Women’s Soccer

(a) the first permissible contest date in women’s soccer is 13 Fridays before Thanksgiving. (Beginning in 2015)

(b) The first permissible practice date in women’s soccer is 10 days prior to the first permissible contest date. Within the first 14 days of the season there must be 2 days off (one per 7 days) that include no athletically related activity that is required, expected or supervised by a coach. The remaining 12 days of the first 14 days of the season may include 6 days during which there is a limit of 5 hours of activity per day, and 6 days during which there is a limit of 3 hours of activity per day. Per NCAA rules after the first contest, there is a limit of 4 hours per day.

(c) See section VII-L-3 for soccer rules related to concussion prevention

(d) It is expected that students will not gather on their own to engage in practice activities prior to the practice start date, and that each athletic department will re-emphasize this expectation with coaches and student-athletes during the previous spring term.

(4) In rowing, fall practice may begin on the first day of classes, and fall competition may begin on the second Friday in September.

(5) In tennis, fall practice and competition may begin on September 7.

(6) In golf, fall practice and competition may begin on the earlier of September 7 or the first day of classes. [Council, Spring 2009; Council, Spring 2015]

Spring Practice and Competition in Sports with Fall Championships

(1) Fall team sports are permitted no more than 6 hours of practice per week in the non-championship season that must be declared as part of the NCAA playing and practice season. (Any meeting, activity, or instruction involving sports-related information and having an athletics purpose, held for one or more student-athletes at the direction of, or supervised by any member of an institution’s coaching staff). Fall teams may not conduct more than 24 total hours of practice activities.

- In addition, fall teams are limited to no more than 6 hours of voluntary conditioning/weight training under the supervision of a coach per week. (This may not include skill instruction)

- A competition during the non-championship season will count as two hours.

(2) Further, all countable athletically related activities shall be prohibited during two calendar days per week. [Council, Spring 1991; Policy, Spring 1994]

(3) Fall team sports may use a maximum of three non-traditional practice opportunities as competition dates provided those dates involve no missed class time and no overnight travel. [Council, Spring 1992]

   a. Fall Practice

   (1) In football, practice may begin on the date allowing for 35 practice units as determined by the provisions of B.17.02.13. Only 29 actual practices may be held prior to the first contest. The scrimmage permitted under Ivy rules counts toward the 29 actual practices. [Council, Fall 2003]

   (2) In accordance with 17.10.2.4, the first five days of football practice will serve as an acclimatization period. See NCAA 17.10.2.4 for limits on activities and equipment during this period.

   (3) After the acclimatization period, the number of days on which pads may be worn for both practice sessions on the same day (two-a-days) is limited to one. [Council, Spring 2011]

   (4) An institution may pay expenses for 110 players to return to campus for pre-season practice prior to the start of classes. (e.g., NCAA rules allow for more than 95 student-athletes if the institution has a junior varsity team that will play at least four contests.)

   (5) Freshman football players may report for practice on the date the varsity reports, provided that freshman are required to attend all mandatory freshman orientation activities. The decision about what activities would preclude practice, whether as “required” or otherwise at the institution’s choice, is left to the appropriate non-athletic authorities at each institution. [Council, Spring 1993]
(6) Ivy rules do not permit the first-time participant orientation period allowed under NCAA rules.

(7) After the first contest, there may be no full-contact practices or live tackles (players may not be taken to the ground). [Administration, Spring 2016]

(8) Full-pad contact practice sessions will follow recommended guidelines as set forth in the July 2011 Report regarding the Ivy League Review of Concussions In Football, and as the Council may update and circulate from time-to-time, as needed. [Council, Spring 2011]

b. Fall Contests

(1) In football, the first permissible contest date is 10 Fridays before Thanksgiving. In order to schedule a contest on the first Friday, the contest must be a home competition. Preseason practice is calculated based on the 10th Saturday prior to Thanksgiving. [Policy, Spring 2015].

(2) The first permissible date for a scrimmage in football is any time after the start of practice, but in accordance with NCAA rules, no earlier than the Thursday prior to Labor Day. See VI-E-4-b for the definition of an Ivy scrimmage.

(3) If an Ivy vs. Ivy contest is scheduled on a date at which one institution’s first year students are precluded from participating due to orientation activities that are mandatory to all freshmen, then neither team may utilize any freshman students in that contest. [Council, Spring 1993]

d. Spring Practice

(1) Football is permitted 12 practice opportunities with coaches during a 34 day period in the spring. In accordance with 17.10.6.4 the first three practice sessions may involve no contact; only helmets, no other protective equipment, may be worn. In the remaining nine practices, any equipment may be worn for eight of the practices; three or fewer practices may primarily involve 11-on-11 scrimmages; four may involve tackling but not primarily scrimmaging; two may not involve any contact, one of which helmets may be worn.

(2) During the declared spring practice period it is also permissible for student-athletes to participate in voluntary out of season weight training and physical education classes and/or review of game film under the supervision of a coach for up to six hours per week. Meetings may be held beyond the 6 hours in FB only.

(3) In accordance with NCAA rules, student-athletes may not engage in more than 20 hours of countable athletically related activities (including conditioning activities and review of game film) in a given week. Further, all countable athletically related activities shall be prohibited during two calendar days per week.

(4) Institutions should make every effort to schedule football practices so as not to conflict with competition in spring sports. [Council, Winter 1992]

(5) “Spring Game”

An institution’s final spring practice may be an intra-squad scrimmage event. Teams are allowed only one scrimmage event, in which there may be officials, uniforms, announcement to spectators, etc. Intrasquad competition with officials may occur as part of practice, as long as it is not an event. The event may only occur as the last practice of the spring.

(6) For additional NCAA rules related to spring football practice see B.17.10.6.4

7. Winter calendar provisions [Administration, Spring 1989]

a. Practice and Competition Start Date Formulas

(1) In men’s basketball, practice may begin on the date that is 42 days prior to the institution’s first regular season contest. Over the 42 days, practice may be held on no more than 24 dates, individual skill instruction is limited to 4 hours and conditioning to 8 hours. There must be 12 days off on which no athletically-related activity may occur. Competition may begin on the second Friday in November. [Administration, Spring 2013]

(2) In women’s basketball practice may begin on the date that is 40 days prior to the first regular season contest. Practice may be held on no more than 24 dates, individual skill instruction is limited to 4 hours and conditioning to 8 hours. There must be 10 days off on which no athletically-related activity may occur. Competition may begin on the second Friday in November. [Council, Spring 2011]

(3) In men’s and women’s hockey, practice begins 21 days prior to the first permissible contest date [Council, Spring 2006; Council, Spring 2015]. The first permissible contest date in men’s hockey is the 4th Friday prior to Thanksgiving [Council; Spring 2002]. The first permissible contest date in women’s hockey is the 5th Friday prior to Thanksgiving. [Council, Fall 2004]

4) In swimming practice may begin on October 1, and competition may begin on the 2nd Friday prior to Thanksgiving, except in years when the Ivy Championship shifts one week earlier in which case competition may begin on the 3rd Friday prior to Thanksgiving. [Administration, Spring 2013]

a) Institutions may provide expenses for student athletes to participate in the CSCAA Invitational as a countable date of competition. [Council, Spring 2014]

(5) In gymnastics, track, and wrestling, practice begins on October 15 and competition begins on the evening of the Friday prior to Thanksgiving.

(6) In fencing, practice begins on October 15 and competition begins in the evening on the third Friday prior to Thanksgiving. (See VII-E-5 regarding exception to competition start date). [Council, Spring 2011]

(7) In rowing, only off-water conditioning and tank work may take place from 12/1 through 1/31, and may be supervised by coaches for only 6 hours per week outside the declared season. In addition a single vacation period trip is allowed between 12/1 and 1/31, with that trip counting as part of the 26 week on-water season.

(8) In squash, practice begins on October 15 and competition begins on the evening of the second Friday prior to Thanksgiving.

Fall Practice and Competition in Sports with Spring Championships

1. Spring team sports are allowed 12 practice opportunities with coaches during the fall that must be declared as part of the NCAA playing and practice season. Teams are limited to a maximum of three, two-hour sessions per week [Council, Spring 1986]. In baseball and softball, one practice per weekend may be held for up to three hours [Council, Spring 2009]. During this practice period it is also permissible for student-athletes to participate in voluntary out of season conditioning and physical education classes under the supervision of a coach for up to six hours per week. This may not include skill instruction.

2. In accordance with NCAA rules, student-athletes may not engage in more than a total of 20 hours of countable athletically related activities (including conditioning activities) in a given week. Further, all countable athletically related activities shall be prohibited during two calendar days per week. [Council, Spring 1991; Policy, Spring 1994]
(3) Spring team sports may use fall practice opportunities as competition dates, provided those dates involve no missed class time and no overnight travel. Specific sport limitations are as follows:
   a) baseball and softball: 4 dates, which count against the Ivy in-term date limit and against the NCAA game limit. [Council, Spring
   b) women’s lacrosse: 3 dates, which do not count against the NCAA or Ivy contest limit. One overnight trip with no missed class time is permitted, which counts as one of the 13 term dates and one of the 15 overall dates. [Council, Spring 2004]
   c) men’s lacrosse: 1 date, which counts against the Ivy in-term date limit and NCAA game limit. [Council, Spring 1991]
   d) other spring sports may use up to three practice opportunities for competition. [Council, Spring 2016]

(4) See section VII-K-8 for lacrosse rules related to concussion prevention.

E. Contest Limitations [revised generally 1989 and 1991]

1. Season Contest Limits Generally

   a. The limitations below have been established by the Council. In sports not listed, the Committee on Administration, with the concurrence of the Policy Committee, shall establish a maximum number of contests (games and scrimmages) against outside teams whenever desirable. Consult NCAA B.17 for all relevant NCAA definitions and conditions.

   (1) Any practice or competition with anyone other than members (undergraduate or graduate) of one’s own institution counts under the contest and date limitations, as set forth below.

   (2) A student who participates in both varsity and sub-varsity competition in a sport in any one season shall be subject in total to the varsity limit in that sport.

   (3) Contest and date limits applicable to team participation, VI-E-4 below, also stand as limitations for permissible individual appearances during the practice and competitive season in the sport in question.

   (4) National championships and selected regional events, as listed in VI-E-6 below, are exempt from NCAA and Ivy count limits.

   b. Except as may be provided in Part VII, individual contests and team scrimmages may be scheduled at any time during the practice or competitive season. Team contests, as defined in VI-E-2 below, may be scheduled at any time during the competitive season only of that sport as defined in VI-D-3 above. For students who still have eligibility remaining, institutional approval of outside competition in numbers that would constitute a countable team date therefore should not be granted prior to the competitive season.

Per NCAA Bylaw 17

a. A countable contest, for individual student-athletes and for institutions, is any game, match or exhibition, regardless of its formality, in which competition occurs between an intercollegiate team and an outside team. [See B. 17.02.3, 17.02.4]

b. A countable date of competition is any single date on which any game(s), match(es), meet(s), exhibition(s) or scrimmage(s) takes place, regardless of formality, in which competition occurs between an intercollegiate team or individual athletes representing a member institution and another team or individual not representing that member institution’s intercollegiate athletics program. Each actual date of competition counts as one date. [B.17.02.5]

c. Contests limits applicable to team participation also stand as limitations for permissible individual dates or contests.

d. Teams will be charged with a countable contest or date of competition, as defined above, when the number of institutional team representatives equals or exceeds the number in B. 20.9.6.3, as applied by B.17.02.6, as listed below:

(Note: Once the minimum number of participants competes in an event, each day of that event counts as a date of competition.)

3. Countable Individual Dates or Contests

a. An individual will be charged with a countable contest or date of competition for any contest or date in which the student-athlete competes as a member of an institution’s team, or competes as an individual and does any of the following:

(1) represents the institution in any contest against outside competition, regardless of how the competition is classified (e.g., scrimmage, exhibition);
(2) competes in the uniform of the institution, or utilizes any apparel or equipment received from the institution that includes institutional identification [Administration, Spring 1993];

(3) competes and receives expenses (e.g., transportation, meals, room, or entry fee) regardless of the sources of funds;

4. Numerical Contest Limits

a. Ivy “contest” limits for all sports have been converted to “date” limits to clarify current counting methods and to more accurately reflect NCAA counting rules. NCAA counting methods are in effect for all sports.

b. An Ivy scrimmage must have the following characteristics [Administration; Spring 1985 and 1989]:

<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(1)</td>
<td>Except when played in conjunction with a countable away contest, the scrimmage must be against a neighboring institution (never overnight), or against an Ivy team on an Ivy campus. In the sports of football and golf, scrimmages may occur at a central location. [Committee on Administration, Spring 2017]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(2)</td>
<td>Score may be kept, but score/statistics will not be part of team statistics;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(3)</td>
<td>Admission may be charged. [Administration, Spring 2006]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(4)</td>
<td>Counts as a scrimmage for both teams.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

(5) The contest must be counted as a scrimmage for both teams.

(6) Scrimmage does not count as a term time date.
d. Round robin or multi-elimination tournaments count according to the number of dates on which teams or individuals actually compete.

e. A one-day doubleheader counts as one date.

f. The contest and date limits below were set to match weeks available for competition and result in an average of no more than two dates of competition per week when classes are in session. [Text also found at VI-G-2-c below, Schedules and Traveling.]

g. The following table lists the maximum number of varsity and JV contests or dates in each sport (“term” = academic year, non-vacation) [Council, 1980 and 1991]:

[e] Note NCAA limit is 20 contests.

5. Counting Exemptions

   a. In sports other than football and basketball, a contest against a bona fide alumni(ae) team is exempt from Ivy and NCAA contests limits and is permissible at any time during an institution’s declared playing season. See VI-D above for scheduling within NCAA “season” limits. [Policy, Spring 1988]

   b. In addition, in sports other than football and basketball, one of the following counting exemptions is permitted in each sport within the practice or competitive season of VI-D-3 above [Council, 1978]:

      (1) a contest against a touring foreign team; or,

      (2) a contest against a U.S. National Olympic or Pan American team.

   c. Basketball

      (1) In basketball, teams may exempt up to two practice scrimmages against outside competition. A practice scrimmage must be conducted in privacy, without official scoring. Only athletic staff members and those persons necessary to conduct the scrimmage may be present. One of the two scrimmages may be played off campus, but may involve no missed class time and no overnight travel. [Council, Spring 2006] Alternatively, teams may exempt one practice scrimmage (parameters above) and one exhibition contest against a non-NCAA Division I four-year collegiate institution. An exhibition contest must be played in the institution’s home arena. Student-athletes may not miss class to participate in the exhibition or any associated practice. [Administration, Spring 2015]

      (2) See VI-H-2 (d)(3) for scheduling rules pertaining to NCAA qualifying regular season multi-team events.

   d. See VI-H for foreign and non-continental U.S. travel exemptions.

6. Post-Season Contests

   a. The Committee on Administration will submit to the Policy Committee recommendations for post-season competition which it considers acceptable for Ivy participation, and shall maintain a list of those post-season contests which are not excluded by the Agreement. Each member institution shall be free to decide whether or not to participate in a given tournament or contest.
In maintaining such a list, distinctions must be made among the various associations and organizations which conduct post-season contests. Approval for inclusion in the list will be guided by reference to the following considerations:

1. Problems caused by the extension of the season of a given sport as a result of participation, and the effects of such extension on the physical and academic welfare of the students involved.

2. Suitability of the competition for bona fide undergraduate students subject to collegiate eligibility rules.

3. Current conditions in the sport involved, as measured against the principles for the conduct of athletics set forth in the Ivy Group Agreement.

b. The following competitions are approved as post-season competitions, and are exempt from NCAA and Ivy contest limits:

7. All-Star Competition

An Ivy Group undergraduate may compete in post-season all-star contests under the following conditions:

a. The contest in question must be amateur as defined by Ivy, ECAC, and NCAA regulations.

b. There must be a recommendation from the institutional athletic director and approval of the institutional academic authorities.

c. The contest occurs between the end of the student’s spring academic obligations and the student’s fall registration, or in any academic term in which the student is not enrolled, or in a vacation or other period in which there are otherwise no missed classes or pending examinations. [Council, Spring 1986]

d. These limits apply only to those who have remaining eligibility in the sport in which they will participate. [Policy, Spring 1996]

This section sets out specific Ivy limits on permissible out-of-season “athletically-related activities” as defined in VI-F-1-b below.

1. Limits on “Athletically-Related Activities” Outside the Declared Playing Season

a. Except as otherwise specifically permitted, “athletically-related activities” may occur only during the declared practice and playing season, not out of the season during the academic year or during the summer.
b. As specifically defined at B.17.02.1, “athletically-related activities” include but are not limited to: any meeting, activity or instruction involving sports-related information and having an athletics purpose, and held for one or more student-athletes at the direction of, or supervised by, any member or members of an institution’s coaching staff. (This definition replaces the Ivy definition for “practice,” which is substantially similar.)

c. For a period totaling 49 days outside the playing season during the academic year, there will be a mandatory rest period during which there will be no required or voluntary athletic team activity (see VI-D-2).

2. Permissible Coach Supervised Activity Outside the Declared Playing Season

a. Conditioning and Skill Instruction

In accordance with B 17.1.7.2, outside of the declared playing season during the academic year (not during vacation), only the following athletically-related activities are permissible under the supervision of a coach. Ivy rules require that a student’s participation in such activities shall be voluntary (NCAA rules allow for it to be required), and shall be limited to a maximum total of six hours per week (NCAA limit is eight hours per week). (See VI-D-5-c, VI-D-8-b, and VI-D-6-d for permissible activities during the non-traditional playing season).

(1) weight-training and conditioning activities supervised by an institutional staff member;

(2) participation in a physical fitness class conducted by a member of the athletics staff (see also VI-F-4 below). [Administration, Spring 1992]

(3) In all sports other than football, participation in up to 2 hours per week of skill related instruction with a focus on drill-oriented activity with all present team members that does not occur during reading period or exam period, or during any week in which nontraditional practice is conducted. [Council, Spring 1995; Spring 2006; Spring 2015]

(4) In football, participation in up to 2 hours per week of watching and reviewing films or conducting walk throughs in addition to conditioning activities for a total of six hour per week out of season. [Administration, Spring 2001, Spring 2017]

b. Safety Exception for Individual Sports

Ivy student-athletes in sports designated by the NCAA for a “safety exception” may participate in voluntary workouts outside of the declared playing season during the academic year under the supervision of a coach without counting it as athletically-related activity. Participation must be on the same basis as that of other non-teammember participants.
c. Ivy rules are intended to be consistent with B.17.02.18, which provides that individual consultation with a coach, initiated voluntarily by a student-athlete, is not considered to constitute out-of-season practice provided the coach and the student-athlete do not engage in any “athletically-related activities”. [Administration, Spring 1989]

3. Captain’s Practices and Recreation Outside the Declared Playing Season

a. Ivy and NCAA limits on athletically-related activity are not intended to preclude permissible physical education classes (see VI-F-4 below) or normal recreational activity by individuals or among team members which may involve drills and activities related to their sport. (See VII-G-10 for specific limits in football).

b. Ivy and NCAA limits on athletically-related activity outside the declared playing season preclude physical activities that are considered as a requisite for participation in that sport, and confined primarily to members of that team, even if no coach is present.

c. Any direct supervision through coaches’ instructions to captains or others will cause an activity to be considered an athletically-related activity, and thus prohibited outside of the declared playing season under both NCAA and Ivy rules.

d. Athletically-related activity is not considered to have occurred if an institution’s athletics facilities are used for normal recreation activity by student-athletes out-of-season during the academic year, even if the use of the facility is arranged by the athletic department:

   (1) Provided the use is not supervised by or held at the direction of any member of the institution’s coaching staff, although the facility may be supervised by athletic department personnel other than coaches (i.e., trainers, facility managers); and

   (2) Provided the use is consistent with policies established for outside groups generally if the use involves a group composed partly of enrolled student-athletes and partly of individuals not otherwise affiliated with the institution.

4. Physical Education Classes

Participation by student-athletes in physical education classes conducted by members of the athletics staff is permissible outside the declared playing season; however, if the class does not meet the following criteria then participation hours must be counted in the 6 hours per week of athletically-related activity (see VI-F-2-a).

a. Classes must be offered by the physical education department, listed in the institution’s catalogue, and open to all students. Coaches may conduct these classes.
b. Credit may or may not be given for attendance depending on college regulations and the status of the individual attending.

c. The class may not include practice activities conducted under the guise of physical education class work.

d. Ivy rules restrict the content of exempt physical education classes as follows:

(1) Classes must be devoted primarily to conditioning exercises such as calisthenics, running agility drills, weight-lifting, etc.

(2) Some of the drills may be directed towards the development of the skills required for an intercollegiate athlete in a particular sport, but all must be concerned with improving an individual’s coordination, strength, speed, stamina, agility, etc., which are beneficial to any member of the student body.

(3) There may not be instruction in sport-specific skills and techniques, drills related to team play and positioning, etc., or the use of sports-specific equipment. Only such equipment as normally is issued to ensure the health and safety of participants in such classes is permitted.

5. Summer Activity

a. Ivy rules do not allow countable coaches to conduct institutionally supported skill instruction or team practice during the summer, except as may be permitted in conjunction with a foreign tour. (Summer workout sessions and safety exceptions as permitted under NCAA rules are permissible)

b. In all sports, incoming freshman (admitted students) visiting a member institution may participate in physical workouts or other recreational activities during a visit to an institution campus, provided such activities:

(1) Are not organized or observed by any member of the coaching staff.

(2) Are not designed to test the athletics ability of the PSA

(3) Access to the facility must be in accordance with institutional policy for admission of general public.

(4) Workouts may be observed but not conducted by a strength and conditioning staff member. [Administration, Spring 2016, 2017]

6. Non-institutional clubs and teams

a. Supervision by Institutional Sport Coaches

Under NCAA and Ivy rules, out of season during the academic year a student may not compete or practice in his or her sport under the direct supervision of his or her college coach on an outside team, other than in Olympic and National team development programs.
(1) These restrictions generally are intended to preclude coaching supervision, or special uniform issue, and to preclude the formation of “club” teams, populated by a particular school’s athletes, to compete outside of a declared playing season. [Council, 1980]

(2) These restrictions also do not permit a coach in any sport to compete or play with or against members of his or her team in their sport, however informally, out of season during the academic year. [Administration, Spring 1989]

b. Outside Practice and Competition by Ivy Student-Athletes

(1) In accordance with NCAA rules, practice on outside teams is allowed during the academic year, and competition on outside teams is prohibited during the academic year. Student-athletes may compete on outside teams only during the summer and during other vacation periods as listed in the institution’s catalogue. The number of Ivy team members with eligibility remaining may not exceed the following NCAA limits. The limits for all sports apply whether the sport is played outdoors or indoors.

(2) Ivy rules historically allow for student-athletes to participate on outside teams during the academic year, as long as no institutional coach is involved, and the number of players with eligibility remaining who participate on any one team does not exceed half the number of field positions in team sports (no limit for individual sports). This principle would apply should NCAA rules change to allow for participation on outside teams during the academic year. [Underlying Ivy rule—Council/Parry Ryan Report; 1980]

(3) Olympic, Maccabiah, and Pan American games and tryouts, and other traditional international contests, are permissible. Limits on numbers of team members do not apply.
G. Schedules and Travel

1. Scheduling Policies Generally (also see specific sports)
   a. Schedulers will review and approve schedules prior to posting on the League database. Schedules will be finalized and posted on the League scheduling database at least one-year in advance of the season. Scheduling related issues are presented and discussed by the Schedulers when necessary at in-person meetings or by conference call. The Committee on Administration will review changes to schedule formats/concepts.
   b. Ivy football schedules are prepared in ten-year cycles. Schedules are balanced 4-3 or 3-4 home and away. An institution never plays any more than 2 home or 2 away games in a row [Administration, November 2005].
   c. Schedules will normally consist of 50% Ivy contests, 25% against local or traditional opponents, and 25% against other opponents. See VII-B for additional guidelines for basketball.
   d. All sports may schedule contests until the Ivy competitive season end date. If the League has an NCAA automatic bid, all contests counting in the League standings must be played before the NCAA selection date. If the Ivy competitive ending date is later than the NCAA traditional season ending date, any contest scheduled between the two dates in a team sport requires a non-traditional season [Administration, Spring 1989].

2. Academic Considerations
   a. Contests involving extended class absences from the institution shall not be scheduled.
   b. Normally, only one contest in a sport shall be scheduled in any Monday through Thursday period when classes are in session [Council, 1980].
   c. The contest limits matched with weeks available for competition are projected to result in an average of no more than two contests per week when classes are in session [Council, 1980].
   d. Mid-week contests should be local in nature so as to interfere as little as possible with class time.
   e. Contests may not be scheduled during examination periods or the two days prior thereto (Saturday contests are permissible when the exam period begins the following Monday).

(1) Dartmouth has been granted an ongoing exemption to Ivy Rule VI-G-2-e to allow its football team to compete during its fall-term examination period.

f. Every effort should be made to limit freshman and junior varsity contests to one-day trips.
g. Religious Holidays. An institution may decline to schedule or play an Ivy contest on a religious holiday if its appropriate academic authorities have adopted such a policy, in which case other Ivy institutions should seek to accommodate scheduling on a different date. Absent such a policy at any individual institution, it is essential for students to know that they need not participate in athletic events involving religious conflicts, and that mid-week dates for Ivy contests that create such conflicts should be avoided in particular. [Administration, Spring 1993]

h. The Ivy office will confirm round-robin schedules as cycles expire, based on Ivy examination schedules received to date. Further changes to academic calendars will not require changes in the Ivy schedule.

i. Teams may depart no earlier than two overnights prior to the start of competition while classes are in session. [Administration, Spring 2013]

These travel expense restrictions do not apply in the following circumstances:

1. Travel prior to contests in Hawaii or Alaska; (Revised: 1/10/91 effective 8/1/91)

2. Travel prior to contests in the 48 contiguous states for member institutions located in Hawaii or Alaska

3. Travel prior regular-season competition that takes place during the institution’s official vacation period during the academic year

4. Travel prior to contests in NCAA championship events, NGB championships in emerging sports or licensed postseason football games

5. Travel prior to regular-season competition that takes place during the institution’s summer-vacation period

6. Prior to the USA Gymnastics (USAG) intercollegiate championships

3. Other Considerations

a. On fall “Ivy Weekends”, field hockey and soccer games may be scheduled any time Saturday or Sunday at the discretion of the host institution. Friday night fall contests may be scheduled only with the consent of both teams.

b. Institutions required to break out of a weekend schedule format (e.g., in basketball and ice hockey) shall bring to the Committee on Administration a proposal for approval. In men’s ice hockey, “breakout” weekends shall have priority over traveling partner contests.

c. Start times between scheduled back-to-back weekend contests shall be at least 22 hours unless both teams agree otherwise. [Administration, Spring 1999]
d. Events which utilize basketball floor prior to varsity basketball league games must be scheduled to allow basketball teams 1 hour for pre-game warmup unless preceded by another varsity or JV basketball game. [Administration, Spring 1996]

e. Break outs from Ivy back-to-back contests in all sports will be permitted in special situation only through agreement of the respective schedulers in all the involved schools. Every effort should be made to avoid a break-out of the front end of a back-to-back weekend. Adjustments to the schedule will be recorded on the master Ivy calendar by Ivy Office. [Administration, Spring 1994]

f. On dates of Ivy basketball games it is suggested that a time slot be allocated for home and visiting team shooting practices. If the game facility is unavailable an alternative site should be obtained. Every effort should be made to accommodate these requests. [Administration, Spring 1996]

h. Institutions have discretion to schedule league and non-league football games as they wish (e.g., Friday nights) either when television is or is not being considered. This can happen without regard to whether either or both teams have league opponents the following week. However, a move such as this assumes that there are the appropriate institutional approvals in place from both institutions. [Administration, 2007]

i. See section VII for sport specific policies and regulations.

4. Changes and Conflicts

a. Any changes in schedule must go through the institution’s administrator responsible for scheduling. While coaches are welcome to make recommendations, all changes must be agreed to by the administrators responsible. All changes or cancellations must be confirmed in writing.

b. A scheduling conflict between two league schools regarding date and/or time that has not been resolved in a reasonable time by the two schools’ Athletic Directors (or their designees) will be presented to the Executive Director for review and decision. The Director will solicit information from all parties and render a decision, which will be communicated in writing (if time allows) and will be final. If the Executive Director’s decision requires the home team to travel to the visitor, best efforts will be made to secure a neutral competition site in the vicinity of the visitor. If a neutral site is secured and there is a rental expense, that expense will be paid for by the Ivy office. See VII-A for additional information on baseball scheduling, and VII-N for softball scheduling.

c. Ivy League contest dates should take precedence over national tournament dates. If the involved institution is unable to have the tournament date rescheduled and no alternative date is available for the Ivy contest, the Ivy contest will be played.
d. Any changes from regular Ivy scheduling should seek to assure a neutral effect on men’s and women’s teams. [Administration, Spring 1992]

5. Travel [Policy and Administration, Spring 1986]

a. All travel should be arranged so as to minimize missed class time.

b. Overnight travel is not permitted for the following Ivy trips [Administration, Spring 2003]:

(1) All sports other than football

c. Exceptions: Overnight travel in addition to above is permitted in the following situations:

(1) For morning contests, if necessary for the visiting team to arrive at least two hours before game time and not leave before 7:30am on game day;

(2) During back-to-back competition [Fall 1986];

(3) For post-season tournaments.

(4) When a waiver is approved by the Ivy Office for special circumstances (e.g., traffic or weather considerations).

d. A team may not depart campus more than one day prior to a regular season Ivy contest when classes are in session. [Administration, Spring 1995]

e. Off-campus housing prior to home contests (including tournaments) is prohibited except as may be approved by the Committee on Administration.

f. Upon return to campus from an away - from - home competition, Ivy League teams are required to have 10 hours during which there will be no countable athletically related activity. [Administration, Spring 2016]

H. Foreign Travel [Ivy Office, 1989]

1. Approval

   All foreign trips by any team must have the prior approval of the Ivy Office, whether or not the trip is exempt from “counting” under either Ivy or NCAA rules.

   a. All foreign trips are governed by both Ivy rules at VI-H-3 below, and all NCAA regulations at B.17.29 and VI-H-4 below.

   b. Approval must be requested by submitting The Ivy League Foreign Travel Form at least 30 days before the intended date of departure.

   c. Approval also must be granted for any foreign trip by an outside team that includes more than the number of student-athletes from the same Ivy school listed at VI-F-6.

   d. Foreign travel during which a team will only practice and not compete must occur during the playing and practice season and must count as the institutions one-in-four.

   e. For rules pertaining to Football, see VII-G-11.

   f. For rules pertaining to Rowing, see VII-C-5

   g. In basketball, incoming student-athletes are not permitted to participate on a foreign tour prior to matriculation as permitted under NCAA rules.

2. Ivy and NCAA calendars and geographical rules

   a. Ivy rules permit a team to take a foreign trip once in any four year period, and provide that contests on such a trip will not count against Ivy contest limitations. Foreign trips may not involve missed class time or be scheduled during examination periods.
b. Ivy and NCAA rules permit an Ivy team to take a foreign trip on a no-count, one-in-four-years basis and scheduled in accord with B.17.29. Ivy rules do not permit the regular season “count” foreign travel that NCAA rules provide on the separate “one-in-four” clock. Ivy rules do allow “count” foreign travel on the same “one-in-four” clock as “no count” foreign travel.

c. Both Ivy and NCAA rules provide that a team may travel annually to Canada or Mexico on a “count” basis, in addition to any trip to either country that is used as a team’s one-in-four, “no-count” foreign trip.

d. Travel to the non-continental United States (Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands) is not foreign travel under either Ivy or NCAA rules.

(1) Contests in these areas count against Ivy contest limitations.

(2) In sports other than basketball, Ivy rules permit a one-in-four, no-count trip to one of these areas, on a one-in-four basis separate from the one-in-four foreign tour clock, provided the foreign tour is not taken in the same academic year (or the summer immediately prior) in which the institution has utilized the Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Island exemption. [Administration, Spring 1990]

(3) In basketball, in lieu of no count travel to the non-continental United States, teams may participate in two NCAA qualifying regular season multi-team events (QRSMTE) per B.17.3.5.1.1 and one foreign tour within any four-year period, with no more than one of these scheduled in any one year. Participation in an exempt event per B.17.3.5.1.1 counts as one contest against the Ivy contest limit. [Council, Spring 2006, Spring 2008]

3. Ivy rules

a. Foreign trips must be considered special events, and funds for them must come from special gifts rather than from general athletic budgets. [Council, Policy, 1978].

b. A team making an out-of-season foreign trip may have 5 practice sessions prior to departure (the NCAA limit is 10), not to be held during an exam period [Policy, Spring 1985]. When classes are not in session, teams may hold one meeting per day in addition to the practice session.

4. NCAA eligibility rules [B.17.29]

a. If a trip takes place during the summer, only student-athletes who were eligible for intercollegiate competition during the previous year are eligible to participate.

b. If the trip takes place after the academic year has started, student-athletes enrolled and eligible for intercollegiate competition are eligible to participate.
c. It is permissible for an eligible incoming student-athlete to represent the institution only on a foreign trip that begins after the permissible starting practice date in that sport or after the first day of classes of his or her first regular term at the institution.

5. NCAA contest rules
   a. A team shall not compete on the trip against other American teams except for U.S. armed forces teams stationed abroad.
   b. A team shall be limited to a maximum of three football games, 10 basketball games or ten contests or dates of competition in all other sports during a foreign tour.
   c. Under both Ivy and NCAA rules, a foreign trip by an outside team (e.g., an all-star team) that includes more than the following number of student-athletes from the same school shall cause the institution to be charged with its once-in-four year opportunity in that sport; see B.17.29.2:

I. Awards

   a. Ivy Championship plaques retroactive to and including 1956-57 are authorized for all sports. Such standardized plaques will carry the name of the champion Ivy college and the year.
   b. Permanent or institutional trophies must be approved by Committee Administration in order to be included in the League award structure.
   c. With the exception of a replica of the Asa S. Bushnell Cup, Ivy trophies to individuals are not authorized, except as stated in VI-I-3-a.

1. Must fence 75% of possible bouts
2. Win percentage
3. In the case of a percentage and/or win/loss tie the indicator touches scored will break the tie.
4. In the case of exact tie percentage, win/loss and indicator a 15 touch tie-breaker bout will decide the individual champion.
5. If the student athletes refuse to compete, regardless if they are on the same team, the next place finisher will be declared the champion. Should there be a tie in the next place finish the tie-breaker will repeat until a champion is declared. [Administration, Spring 2016]

Fencing Women’s

- Two teams: Three members per weapon based on overall record during the two-day Ivy Round Robins and on participation in at least 75 percent of a team’s overall matches. Women’s Sabre Champion, Women’s Foil Champion, Women’s Epee Champion. Coach of the year.

2. Win percentage
3. In the case of a percentage and/or win/loss tie the indicator touches scored will break the tie.
4. In the case of exact tie percentage, win/loss and indicator a 15 touch tie-breaker bout will decide the individual champion.
5. If the student athletes refuse to compete, regardless if they are on the same team, the next place finisher will be declared the champion. Should there be a tie in the next place finish the tie-breaker will repeat until a champion is declared. [Administration, Spring 2016]

Any student required to withdraw for academic or disciplinary reasons prior to the conclusion of the sport season shall not be eligible for All-Ivy selections. [Administration, 1989]

   b. Non-varsity athletes are not eligible for postseason All-Ivy honors.

6. All-Ivy Selection and Distribution
   a. All-Ivy teams, Players and Rookies of the Year are selected by vote of the coaches in each sport, under the supervision of the Ivy Office.

   b. Prior to each academic year, the Ivy Office will develop and circulate to Sports Information Directors and coach groups an All-Ivy timeline for dates of nominations, ballot distribution in voting in all sports.

   c. The Ivy Office will provide for nominations and voting to be done electronically or on-line.

7. All-Ivy Nominations
   a. Coaches nominate their own players for All-Ivy, Player and Rookie of the Year in the sports where applicable. The following information must be provided for each nominee: name, uniform number (if applicable), classification and position. In selected sports, All-Ivy nominations (and voting) will be by position. Coaches are encouraged to be inclusive when making nominations; however, a nominee must have played a significant portion of the season at a position to be considered for All-Ivy at that position.

   Coaches are permitted to submit multiple nominees for Player and/or Rookie of the Year.

   b. For the purpose of postseason honors, a “rookie” is defined as either a freshman, or an upperclassman in the first year of collegiate participation at any level (including junior varsity, junior college, or an international institution) in that particular sport. [Administration, 1989]

b. Coach groups will be expected use regular-season statistics distributed by the Ivy Office, as well as online statistical sources, for statistical information. The Ivy Office will not provide additional statistical reports.

c. A coach may not vote for his/her own players for weekly or end of season awards. A ballot must be completed in its entirety, including the coach’s name/signature and date, to be counted.

d. At its discretion, a coach group may conduct a conference call to discuss nominations. This call should be coordinated by the Chair of the coach group and should not delay the deadlines for nominations and/or ballot. A representative of the Ivy Office will not participate unless requested by the coach-group Chair.

e. The following points system will be used in tabulating the votes: All-Ivy—Two points for first team and one point for second team (where applicable). Player/Rookie of the Year—Five points for first choice, three points for second choice and one point for third choice.

f. In the case of a tie in the voting, more than one player may be named at the same position to an All-Ivy team; if the tie is in Player/Rookie of the Year balloting, co-winners will be named.

g. To receive honorable mention, a player must receive at least one first-team vote, or two second-team votes. In men’s and women’s tennis, honorable mention All-Ivy is not awarded.

h. Any situation wherein the Ivy Office has questions about a ballot, it may contact a coach’s Director of Athletics or his/her designee to discuss and confirm the coach’s vote or to have a replacement ballot submitted if the administrator determines that is appropriate. [Administration, 2005]

i. The final votes for the “of the Year” awards (e.g., player, rookie, coach) will be circulated to the coaches in that sport for internal purposes only. This information should not be included in any press releases, distributed and/or posted on any Web sites or otherwise distributed to anyone outside of the athletics department.    b. Each coach is responsible for seeing that weekly reports required for League publicity are filed promptly with the Ivy Office.

b. The following shall apply to all Ivy League and overall records for all affected institutions, including standings, wins and losses, and coaches’ records, both seasonal and cumulative.

1. The score of the contest as played shall be listed in the records of contests played.

2. The contest shall be recorded as a loss for the forfeiting team and as a win for the team receiving the forfeit, and any standings shall be computed on that basis.

3. PART VII  ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION:
SPECIAL REGULATIONS IN PARTICULAR SPORTS

A.  Baseball (Effective with 2017-2018 academic year)

1.  Generally

   a.  Ivy League baseball will compete in a round-robin schedule. The League has a 21-game schedule, which gives each school three games (each game will be nine innings) versus each team. The Ivy Champion is determined by a three-game championship series between the top two teams in the League standings. [Council, Spring 2016, effective 2017-2018]

   b.  Varsity baseball schedules should include no more than six (6) non-Division I games per season. If an institution is not able to meet this scheduling requirement, the institution may ask for a waiver from the Ivy Office. The request must be accompanied by compelling evidence that the institution set out to meet the requirement but was unable to do so because of circumstances beyond its control.
       [Administration, Spring 2001]

   c.  Each game shall be 9 innings. [Council, Spring 2016, effective 2018]

   d.  Presumptive start time is 12 noon for Ivy doubleheaders after daylight savings time has begun. Start time for doubleheaders prior to daylight savings time is 11:30 a.m. The start time should remain at 12:00 noon for those facilities with lights. The home institution scheduler is responsible for notifying the Ivy Office where facility conflicts necessitate later start times.

   e.  NCAA tournament qualifiers in baseball may schedule one game every four days with a local opponent, when not in exam time, between selection and NCAA play. These contests count toward the NCAA contest limit.

   f.  The Ivy schedule shall be contested on Saturdays and Sundays. [Council, 2011]

2.  Fall season regulations [Council, Spring 1986]

Fall practice and play must be scheduled within the institution’s declared “non-traditional” season. A school may use four of the permitted 22 in-term contest dates in the non-traditional season for contests under the following conditions. [Administration, Spring 1995]:

   a.  Each such contest will count both as one of the 12 permitted fall practice dates and as one of the permitted in-term contest dates and as one of the 56 permitted contests.

   b.  The competition may not involve overnight travel, and no individual student-athlete may miss class to compete.

3.  Procedures for inclement weather and rescheduling [Council, Spring 2016]
a. Games will be scheduled Saturday/Sunday with the option to use Friday to complete a three-game series, if agreed upon by both schools’ schedule-maker in conjunction with the Ivy office.

b. If the home team field is determined not to be playable, the home team is obligated to secure an alternative field within 130 miles of its own field. If an alternative field within 130 miles is not available, the contest must be rescheduled within two weeks pursuant to this section. Whether at home or at an alternative site, the home team will make every possible effort to have the game played on the scheduled date. [Administration, Fall 1994]

c. If a series is not completed Friday-Sunday, a game or games will be made up in accordance with the following policy:
   All postponed or halted games must be made up during the regular season within two weeks of the originally scheduled date. Makeup games may not take place on the Monday immediately following the date of the canceled contest(s). Exception: For overnight contests, makeup games may be played on Monday immediately following the series. All Ivy League make-up games will take precedence over non-conference games and if an Ivy game is rescheduled for midweek any non-conference game that week must be canceled or rescheduled. More than one Ivy make-up game may be played mid-week if necessary. The Executive Director may not require a team to play more than six Ivy League games in a seven-day period. [Administration, Fall 2012, Spring 2015]

d. Decisions under this section shall be made by schedule-makers (or their alternates), rather than by coaches, as follows. The visiting coach must speak with his schedule-maker and the two schedule-makers then must discuss the situation, keeping in mind that the home team is responsible for deciding whether conditions are or are not playable. The visiting schedule-maker then should advise the visiting coach of the decision reached.

4. Protests

a. All protests should follow the procedures outlined in the NCAA Baseball Rules Manual.

5. Ties

a. If a tie-breaker is needed, the following apply until the tie is broken:

   (1) Compare each team’s winning percentage against the other team(s) with which it is tied.

   (2) Compare each team’s winning percentage against the next common opponent with the highest league winning percentage, continuing through the standings until one team gains an advantage. If at any point in the standings there is more than one such common opponent, the combined records of those common opponents against the tied teams shall be used.

   (3) If a tie persists, it will be broken by a telephone coin toss or draw conducted by the Executive Director.
6. Regulation and Halted Games
   a. If a game is called by the umpire for any reason once four and half innings have been played to determine a regulation game with a decision, only in the last game of a series is that game considered complete. All other games of a series are played under the NCAA Halted Game Rule. [Administration, Spring 2016]

7. Ivy League Championships Series format and Administration is listed in the Ivy Championship Handbook.

B. Basketball

1. Any deviation from the Friday/Saturday basketball league schedule format must be approved by the Committee on Administration.

2. Men’s and women’s varsity schedules shall include no more than one non-Division I opponent per season. If an institution is not able to meet this scheduling requirement, the institution may ask for a waiver from the Ivy Office. The request must be accompanied by compelling evidence the institution set out to meet the requirement but was unable to do so because of circumstances beyond its control. [Administration, Spring 1989]

3. No basketball games may be scheduled after the Sunday immediately prior to the Ivy League Tournaments. [Administration, Spring 1992]

4. In basketball, in lieu of no count travel to the non-continental United States, teams may participate in two NCAA qualifying regular season multi-team events (QRSMTE) per B.17.3.5.1.1 and one foreign tour within any four-year period. Participation in an exempt event per B.17.3.5.1.1 counts as one contest against the Ivy contest limit. [Council, Spring 2006, Spring 2008].

5. In basketball, a single elimination tournament involving four league members will determine the league’s automatic bid to the NCAA Championship:
   a. Seeding Procedure / Tie Breaker
      In the case of a two-way tie between teams in the final standings, the following process will be used until all ties are broken and the seeding process is completed (ties will be broken in rank order beginning with the highest):

      (1) Head-to-head competition - The higher seed will go to the team that has won the most League contests played against the other team involved in the tie.

      (2) If a tie still exists, the tie will be broken by comparing each team’s record against the highest seed outside of the tie and continuing

      (3) If a tie still exists, an average of the most recent ratings indices identified in advance by the coaches (e.g., Men: Sagarin, Ken Pom, BPI and NCAA RPI / Women: Sagarin, RIPratings.com and NCAA RPI) will be utilized to determine the higher seed.

      (4) If a tie still persists, a draw will be conducted by the Executive Director.
In the case of a multiple-team tie (more than two teams tied for the same spot), the following process will be used: Note: Once a highest seed (amongst the tied teams) is determined, the tie between the remaining seeds shall be determined on the basis of head to-head competition.

1. Records between the tied teams – The higher seed will go to the team that has won the most League contests against the other teams tied at that spot.

2. If a tie still exists, the tie will be broken by comparing each team’s record against the highest seed outside of the tie and continuing through the full league standings (if there is a group of tied teams, use each team’s record against the group rather than the individual teams) if necessary.

3. If a tie still exists, an average of the most recent ratings indices identified in advance by the coaches (e.g., Men: Sagarin, Ken Pom, BPI and NCAA RPI/Women: Sagarin, RPIratings.com and NCAA RPI) will be utilized to determine the higher seed.

4. If a tie still persists, a draw will be conducted by the Executive Director.

See the Ivy Championship Handbook for event management, budget, and competitive regulations for the basketball playoff.

6. Scouting is prohibited by NCAA rules [NCAA, winter 1994]

7. Men’s and Women’s Basketball Video Exchange & Guidelines: [Administration, Spring 1996]
   a. Schools will exchange games via the on-line file exchange platform of the League. The guidelines to be followed for these exchanges are on file in the Ivy Office.

9. Uniforms
   In men’s and women’s basketball, the home team will wear light uniforms on Friday night and dark uniforms on Saturday night during the back-to-back Ivy weekends. The visiting team will do the opposite (dark on Friday and light on Saturday).

10. The anthem will be played immediately prior to lineups being introduced, with both teams lining up at the foul lines.

C. Crew [Policy and Administration, Fall 1988]
   1. Men’s Rowing is subject to all ECAC and Ivy rules including the NCAA/ECAC 156 day restriction.
      a. It is permissible to declare separate 156 day seasons for heavyweight and lightweight crew. [Administration, Fall 1989]
b. The 156 day limit is applicable to all individual rowers.

c. The length of the rowing season is defined as 156 days of practice and competition on the water, to be conducted only within the practice periods starting no earlier than the first day of classes through November 30 and starting no earlier than February 1 and ending no later than the Eastern Sprints and the Ivy Championship.

d. A single vacation trip is allowed between November 30 and February 1, with that trip counting as part of the 156 day on-water season.

2. Off-water training must be voluntary and can be supervised by a coach up to 6 hours per week.

3. NCAA initial qualifier certification is not required (men’s only). [Administration, Spring, 2005]

4. Twice per season a team may count a two-day event as one date of competition. [Council, Spring 2015]

5. Foreign travel [Administration, Spring 1989]

   a. The Henley regatta will be exempt from the one-in-four year restriction for freshman, heavyweight and lightweight crews.

   b. A crew which participates at Henley is permitted to compete in one international regatta either one week before or one week following Henley.

   c. All other foreign regattas will be subject to Ivy and NCAA certified foreign-tour restrictions.

   d. Except when in conjunction with Henley, the Vancouver Regatta is considered foreign travel.

   e. All other Canadian regattas are not considered foreign travel and therefore must take place during an institution’s declared 26-week season.

   f. A crew’s participation in one post-season qualifying regatta which takes place in the continental U.S. will not be considered as part of the 26-week season limitation or count as a contest. Participation in any one year is limited to one regatta for any individual athlete and to one regatta for any one class of boat.

D. Cross-Country

1. See the Ivy Championship Handbook for event management, budget, and competitive regulations for Cross-Country Heptagonal Championship

2. The date of the Ivy League Heptagonal Championships shall be two weeks prior to the NCAA Regional.

3. The site for the Ivy League Heptagonal Cross Country Championships shall rotate annually between Princeton on Saturday and Van Cortlandt Park on Friday, the women will run a 6K at both sites.
E. Fencing

1. The date of the Ivy League Round-Robins shall be one week prior to the junior national championships.

3. The Ivy League round-robin season shall be conducted over 2 days in a format as laid out in the Ivy League Championship Handbook. See the Ivy Championship Handbook for event management, budget, and competitive regulations for the fencing round-robins. [Administration, Spring 2010]

4. A champion in each weapon will be named based on Ivy League bout record. The overall team champion, one for men and one for women, will have its name inscribed on the team trophy.

5. Note VI-F-d above regarding out-of-season participation for individual sports.

6. Once annually, after the start of the practice season but before the start of the competitive season, an institution may send individuals to an “open” event in circumstances which would count on an individual basis and in numbers sufficient to trigger a team count; that contest then counts against the total number of permissible team contests. [Policy, Fall 1989]

7. Competitions held during the collegiate season that are used to select national teams shall not count against the individual’s contest limit as long as the following conditions are met [Administration, Spring 1989]:
   a. The competition is on an NCAA and Ivy approved “no-count” list;
   b. The student does not represent the institution;
   c. The student does not receive financial support from his/her institution including transportation, lodging, meals and uniforms;
   d. The student is not accompanied by the institutional coach unless an Olympic waiver has been obtained by the Ivy office.

F. Field Hockey

1. If selected for the NCAA tournament, field hockey teams are permitted one-post season, pre-tournament scrimmage.

2. In the event of a tie in field hockey, the following tie-breaking procedure shall be used to determine the League’s automatic bid [Administration, Spring 1995]:
   a. Results of the head to head competition between the teams tied for first place.
   b. If a tie persists, the tie will be broken by comparing each team’s record against the team occupying the next position in the standings until one team gains the advantage. If two teams are tied in the standings, the combined record against the tied team will be tabulated and compared.

c. If a tie still persists, the tie will be broken by a drawing conducted by the Executive Director following the last game of the regular season. A private weblink will be provided to the involved institutions.

3. For Ivy opponents, if the visiting team travels the day prior to competition then the home team shall make every effort to provide a minimum of one hour of practice time on the game field after 2 p.m. on the day prior to competition. Within reason, this practice should be considered a ‘closed’ practice; i.e. opposing field hockey coaching staff and players should not be present at this session. [Administration, Spring 1996]

G. Football

1. Scrimmages

Subject to the “one-man one-scrimmage” rule, two pre-season football scrimmages are allowable if one is a varsity or “A” scrimmage and one is a junior varsity or “B” scrimmage.

2. Contest management

a. For Ivy football games, the offensive team may use whatever type of ball it chooses, and the referee should change game balls as each team goes on offensive.

b. Starting times for football games on Saturdays are expected to be between noon and three. Both schools must agree to Saturday game times outside of this timeframe. If both schools do not agree, a school may request the Executive Director to determine the game time as per existing policy. [Administration, Spring 2013]

c. Each home institution shall designate an athletic administrator to act as liaison with the visiting team. (1) Before match—Arrive at least one-half hour before match begins; prepare courts; nets; singles sticks; balls; receive official line-ups from coaches; participate in on-court introductions of coaches and players; present the pre-match speech to players about playing rules and conduct.

(2) During match—Keep play continuous; assigning courts and matches as available; overseeing time between changeovers and points; preparing courts for singles play; settle any on-court disputes; enforce ITA and USTA rules for play, injury, conduct and coaching; distribute match balls and receive scores throughout the match.

(3) Post-match—Report final scores to both coaches; administer a match played under protest according to ITA and USTA regulations. [Administration, Spring, 1990]
7. Men’s and Women’s Tennis Weather Provisions [Administration, Spring 1996]

The weather provisions as outlined in the USTA Rulebook, Part VII-ITA Regulations, II.B.13 will be followed.

8. Note VI-F regarding out-of-season participation for individual sports.

9. Men’s and Women’s Tennis Tie-Breaker [Administration, Spring 2008]

The tie-breaking procedure for determining the conference automatic bid to the NCAA men’s and women’s tennis championships is as follows:

a. If two teams are tied, the winner of the head to head League match will receive the automatic bid

b. If three or more teams are tied, head to head record in League matches

c. If the tie persists among all three teams, then head to head record in all matches that year against tied opponents in the spring season. If a tie persists among only two teams, then the winner of the head to head league match will receive the automatic bid.

d. Then, record against descending teams in the standings in Ivy matches until the tie is broken (example: if three teams are tied, compare their records against the team in fourth place in the standings, then fifth, and so on to the 8th-place team until the tie is broken).

e. Then, record against descending teams in the Ivy standings in all matches (similar to step 3) until the tie is broken.

f. Comparison of ITA team ranking.

g. If a tie persists, the tie will be broken by a telephone coin-toss by the Executive Director.

10. A lineup protest or appeal in a match between two Ivy teams shall not be considered unless all parts of ITA Rule K-8 are observed, as follows:

“If a coach feels that the opponent’s lineup as presented is unfair, he/she must notify the designated referee and opposing coach of the protest prior to the match. Any coach who wishes to submit a match protest (after the completion of the match) must first inform the opposing coach in writing (by fax or email), with a copy at the same time to the Ivy office. This is necessary even when the opposing and designated referee were informed of the protest at the time of the match. This written protest must be made within 48 hours of the start of the match.”

R. Track

1. Note Part VI-F regarding out-of-season participation for individual sports.

2. The following is the site rotation for the Ivy League Heptagonal Track and Field Championships. [Administration, revised Spring 2004]
The date of the outdoor championship shall be three weeks prior to the NCAA regional championship.

The date of the indoor championship shall be two weeks prior to the NCAA Championship.

s. Volleyball

1. The volleyball facility must be available two hours prior to the start of the match to begin match protocol. The visiting team must be guaranteed at least 30 minutes of full court time in the hour prior to the start of the official warm up.

2. When Ivy contests are played on Fridays and Saturdays, host institutions are encouraged to schedule matches for 7 pm on Friday and 5 pm on Saturday. [Administration, Spring 1993, Spring 2013]

3. Ivy institutions are prohibited from providing any type of scouting reports about league members to non-league teams. [Administration, Spring 1993]

4. The regular season Ivy Champion (NCAA automatic qualifier) may schedule one contest (counts against NCAA limit but not Ivy limit) with a local opponent when not in exam time, between the end of the Ivy season and NCAA play. [Council; Spring 2011]

5. The home team wears light uniforms on Friday and dark uniforms on Saturday during back-to-back Ivy weekends. The visiting team will do the opposite (dark on Friday and light on Saturday. [Administration; Spring 2014]

6. In women’s volleyball the home institution will provide professional line judges for all Ivy League matches. Each school will be responsible for finding an assigner who will assign professional line judges for all Ivy matches. [Administration; Spring 2014]

7. In the event of a tie for the Ivy Championship, play-offs will be held as follows to determine the recipient of the League’s NCAA bid:

   a. For a two-team tie, a one match playoff will be held within a week of the final Ivy weekend. A Friday, Saturday, or Sunday is preferred. The match will be played at the home site of the top-seeded team. The date and site will be determined by the Ivy League Office after consultation with the participating institutions. The top-seeded team will be determined by the following formula:

      (1) Results of head to head competition between the tied teams;

      (2) If a tie persists, comparing each team’s game record in the head to head competition against the opponent will break the tie;
(3) If a tie persists, it will be broken by comparing each team’s record against the team occupying the next position in the standings.

(4) If a tie persists, it will be broken by game record of each team against the team occupying the next position in the standings.

(5) If a tie persists throughout the standings, comparing the points scored against in the head to head competition between the teams will break it.

(6) If a tie persists, comparing point scored against versus the team occupying the next position in the standings will break it.

(7) If a tie persists throughout the standings, it will be broken by drawing cards for the seeds. The Executive Director will supervise this procedure.

b. For a three-team tie, there will be a single elimination playoff at the site of the top seed with the first game bye determined by the above seeding formula. The first playoff match will be played Friday with the home team determined by the same formula, and the second game will be played Saturday with the first round bye team being the home team. If possible, both games will be played at the site of the top seed.

c. For a four-team tie, a single elimination, playoff at the site of the top seed will be held with pairings (1v4 and 2v3) determined by the above seeding formula. The first matches will be held on Friday; the determining match will be held on Saturday. If possible, all matches will be played at the site of the top seed and the first pair of matches will be a double header.

d. Ties of more than four teams will be broken as follows, with sites and schedules to be determined:

   (1) Five-way tie; draw five; high/low play first and next high/low play second; last card plays first winner; winners play.

   (2) Six-way tie; draw six; high/low byes to third and fourth matches; next high/low play first match and others play second; first winner plays original high and second winner plays original low; winners play.

   (3) Seven-way tie; draw seven; high/low play first match, next high/low play second, others play third; middle card plays first winner and second/third winners play; winners play.

   (4) Eight-way tie; draw eight; high/low play first, next high/low play second, etc.; first and fourth winners and second and third winners play; winners play.

e. See the Ivy Championship Handbook for event management, budgeting, and competitive regulations for the volleyball playoff.
T. Water Polo

1. NCAA water polo regulations are found at B.17.26.

U. Wrestling

1. Weigh-in procedure – Ivy teams will follow NCAA regulations (see Rule 3 – Weight Certification, Classification, and Weighing In, NCAA Wrestling Rules and Interpretations).

2. Note VI-F regarding out-of-season participation for individual sports.

3. Once annually after November 1st but prior to Thanksgiving, an institution may send individuals to an “open” event in circumstances which would count on an individual basis and in numbers sufficient to trigger a team count; that contest then counts against the total number of permissible team term dates. [Administration, Spring 1997]

4. Each permissible date must take place at one site. [Administration, Spring 1989]
   a. Split-squad participation at two different sites on the same day thus counts as two dates.
   b. One team may participate in two meets on one date at two different sites if the travel party is the same and remains together. This counts as one date.

5. Within the permissible fifteen dates (14 dates plus one open event), wrestling teams are permitted on not more than three occasions to count any combination of the following as (1) date of competition: two-day elimination tournament(s) or dual meets held on two (2) consecutive days. Teams are permitted to enter more than three (3) two-day events, but each day of any such events must be counted as one of the permissible thirteen dates. [Council, Spring 2009]

   [Note: NCAA limits are 16 dates, with up to two (2) two-day elimination tournaments or dual meets held on consecutive days, counting as one each]

6. Concussion Prevention [Council, Spring 2016]
   a. From the start of the season through November 30, “live wrestling” practice may occur on no more than four days per week. Practice on the remaining days may include “drilling” but no “live wrestling” during which student-athletes are taken from a standing position to the mat.
PART VIII  ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION: COACHES

A. Communication Guidelines [Ivy Office; 1989]

The following guidelines and procedures have been established to facilitate communication between Ivy Group coaches’ organizations and the Committee on Administration.

1. National Associations
   a. The members of the Committee on Administration are the official representatives of their institutions to the offices of the national athletic associations. Communication with these associations by Ivy coaches groups should be coordinated through the Committee on Administration or its designees unless otherwise directed.

2. Liaisons [Administration, Spring 1990]
   a. Sports liaisons are assigned by the Ivy Office. The Ivy Office shall solicit requests from the membership following the annual spring meeting for assignment to vacant liaison posts. (For current list, see Part II-H-8.)
   b. Sport liaisons are to serve a three (3) year term, and with the Ivy Office’s approval may serve an additional two years.
   c. Athletics Directors are to hold liaison positions in at least three (3) men’s programs and three (3) women’s programs.
   d. The liaison’s role is to communicate to the coaches the thinking of the Committee on Administration and to communicate the coaches’ views to the Committee.
   e. The Ivy office will compile and circulate to each athletics director the complete list of the chairs and liaisons of all committees annually.

3. Coach Chairs and Meetings [Administration, Spring 1995]
   a. The chair of each coaches group must rotate once every two years among those institutions that compete in that sport on a varsity level; The method of choosing a chair and time of year of the transfer occurs are left to the discretion of the coaches group.
   b. A quorum ordinarily is all 8 schools (or the number of schools sponsoring that sport) or one fewer if a school fails to be represented at a call or meeting for which reasonable advance notice was given. A majority is a majority of schools present and voting, i.e., 5 of 8 or 4 of 7. Abstentions are countable votes and have the effect of negative votes (i.e., with 8 votes present and 4 affirmative votes, either a negative vote or an abstention denies a majority. So, a 4-3 vote with 7 total votes present passes, a 4-3-1 vote with 8 voting fails.
c. A meeting or conference call of each coaches group must be held every year. The agendas for Ivy coaches meetings shall be circulated prior to the meeting to the Committee on Administration, (or their designee) and the liaison, by the Ivy Office.

d. Coaches meetings must be planned to facilitate the liaison’s attending. A tentative meeting schedule will be circulated by the Ivy Office each fall.

e. Following the meeting, minutes noting members present, meeting place, date and actions shall be circulated to the Committee on Administration, (or their designee) and the liaison by the Ivy Office.

f. The Ivy Office in consultation with Coach chairs are responsible for planning and circulating the date for each meeting to the Ivy coaches, the Ivy Office, and the liaison 30 days in advance.

g. When a meeting of an Ivy coaches’ association takes place on an Ivy campus, the host Director shall be invited to attend some portion of that meeting.

h. “Official” meetings should be scheduled in the northeast region at a time convenient to the committee.

i. When coaches request an “official” meeting at their national convention, the following criteria must be met:

1. all coaches must be in attendance; and,

2. the sport liaison must be made aware of the meeting in advance.

j. Coach chairs shall receive from the Ivy Office all Legislation submitted to the Committee on Administration which is relevant to their sport.

k. The Ivy Office will pay for expenses associated with coach group conference calls, and in-person meetings.

l. The Ivy Office will pay up to $200 annually for administrative liaison travel associated with the coach group meetings.

m. Each liaison shall review each year the costs and effectiveness of officials’ assignments, including particularly shared travel expenses, and shall make any necessary recommendations to the Administration Committee for action at the spring meeting.

4. Proposals

a. Proposals from Ivy coaches associations to the Committee on Administration should be submitted through the liaison. All proposals must be submitted by the deadline established annually by the Ivy Office.

b. Ivy legislative proposals from a coaches group will be accepted only when the Committee on Administration’s liaison or his/her designee attends the coaches meeting(s) at which the proposals are formulated (including conference calls).

c. Each proposal should include the record of the vote of the Ivy coaches.

d. Proposals involving the administration of established Ivy Group policy are reviewed only by the Committee on Administration.

e. Proposals involving a change in Ivy Group policy are reviewed by the Committee on Administration, which then submits any recommendation to the Ivy Policy Committee. The Policy Committee may act finally on the recommendation or may submit it to the Council of Presidents for final decision.

f. Subsequent action on coaches proposals will be communicated to the chair through the liaison, the chair of the Committee on Administration, or the Ivy Office.

B. Limitation on Numbers of Coaches

1. Generally

NCAA rules on limitations on the numbers and duties of coaches for men’s and women’s teams are adopted as Ivy limitations. (NCAA coach limitations are found at B.11.7). [Administration, Spring 1993]

2. Ivy and NCAA Limits

3. Specific sports

a. Basketball

(1) NCAA coach limitations are found at B.11.7.6.

(2) The Ivy limit is two full-time coaches and one part-time coach.

(3) The fourth position allowed by the NCAA may be filled with a volunteer coach who receives no salary or benefits from the athletic department. As permitted for an NCAA assistant coach, this person may be paid when employed at their own institution’s summer camp.

(4) The fourth coach may recruit off-campus in accordance with NCAA rules. [Administration, Spring 2005]

b. Football

(1) The Ivy Limit is 7 full-time coaches and 3 part-time coaches [Council, Spring 2002, effective Fall 2003]

(2) Applicable NCAA football coach restrictions are found at B.11.7.5.

   (a) Note NCAA B.11.7.5.1.6 prohibits sprint football coaches from recruiting off-campus in the sport of football.

c. Crew

(1) Limits include coaches for freshman/novice teams. Waivers are available from the Ivy Office to permit the institution to retain a coach if for one season it does not have enough student-athletes to constitute a full freshman/novice team. [Administration, Spring 2008]

^ Institutions with separate men’s & women’s teams but a combined diving program may have three volunteer coaches (one for men’s, one for women’s, one for diving), Per 11.7.6.2.3.2
(2) An institution is granted coaches for a lightweight team if the team consists of at least one “eight” or two “fours” that compete in at least four spring events.

(3) Three volunteer coaches are allowed per team (heavyweight / lightweight). A volunteer coach may not receive any pay or benefits, or be involved in recruiting off campus, as defined by NCAA rules. [Council, Spring 2014, Spring 2016]

C. Endorsement of Commercial Products

1. Coaches may enter into contractual or endorsement relationships with commercial organizations only in conformity with institutional policy and athletic department approval. NCAA rules prohibit endorsement of recruiting service and camps per Bylaw 11.3.2.6.

2. It is permissible for a coach or trainer to endorse personally a product if he or she had a part in the invention of that product.

D. Clinics, Camps, and All-Star Games

1. NCAA regulations for coach employment at clinics and camps are found at B.13.12.2.3.

2. Ivy Group coaches are permitted to participate in post-season all-star contests, provided:

   a. The contests in question are amateur as defined by Ivy, ECAC and NCAA rules;

   b. The Athletic Director of a given institution approves the participation and participation is at no expense to the Ivy institution.

   c. Participation is further limited to one contest per academic year by each coach.

E. Scouting of Opponents

1. Per NCAA Bylaw 11.6.1 off-campus, in-person scouting of future opponents (in the same season) is prohibited, except as provided in Bylaw 11.6.1.1.

2. All Ivy scouting rules apply to all coaches, including head, assistant coaches, and full-time, part-time and volunteer coaches.

3. Ivy rules prohibit live scouting of freshman or junior varsity competition.
PART IX  ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION: FINANCES AND RELATED MATTERS

A. Finances

1. Television (over-the-air, cable, satellite), radio, streaming, and other broadcast activities. [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

   a. League-wide packages: Any net rights fees or advertising or other revenue, after expenses, that is not otherwise allocated by the Council will be distributed to the institutional athletic departments in equal shares, regardless of any institution’s number of appearances within the package.

   b. Institutional arrangements: Any fee or revenue arrangements will be controlled by the institution that is party to the arrangement.

   c. Historical Note: Until the early 1970s television coverage was rare, and was likely to be local in nature except for participation in the NCAA regional football game of the week. Ivy rules thus distinguished between “local” arrangements, for which the proceeds went only to the school in question, and “national and regional live television,” which provided for minimum distributions to the participating school(s) and the Ivy Fund, and then for shares to all league schools [plus additional double-shares to the participant(s)].

   These distinctions became obsolete first with the end of the NCAA TV monopoly in 1984 and the parallel growth of conference basketball packages, and then with the growth of cable, satellite and digital television, and subsequently of website streaming: the distinction that matters currently is whether the arrangement is league-wide or institutional, rather than with the type of outlet or distribution.

2. Officiating

   a. Officials’ travel expenses are to be pooled and pro-rated to the Ivy institutions at the end of each season for Ivy League contests in the following sports: baseball, men’s and women’s basketball, field hockey, men’s and women’s lacrosse, men’s and women’s soccer, softball and volleyball. [Administration, Spring 1992]

   b. Stipends for Coordinators of Officiating are paid by the Ivy Office, and pooled and pro-rated to the Ivy institutions at the end of each season, for Ivy League baseball, field hockey, football, women’s lacrosse, men’s and women’s soccer, softball and, volleyball. [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

3. Championship Finances are addressed in Section VI-B-8.
B. Complimentary Tickets [Administration, Spring 1995]

1. Institutional Allotments

a. Football

(1) Complimentary football tickets shall number 350 for the visiting institution unless the contracting parties agree on another figure prior to the game.

(2) The maximum number of home complimentary tickets for all of an institution’s staff members shall be determined by that institution.

(3) The number of complimentary tickets for athletes and athletics department staff shall be regulated by NCAA rules and/or institutional guidelines.

(4) The host institution shall provide general admission seats (upon availability) to traveling Ivy teams that are competing at the host institution within a 24-hour period of the football contest. Admission will be provided via a gate list and shall not be counted in the institutional ticket allotment. The traveling team must request complimentary admission a minimum of 24 hours in advance of the football contest.

b. Other paid sports

(1) Complimentary tickets shall number 50 for the visiting institution unless the contracting parties agree on another figure prior to the game.

(2) Complimentary tickets for the visiting institution shall be grouped together in the same area of the venue, and located as close as practical to the visiting team bench. Any part of the section corresponding to the complimentary tickets assigned to a visiting institution for a particular contest that is not used by the institution shall be left empty.

(3) The maximum number of home complimentary tickets for all of an institution’s staff members shall be determined by that institution.

(4) The number of complimentary tickets for athletes and athletics department staff shall be regulated by NCAA rules and/or institutional guidelines.

(5) The host institution shall provide general admission seats (upon availability) to traveling Ivy teams that are competing at the host institution within a 24-hour period of the contest. Admission will be provided via a gate list and shall not be counted in the institutional ticket allotment. The traveling team must request complimentary admission a minimum of 24 hours in advance of the contest.

c. Bands, cheerleaders, and mascot

(1) The number of complimentary admissions for bands, cheerleaders, and mascots in Ivy football contests is unlimited. The squads shall be admitted by uniform. These admissions are not part of the athletics department complimentary admissions allotment.

(2) For all other paid sports: unless mutually agreed upon by the participating institutions, the number of complimentary admissions for visiting band members is 25; for cheerleaders 12; for the mascot, one.

a) The host institution shall determine the maximum number of visiting band members above 25 allowed to participate at one time. When the number exceeds 25, additional tickets must be purchased unless agreed upon by both institutions.

(3) The visiting school must notify the host school about band, cheerleader, and mascot admissions requests a minimum of one week prior to the contest.

C. Ivy Fund [Superseded]

The Ivy Fund was created in the 1980s when distributions from NCAA championships were made directly to the athletic departments of the participating institutions: a portion of any such distribution to an Ivy institution was allocated to the Ivy Fund, which was administered by the Administration Committee and the Executive Director to pay for common meeting expenses of the Committee at the spring meeting and for a dinner at the NCAA Convention. When the NCAA changed the distribution of championship receipts in the mid 1990s, with the substantially increased “basketball” funds being distributed to the conferences rather than the participating institutions, all such receipts in the Ivy Group became subject to the Council’s control. The Executive Director then began to include an Ivy Fund/common meeting expense item in the annual Ivy Office budget approved by the Council; see Part II-D-2-d. Beginning with the 2008-09 budget request, this expense will be included in the regular Ivy Office budget and this Fund (and the corresponding Princeton University account) will not be administered separately.

D. Television and Other League-Wide Broadcast Packages [Council, March 1998]

1. Programming

a. Overall League-wide programming should emphasize the distinguishing characteristics of Ivy League athletics and institutions: in particular, wide participation in a variety of sports, equal opportunity for women and equal emphasis upon women’s athletics, and the comprehensive excellence of each of the eight Ivy League institutions.

b. For example, a basketball schedule should include both women’s and men’s contests, and a football schedule should include clear coverage of women’s athletics, through telecasts of a women’s sport (live or delay) or through features. Half-time and other feature placements should emphasize institutions’ educational, research and community contributions, as well as the wide opportunities available for undergraduate study and life.
2. Exposure

a. Exposure should involve outlets and times that have the basis for securing a good audience and for portraying Ivy League athletics as an activity worth watching in its own right, not simply as another collegiate athletic broadcast. The League will retain talent and creative approval.

b. Game telecasts should be live whenever possible, unless the opportunity is so unusual as to make a delayed broadcast valuable (e.g., broadcasting a sport that has few if any other television opportunities anywhere). Highlights, features and similar material that are not shown live should be aired at times likely attract a good audience. Every effort should be made for programming to be available to alumni who do not live in the broadcast or telecast area, as through satellite distribution.

3. Appearances

a. Appearances should be distributed as equitably as possible among all Ivy schools. While schools will not necessarily have the same number of appearances in a particular package every year, variations between schools should be minimized, and should be equalized over time. The League will have final approval over all appearances and over all schedules.

b. In practice, distribution of appearances is reviewed in terms of (i) total appearances over time across all League packages, and (ii) the availability of games on possible League broadcast dates after institutions have assigned games to institutional packages. [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

4. Financial arrangements

a. Financial arrangements should involve a fair opportunity for the League to share in any revenue possibilities, and at the least should involve no net cost for the League and its member institutions. Any net revenues will be payable directly to the League for distribution as the Council determines.

b. The League will retain general sponsor approval, and will not accept sponsorship associated with tobacco, beer or other alcoholic beverages, or gaming, or with firearms or sexually related themes. [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

5. Logistics

Logistics should place a minimal burden upon institutions and athletes. Specifically, changes in game dates or times will be entertained only in limited situations and with the approval of the institutions in question. For example, football kickoff times might be changed to no earlier than noon, with no changes made later than the preceding June 1 unless specifically approved by each institution, or the location of “traveling-partner basketball games might be reversed so as to facilitate televising from a particular location on a particular date.
6. Administration [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

a. League-wide packages will be negotiated and administered by the Ivy Office, subject to advice and agreement from the Committee on Administration, and will be submitted for approval to the Council or the Council Chair as appropriate.

b. No broadcast arrangements or package may use the Ivy League® name or logo without specific approval from the Ivy Office.

c. Wherever possible, package agreements should provide that the Council retains copyright ownership or co-ownership or other substantial post-broadcast distribution and use. For example, every effort should be made to preserve all live and archival streaming rights and opportunities and all institutional uses that do not compete with the producer’s regular commercial expectations (e.g., development and alumni office use, athletic department highlight films). [Ivy Office, Spring 2007]

d. In accordance with NCAA rules, the Ivy League shall not allow the use of student-athlete images, likenesses, or names in any manner contrary to NCAA rules by any licensee, sponsor, advertising entity, broadcast company or any other commercial organization with which an agreement is made. Names, images and likeness shall only be used in accordance with NCAA rules and consistent with all institutional policies.
PART X ADMISSIONS AND FINANCIAL AID [AS EDITED IN SUMMER 1994]

A. General Principles

1. Ivy Schools admit men and women, whether or not they are athletes, on the basis of their potential as students.

2. Only the Office of Admissions has authority to admit a student. Applicants should rely only on the formal communications from these offices described below and in the individual institutions’ admissions bulletins. Through its Office of Admissions, each institution has discretion to use probabilistic communications, as provided in Section X-B-3 below, as it believes will best assist it in achieving its institutional objectives and the Group’s objectives with regard to admission and matriculation of applicants who are recruited as potential varsity athletes.

3. The official award of aid may only be made at or subsequent to the time of admission. Only the Office of Financial Aid has the authority to award financial aid on behalf of the institution and applicants should rely only on formal communications from these Offices. No suggestion that financial aid may be available that comes from anyone else associated with the institution is binding on the institution. No applicant should consider or accept an offer of financial help from an alumnus or other representative of athletics interest, and any such offer should be reported immediately to the Office of Financial Aid. [Council; Spring 2001].

4. Ivy Group institutions follow the common policy that any financial aid to student-athletes shall be awarded solely on the basis of demonstrated economic need with no differentiation in amount, kind, composition or continuation based or dependent upon athletic status, ability or continued participation, provided that each institution shall apply its own standard of economic need. Applicants intending to participate in athletics are considered with all other applicants at the institution.

5. Individual Ivy institutions and the Ivy Group subscribe to the regulations of regional and national associations of which they are all members, including the NCAA and the

1 The Council’s 1979 Statement of Principles, as amended in 1999, provides as follows:

6. Student athletes should be generally representative of their class and admitted on the basis of academic promise and personal qualities as well as athletic abilities.

7. Student athletes must be admitted and notified of admissions status only by the admissions office, and must be awarded financial aid and notified of financial aid awards only by the office of financial aid.

8. Financial aid must be awarded on a basis of need, packaged in such a way that does not make the amount of grant or self-help contingent on athletic promise or performance, and awarded and renewed without regard to participation or performance in intercollegiate athletics.
ECAC (and, as previously applicable, the AIAW). Those groups regulate the awarding of financial aid to athletes and govern the recruitment of athletes; Ivy regulations generally are more restrictive than these regulations.

6. The Ivy Group does not participate in the voluntary national “letter-of-intent” program. A student’s Ivy eligibility is unaffected by contact with “letter” institutions or by acceptance of a “letter” at any of those institutions.

7. Pursuant to Section 1544 of the Higher Education Amendments of 1992 and Section 568 of the Improving America’s Schools Act of 1994, each Ivy Group institution will award students financial aid not awarded under the Higher Education Act of 1965 only on the basis of demonstrated financial need.

B. Common Admissions Procedures

1. Application dates

Applications normally should be received by mid-January. Applications must be received by mid-November to qualify for mid-December notification.

2. Notification dates and common reply date

a. An early April or late March date is selected annually as the common notification date for mailing official letters of admission. The common reply date is May 1.

b. Early Decision Plan (prior commitment to enroll) [Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania]: Admission and Financial Aid are offered in mid-December; once admitted under EDP, Applicants are expected to matriculate unless notified in writing of a release by the institution and all other applications must be withdrawn.

c. Single Choice Early Action Plan (no commitment to matriculate) [Harvard, Princeton, Yale]: Admission notice is sent mid-December. It is expected that students will limit the number of applications that they submit under the Single Choice Early Action and Early Decision Plans to one.

d. Institutions will not accept an application for admission from a prospective freshman student-athlete after the common notification date, and will not accept an application for admission from a prospective transfer student-athlete after June 15.

3. Early evaluation and applicant contact prior to common notification date

a. As determined by each institution, admissions offices may advise applicants before the common notification date, in writing, of the probability of admission; e.g. likely, possible, unlikely. Such notifications may be made to recruited student-athletes only from October 1 through March 15 of senior year in high school or subsequent years for applicants who have graduated from high school.

2 Letters are mailed beginning February 15 for the Cornell Schools of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Hotel Management, and Industrial and Labor Relations, and beginning in February for the School of Nursing at Penn.
b. Admissions offices may gather and review whatever materials they deem appropriate during the recruiting process, but an admissions office may not provide information to an athletic department about a student’s possible admissibility until after July 1 following the student’s junior year; admissions offices will continue to limit the number of instances in the summer between July 1 and September 1 when they do provide such information. Admissions offices should continue to take care that the information they provide to athletic departments does not suggest that positive admissions decisions have been made, however preliminarily, or that such decisions may be made. (Institutions may continue to provide estimated financial aid information before July 1 to students who are or may be recruited athletes in whatever ways such information is provided for all students, since such estimates often are essential for families in deciding whether to consider Ivy schools.) [Council, Spring 2006]

c. Institutions may issue official “probabilistic” communications only in writing, from the office of admission. Such letters will have the effect of letters of admission, to be confirmed on the common notification date, subject to revocation only on the same terms as letters of admission. (Such communications given by coaches, whether orally or in writing, do not constitute binding institutional commitments.) An applicant who receives one or more such written communications and who has made a decision to matriculate at one institution is encouraged (but not required) to notify all other institutions, and to withdraw all other applications, as promptly as possible.

d. In deciding whether or when the admissions office may offer a written probabilistic communication, an institution (through a coach) may inquire about the level of commitment to or interest in the institution of an applicant who is a recruited student-athlete, but an applicant may not be required to withdraw or not make other applications, or to refrain from visiting another institution, as a condition for receiving written likely communication or for a coach’s support in the admissions process, or an estimate of financial aid eligibility. In addition coaches may not request that candidates not share estimates of financial aid eligibility with other schools.

e. Coaches must not communicate or imply to recruits, families, or counselors that favorable admissions outcomes have been decided by an admissions office or will be decided by an admissions office at any point in the future. Coaches must state clearly to recruits, families, and counselors that admissions decisions will be communicated only by official written notification from admissions offices on or after October 1 (i.e., by “likely letters” or by admissions office notification in Early Action, Early Decision or “regular” processes), and that no other indication of a positive admissions result is or should be considered reliable. This requirement applies whether or not an admissions office has reviewed any part of the student’s file and/or whether the athletic department has any reason to believe a favorable admissions decision may be forthcoming. [Council, Spring 2006]

f. An institution ordinarily may send a “likely” probabilistic communication letter to a candidate (whether or not the applicant is a recruited athlete) only if the applicant has submitted all of the materials which the institution requires in order to make an admissions decision. Infrequently and for compelling reasons, an institution may send such a “likely” communication that does not have “all” of those materials, as provided below, but only if: (i) the other materials in the applicant’s file at that time provide the institution with a clear basis for making a binding positive admissions decision about the applicant, consistent with the institution’s general standards for making such decisions; and (ii) the material in question is submitted before a final letter of admission is issued. In these circumstances, a “likely” communication may be based on a file that includes an official application, an official transcript, the SAT or ACT examination, one essay, and at least one recommendation from the student’s school (either teacher recommendation or administrator recommendation). [Council, Spring 2005]

g. The Admissions Committee intends that all likely letters will be issued under rigorous standards, and that the “infrequent and compelling reasons” caveat will not be used to relax those standards. The Committee believes that it is preferable to rely on each other’s common understanding of our intentions, and common commitment to those intentions, than to try to use more specific definitions. The Committee notes specifically that institutional testing requirements (other than for SAT) vary greatly among the institutions and sometimes among admitting units within an institution. The text is intended to hold each institution to a high standard as to testing that must be presented before a likely letter is issued, as measured against that institution’s own SAT/ACT testing requirements. The Committee will do an annual evaluation of the use of likely letters for recruited athletes, including how many likely letters each institution issues to athletes, both in total and without “all” required materials. [Council, Spring 2005]

h. Each admissions office and athletic department will re-emphasize these rules to coaches in joint briefings at the beginning of each recruiting cycle, using materials provided by the Ivy Office. These briefings ordinarily should take place through in-person meetings with coaches before June 1. It is especially important to emphasize these rules to coaches who are new to the Ivy League and/or who have not previously recruited in the Ivy League. Institutions will post on institutional websites the Memorandum to “Interested Students” which is at §X-B-3-i, which also will be posted on the Ivy League website. As instructed by the Ivy Office, each institution will confirm annually how and when it has had the required briefings for coaches, and will report annually about its review of recruits’ credentials for its athletic departments after July 1 and before September 1. [Council, Spring 2006]

i. “Interested Students” Educational Materials for Posting on Ivy League and Institutional Websites
The Ivy League Office will provide educational materials as approved by the Committees for posting on institutional websites and other appropriate distribution.
4. Forced commitment

Ivy schools may respond at any time beginning October 1 should a non-Ivy school offer admission to a recruited athlete with a reply date prior to our common Ivy notification date. A response may be made based on written evidence of the offer (e.g., a copy of an official offer of a grant-in-aid, with a reply date, or a letter from a guidance counselor), or on confirmation of an offer to the admissions office by a secondary school counselor.

5. Fee waivers

Each school will determine its policy on waiving application fees in conjunction with its Financial Aid Officer. Application fees for student-athletes may be waived only on the basis of financial need. No final decision on an application should be announced until fee waiver is resolved.

6. Contact Moratorium Around Common Date:

a. It should be clearly understood that the notification of admission and the awarding of financial aid is made only by the respective Admission and Financial Aid Office. No coach, alumnus or alumna, faculty member or other interested party may properly notify any candidate of his or her admission or financial aid, even if privy to advance notice about the decision.

b. No coach, alumnus or alumna, faculty member or other institutional representative may contact any applicant (including non-athletes) during the period 48 hours prior to 5:00 pm (Eastern time) of the common notification date until 8:00 am (Eastern time) on the day following the common notification date. The moratorium applies to all applicants, except those who were accepted as “early decision” or transfer applicants. Correspondence may be mailed to applicants with regular delivery during the moratorium. Electronic mail may not be sent. Institutional representatives may respond to telephone calls and open communications with prospects in chatrooms and facebook starting at 5:00 pm (Eastern) on the day the decisions are released.

c. Visits, both “official” and “unofficial,” may not be arranged by athletic staff or alumni admissions volunteers during the moratorium. A candidate who contacts an institution prior to an “unofficial” visit planned during the moratorium should be informed of the moratorium and encouraged to visit at another time.

d. Despite the best institutional efforts, some candidates may continue to come to campuses on their own during the moratorium period. In such cases institutional personnel and enrolled student athletes should “exhibit normal civility excluding any attempts to recruit the prospect”.

e. Coaches are permitted to evaluate high school contests, all-star games, and AAU events during the moratorium for purposes of evaluation only, consistent with applicable NCAA “contact” and “evaluation” restrictions.
7. Contact by Ivy League Coaches after notification of formal commitment to another Ivy League Institution:

a. Institutional representatives may contact and discuss enrollment with a prospective student until he or she is accepted under the Early Decision Plan of another institution, or for Early Action/Regular Decision applicants until the common reply date. Upon learning that an applicant has been accepted under the Early Decision Plan, or has declined enrollment at their institution, coaches may not initiate further contact nor make any attempt to alter the decision.

b. Under rare circumstances Early Decision candidates will be released from their commitment to attend, and coaches at other Ivy schools may have contact with these candidates only with written permission from the Dean of Admissions, who will grant permission only after confirming with the Dean of the original institution that the candidate has been released. [Council, Spring 2011]

c. Institutional representatives may contact and discuss enrollment with a prospective student until the common reply date. Upon learning that an applicant has declined enrollment, no further contact may be initiated nor may any attempt be made to alter decision.

C. Financial Aid Policies and Procedures for Student-Athletes

1. Purpose and Policy

(a) Member institutions agree that the primary purpose of a college financial aid program for all student-athletes is to provide financial assistance to student-athletes who without such aid would be unable to attend that institution.

(b) Ivy Group institutions follow the common policy that any financial aid to student-athletes shall be awarded solely on the basis of demonstrated economic need with no differentiation in amount, kind, composition or continuation based or dependent upon athletic status, ability or continued participation, provided that each institution shall apply its own standard of economic need. Applicants intending to participate in athletics are considered with all other applicants at the institution.

2. Institutional Financial Aid Programs [Revised Spring 2010, Council]

(a) These rules apply to all institutional financial assistance.

(b) All financial aid must be need-based.

(c) It is permissible for institutions to offer need-based aid programs that provide enhanced financial aid awards to select students, including student-athletes.¹

¹ Historically, programs that provide preferred financial aid packages to students based on circumstances other than need (e.g., residents from particular states or towns) have been deemed permissible, however few such programs exist currently at Ivy institutions and development of new programs of this sort is not anticipated or endorsed.
(d) Enhanced need-based financial aid from a program that is broadly available to all students based on factors that are unrelated to athletics ability or participation may be awarded to athletes on the same basis as other students, as long as all of the following requirements are satisfied:

1. Eligibility, selection and participation for or in any such program may not be based or conditioned, in any way or to any degree, upon present or future athletic activity.

2. Past athletics participation or accomplishment may be considered only on the same terms as participation or accomplishment in any other extracurricular activity; athletics status must not be given preference over the other factors considered for the enhanced program.

3. Athletics participation or accomplishment may not be the sole or primary criterion in eligibility, selection or participation, for any particular student-athlete.

4. There must be open competition for any enhanced financial aid program; the athletics department and coaches should neither have nor appear to have any special role or participation in the selection process. If any athletics department personnel are permitted to nominate or advocate for students then all relevant campus constituencies must be able to nominate or advocate for students.

5. There must not be fixed numbers (quotas) or awards designated specifically for athletes.

6. Athletes’ participation in the program (as a group or from any individual sport) may not, across any representative period of time, represent a higher percentage than athletes’ representation in the institutional undergraduate student body population as a whole.

3. Financial Aid Estimates and Communications with Prospective Student-Athletes
   [Revised Fall 2009, Council]

(a) Institutions may provide estimated financial aid information to students who are or may be recruited athletes in whatever ways such information is provided for all students, since such estimates often are essential for families in deciding whether to consider Ivy schools. [Council, Spring 2006]

(b) Financial aid estimates may be provided only by the financial aid office, and must be communicated in writing to the student-athlete applicant or prospective applicant. Such estimates must include a realistic yearly budget, the composition of the award itself and other explanatory material on the individual institution’s financial aid policies.
(c) A prospective student-athlete may not be required to make a matriculation commitment as a condition for receiving a financial aid estimate. It is left to institutional discretion as to how many financial aid estimates it will provide to prospective students. In situations where those are limited based on a formal institutional policy, decisions on which prospects receive estimates must not be intended to interfere with any prospect’s opportunity to share the information with another institution.

(d) Institutional personnel may not restrict prospective student-athletes’ ability to compare financial aid offers from other institutions. Specifically institutional personnel shall not: (i) counsel prospective athletes to rely on web estimators, rather than to seek institutional financial aid estimates, or (ii) request that prospective athletes not share financial aid estimates or other award information that they receive, so that other institutions will not have official estimates to which they can “respond”.

(e) With regard to “enhanced” financial aid programs of the type described in Section X-C-2 above, coaches may only give descriptions of eligibility criteria and the general nature of awards; they may in no way suggest that any particular prospective student-athlete will receive such an award, that receipt of such an award will be based on the student’s athletic ability or participation, or that anyone other than the office for whom decisions are made for all students (e.g., admissions, financial aid) will make the decision as to who receives such an award.

4. Oversight by Financial Aid Office

a. At each institution, a financial aid officer will meet annually with all members of the Athletics Department to discuss financial aid procedures, policies and problems, and to make clear the terms and spirit of the Ivy Group Agreement.

b. Each Office of Financial Aid is responsible for instructing institutional coaches, both verbally and in writing, about how they may discuss institutional financial aid programs with prospective student-athletes, whether generally or with regard to possible individual awards, consistent with the limits set out in Section X-A-3 above, which indicates that only the Office of Financial Aid has the authority to award financial aid on behalf of the institution and applicants should rely only on formal communications from these Offices.

c. Each institution is responsible for monitoring the selection and participation of athletes for or in any institutional financial aid program and for providing such reports on these matters as the Committee on Financial Aid or the Executive Director may call for.

d. Institutions must submit to the Ivy League Office, in advance of implementation, any new financial aid programs or modifications to current programs that consider athletics participation or accomplishment, for a determination as to whether the program is in compliance with Ivy League rules.
5. Institutional Control

a. Any award or offer of financial assistance to a student-athlete applicant that may be used only at a particular institution (including but not limited to scholarships funded or awarded through recognized institutional alumni clubs), must be administered by the institution’s Financial Aid Office in accordance with Section X-A-3 above, meaning that the final decision as to amount and recipient must rest with the Director of Financial Aid. If such an award or offer is not administered by the institution’s Financial Aid office, it is subject to NCAA regulation regarding financial aid from outside sources.

b. It is an institutional decision whether any such award or offer may be used to affect the composition of any individual’s financial aid “packaging”.

6. Outside Scholarships

a. NCAA rules limit the types of financial aid not administered by the institution that may be received by student-athletes. So that compliance with these terms may be confirmed, every student-athlete must report to the institution the details of any outside financial aid, on a form issued by the Ivy Office.

b. It is an institutional decision whether a financial aid award from a source outside the institution may be used to affect the composition of any individual’s financial aid “packaging”.

c. A student-athlete may receive outside aid from a source that has a “controlling alumni interest” only under specified conditions. A “controlling alumni interest” means that the awarding individual, organization or donor is, or is effectively controlled by, one or more “representatives of an institution’s athletics interests”, as defined by NCAA rules (this definition does not apply to scholarships funded or awarded through recognized institutional alumni clubs; see Section X-C-4-a above). In such a case, each of the following conditions must be met:

(1) Past athletic participation or accomplishment as such may not be the sole or major criterion in eligibility, selection or participation for or in any such aid program; past athletic activity may be a criterion when it is considered on the same terms as participation or accomplishment in any other extracurricular activity. Eligibility, selection and participation for or in any such program may not be based or conditioned, in any way or to any degree, upon present or future athletic activity.

(2) The student must be permitted to use the award at any Ivy school.

(3) The award source must be publicized in a way that makes it generally accessible to the public.

(4) The award must be confirmed to comply with NCAA rules.
D. Athletic Recruiting Rules

1. Ivy Group procedures

The Deans of Admission administer or set all policies in regard to recruitment. When such policies concern the intercollegiate athletic program, such decisions will be made in concert with the Policy Committee and the Committee on Administration. Should disagreements arise concerning the application of any such policy, the matter will be referred to the Executive Director and then to the Policy Committee.

2. Coaches’ recruiting activities

a. The general Ivy principle is that application materials should only go to those prospective students who have expressed an interest in receiving them.

b. Coaches may obtain the names of prospects by correspondence or contact with high school coaches.

c. Scouting services may be subscribed to, but without institutional endorsement and only from alumni or “friends” funds. Institutions shall take reasonable steps to avoid being portrayed as endorsing a particular service.

d. All NCAA recruiting regulations apply to all Ivy institutions’ varsity sports, whether or not governed by NCAA rules and whether or not an Ivy championship is determined in that sport, except that NCAA “dead periods” apply only to sports governed by NCAA rules.

3. Campus visits by prospective students

a. The institution cannot pay for the transportation of a student to a campus or lodging for the student’s parent(s), except from a fund to which alumni/ae and friends may contribute at the institution [and for which the institution is “exclusively and entirely responsible,” see NCAA B. 13.15.1.], except when funds must be used from other sources in order to fulfill institutional responsibilities for gender equity. “Pooling” by two or more alumni/ae in regard to hosting an individual’s campus visit may be done only through such funds. [Administration, Spring 1995]

b. Each prospective student shall be limited to one such visit to any institution.

c. No excessive entertainment of prospective students is allowed either on or off campus, as governed more specifically by NCAA rules.

d. Students who are recruited athletes may visit Ivy campuses when invited as members of other student groups, either at the invitation of the institution or as guests of any organized alumni group, without these visits counting as “paid visits.”
To assure compliance with NCAA “visit” requirements, as well as with NCAA and Ivy obligations to document that compliance, the following forms or records must be used and must be provided to the Ivy Office as indicated:

1. In accordance with NCAA and Ivy regulations, visits shall be documented for each prospective student athlete who makes either an official or unofficial visit, including but not limited to: name, year of high school graduation, high school attended, home address, sport, visit dates and times of arrival and departure, student host if applicable, any lodging, meal, entertainment, and/or tickets provided by institution. At the end of the prospect’s visit, the form must be signed by a designated athletics officer; that signature verifies that the visit described therein complies with all relevant Ivy and NCAA rules.

2. Ivy rules require that transportation costs for “official visits” be funded from non-institutional sources and that each institution report on the number of official visits annually to the Executive Director [Administration, October 1988]. Reports should be made annually by July 15, using Form X-B, (provided annually), and must include the certifications indicated as to sources of funds, single official visits for all prospects, compliance with the football and basketball official visit limits, and “visit” rules generally.

4. Specific Issues

a. All Ivy personnel, including alumni/ae volunteers, should promote their own institution and under no conditions criticize or downgrade other Ivy institutions.

b. There can be no organized tryouts in the presence of Ivy coaches. In accordance with NCAA regulations, visiting prospective student-athletes may use the athletic facilities of an institution as long as it is not with the intent of demonstrating the prospect’s ability to a coach or team member. The Ivy League does not allow On-Campus evaluations permitted under NCAA rules (13.11.2.1)

c. Ivy schools may not initiate any contact with enrolled students at other institutions [see NCAA B.13.1.1.3 for NCAA requirements as to permission from the other institution after the student has initiated contact].

5. Violations

The Deans of Admissions address violations of these rules. Any suspected violation of Ivy recruiting practices should be reported to the Dean of Admissions and the Director of Athletics so that it can be discussed with the institution in question.

a. Ivy institutions have agreed to cooperate fully in such matters.

b. It is important that all questions of possible violations be reported, to avoid the spread of unfounded rumors and to preserve the spirit of mutual trust and cooperation which is the basis of the Ivy Group.
c. Should discussion between institutions at this level not resolve the matter, it will be referred to the Ivy Office.

d. Suspected violations of NCAA recruiting regulations should be brought to the attention of the Ivy Office.

E. Joint Statement for Candidates on Common Ivy League Admission Procedure

[intended for all applicants and included on all Ivy League admission office websites]

The Ivy League is an association of eight institutions of higher education, established in 1954 primarily for the purpose of fostering amateurism in athletics. Although the Ivy League institutions are similar in many respects, each member institution makes its own independent admission decisions according to its own particular admissions policy.

In that the transition between secondary school and institutions of higher education is complex, the institutions have agreed to simplify the process through more uniform admissions procedures. Below is a summary of the procedures under which we are operating, which are shared to provide prospective students with a better understanding of the process.

1. Timing of Decisions

Ivy League institutions mail admission decision letters twice annually, in mid-December and late March. Those who wish a decision in December must apply by early to mid-November and complete their applications with supporting materials shortly thereafter. A student may not file more than one Early Decision or Early Action application within the Ivy League.

a. Early Application - December Notification

Under December Notification, an applicant may be notified that he or she has been granted or denied admission or that a final decision has been deferred until the late March notification date. Two plans are offered according to individual institutional policy.

i. Early Decision

The College Board-approved Early Decision Plan, which is offered by Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, and the University of Pennsylvania, requires a prior commitment to matriculate. Financial aid awards for those qualifying for financial assistance will normally be announced in full detail at the same time as the admission decisions. An applicant receiving admission and an adequate financial award under the Early Decision Plan will be required to accept that offer of admission and withdraw all applications to other colleges or universities. All Ivy League institutions will honor any required commitment to matriculate that has been made to another college under this plan.

ii. Early Action

A Single Choice Early Action Plan is offered by Harvard, Princeton, and Yale. This plan does not require a commitment to matriculate, and students may apply to other colleges under those colleges’ regular admission programs (spring notification of final admission decision) but not to another private institution’s Early Action or Early Decision program.
b. Regular Decision – Notification in the Spring

i. Common Notification Date
On a common date, usually in late March, applicants to Ivy League institutions will be notified of admission decisions and financial aid awards. (Letters are mailed beginning in February for the Schools of Hotel Administration, and Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell, and beginning in February for the School of Nursing at Penn.)

i. Common Reply Date
A candidate admitted under the regular decision process to any of the Ivy League institutions may take until the Common Reply Date of May 1 to announce his or her decision to accept or decline an offer of admission. By that date all admitted candidates must affirm in writing their single choice.

iii. Waiting Lists
The preceding paragraph does not preclude students from remaining on active waiting lists and withdrawing promptly from their original college choice upon receiving subsequent waiting list acceptance to another institution. However, the Ivy League institutions reserve their right to rescind acceptance decisions from candidates who make commitments to and who hold confirmed places at more than one institution concurrently. Students who choose to remain on an active waiting list after May 1 will receive a final response no later than July 1.

2. Early Evaluation
As determined by each institution, admissions offices may choose to advise certain applicants in writing of the probability of admission (e.g., likely, possible, unlikely), no earlier than October 1 of the prospect’s senior year in high school. Likely letters will have the effect of letters of admission, in that as long as the applicant sustains the academic and personal record reflected in the completed application, the institution will send a formal admission offer on the appropriate notification date. An applicant who receives one or more such written communications and who has made a decision to matriculate at one institution is encouraged (but not required) to notify all other institutions, and to withdraw all other applications, as promptly as possible.

a. Likely Letters to Student-Athletes
From October 1 through March 15 of senior year, an admissions office may issue probabilistic communications, in writing, to recruited student-athlete applicants who have submitted all required application materials.

b. Preliminary Feedback
Ivy League Admissions Offices will provide feedback to coaches on an individual student’s application no earlier than July 1 following the junior year in high school.

c. Communications with Coaches Coaches may communicate to the Admissions Office their support for candidates who are athletic recruits. Candidates are encouraged to ask coaches directly about the coach’s level of interest in them as potential athletic recruits, and should be prepared for coaches to inquire about the candidate’s level of interest as well. Ivy League coaches may indicate the extent to which a candidate’s interest will affect their willingness to support an application, so that candidates can make informed decisions about potential opportunities.

Please note that while a coach may ask whether or not his or her school is a candidate’s top choice, a coach may not require a candidate to refrain from visiting or applying to other schools, or to withdraw applications to other schools, as a condition for support during the admissions process.

Only the Admissions Office has the authority to make or communicate an admissions decision. Communications regarding admissions status provided by coaches, whether orally or in writing, do not constitute binding institutional commitments.

3. Financial Aid Policies

   a. Need-Based Financial Aid
      All the Ivy League institutions follow the common policy that any financial aid for student-athletes will be awarded and renewed on the sole basis of economic need with no differentiation in amount or in kind (e.g. packaging) based on athletic ability or participation, provided that each school shall apply its own standard of economic need. The official award of aid may only be made at or subsequent to the time of admission.

   b. Awarding of Financial Aid
      Only the Office of Financial Aid has the authority to award financial aid on behalf of the institution, and applicants should rely only on formal communications from these offices. No suggestion that financial aid may be available that comes from anyone else associated with the institution is binding on the institution. No applicant should consider or accept an offer of financial help from an alumnus, and any such offer should be reported immediately to the Office of Financial Aid.

4. Participating Institutions

   - Brown University  Harvard University
   - Columbia University  University of Pennsylvania
   - Cornell University  Princeton University
   - Dartmouth College  Yale University

F. NCAA Recruiting Elements [Ivy Office, 1989]

1. NCAA rules prohibit representatives of athletics interest from contacting or evaluating prospective student-athletes. See NCAA Bylaw 13.

2. Institutional representatives and Ivy activities
   a. The major provision applicable to Ivy Group activity permits involvement of “representatives” in “[o]ff-campus recruiting contacts made by an institution’s regular admissions program representative and directed at all prospective students, including nonathletes”; B.13.1.2.2(a).

b. This text offers sufficient opportunity for the activities in which Ivy schools might wish to engage, provided they are undertaken in a structure through which alumni are “regular admissions program representatives.” All Ivy schools have such structures in the “alumni schools” committees that conduct interviews nationally. Applicants who are “prospects” may be interviewed through these groups, and alumni who are “representatives” may interview them.

c. The essential elements of this approach are that:

(1) Non-athletic department personnel contact of prospective student-athletes should occur only through regularly-constituted alumni interview groups.

(2) All persons who engage in such contact should belong to those groups.

(3) Athletes should not be treated differently from any other applicants in the assignment of interviewers or in any other way.

(4) Organizing memoranda and membership records should provide that members of “friends” groups who engage in recruiting do so as regular members of the alumni interview groups.

d. Any “contact” that is not undertaken as part of the official admissions program must not be for recruiting purposes, as provided in NCAA 13.1.2.2.

3. To assure compliance with NCAA visit requirements, as well as with NCAA and Ivy obligations to document that compliance, a detailed form recording expenses provided must be completed for each prospect who visits campus.

4. Ivy rules require that transportation costs for official visits be funded from non-institutional sources and that each institution report on the number of official visits annually to the Executive Director.
APPENDIX A

I. Text of the 1954 Presidents Agreement
   (Originally released February 11, 1954)

   Ivy Group Agreement

   In November, 1945, the undersigned institutions entered into an agreement regarding football, with the purpose of maintaining the values of the game in the service of higher education. In order to extend to all competitive athletics in which they mutually participate the benefits derived from this agreement, these institutions here affirm and revise their agreement as follows:

   I. The subscribing institutions constitute themselves, for the purposes covered by this agreement, members of a group to be known as “The Ivy Group.”

   II. The Group reaffirm the principle that in each institution the academic authorities should control athletics.

   III. A. The Group affirm their conviction that under proper conditions intercollegiate competition in organized athletics offers desirable development and recreation for players and a healthy focus of collegiate loyalty. These conditions require that the players shall be truly representative of the student body and not composed of a group of specially recruited athletes. They further require that undue strain upon players and coaches be eliminated and that they be permitted to enjoy the game as participants in a form of recreational competition rather than as professional performers in public spectacles. In the total life of the campus, emphasis upon intercollegiate competition must be kept in harmony with the essential educational purposes of the institution.

   B. The Group conclude that these conditions and requirements can best be fulfilled by denying to the fullest possible extent external pressures for competitive extremes.

   C. To this end, the Group will foster intra-group athletic competition in all sports. No member institution, however, shall necessarily field a team in every sport.

   D. The Group approve a round-robin schedule in football and the principle of round-robin schedules in as many sports as practicable.

   IV. The Group establish the following policies to govern intercollegiate athletic activities of its members. Interpretations may be made by the appropriate committees.

   A. Eligibility Rules

   1. No student shall be eligible for a varsity team unless he has previously filed with the appropriate authorities of his institution a written statement in which he agrees to abide by the policies and spirit of the Ivy Group agreement.
2. No student shall be eligible for a varsity team until he has completed satisfactorily an academic year’s work at the institution he is to represent.

3. No student shall be eligible for a varsity team in more than three different academic years. A year in which a student is ineligible for scholastic or disciplinary reasons shall nevertheless be counted as one of the three academic years.

4. Only undergraduate students shall be eligible for a varsity team.

5. No student shall be eligible unless he is in good scholastic standing as determined by the standards set by the faculty of his institution and unless he is enrolled in an academic program leading to a recognized degree and is making normal academic progress, both quantitatively and qualitatively, toward the degree.

6. The members of the Group reaffirm their prohibition of athletic scholarships. Athletes shall be admitted as students and awarded financial aid only on the basis of the same academic standards and economic need as are applied to all other students.

7. No student shall be eligible who has received financial support from any source except (i) from personal or family resources; (ii) in return for services (other than of an athletic character) rendered through employment at normal wages; (iii) from financial aid awarded by or with the specific approval of the regular academic authority of the institution in which the player is a student; (iv) from Government grants to war service veterans or regularly enrolled members of ROTC units.

8. No student entering after September 1, 1953 shall be eligible whose secondary school education was subsidized or whose post-college education is promised by an institution or group of individuals not closely related to the family as a consideration for his attending the particular institution.

B. Administrative Regulations

1. Scheduling

   a. In order that schedule commitments may not be made too far in advance, it is agreed that:

      (1) Football schedules shall not be made more than two years in advance of the current calendar year;

      (2) Schedules in all other sports shall not be made prior to December of the college year preceding that in which the schedules will be played.
b. Games involving extended class absences from the institution shall not be scheduled.

2. Length of Season

a. Football practice for all institutions in the Group shall not start earlier than a date to be agreed upon each year by the Administrative Committee, which may not be earlier than September 1 in any year. The Administrative Committee shall establish a formula for the start of practice in other sports and shall establish limitations governing out-of-season practice wherever desirable.

b. The Administrative Committee shall establish a maximum number of games and practice games or scrimmages against outside teams in football and basketball and in other sports wherever desirable.

c. No football practice shall take place at any time except during the fall season and prior thereto as provided above in (a).

d. The members of the Group shall not engage in post season games or any other contests designed to settle sectional or other championships. (NOTE: National Collegiate Athletic Association, Eastern College Athletic Conference, A.A.U. competitions and international competitions such as the games, meets and matches with Oxford and Cambridge Universities shall not be considered as post-season games or contests within the meaning of the above rule.)

3. All-Star Games and Coaching Clinics

a. No player attending the institutions composing the Ivy Group who has played on the team of his institution shall participate in post-season or pre-season games, such as All-Star games, [*] and no coach shall undertake to coach teams entered in such contests.

b. The coaches and players of institutions in the Group shall not participate in clinics for secondary school coaches or players, nor shall these institutions or their players or coaches participate in the holding of high school All-Star [*] football games.

[*] NOTE: In April 1955, the Policy Committee approved the recommendation of the Ivy Group Administration Committee to insert “in any sport” at this point in 3a. and to delete the word football in 3b.

4. Endorsement of Commercial Products by Athletic Staff Members

v. The Group establish the following three inter-institutional committees for the purpose of carrying out the cooperative purposes of this agreement.

A. Committee on Administration

Each institution shall name a representative to the Committee on Administration who shall be the responsible administrative officer dealing with the intercollegiate athletics at the institution. It shall be the responsibility of this committee to handle the various operational aspects of matters dealt with in this agreement other than those affecting the eligibility of players and the establishment of basic policies. In particular, it shall be the responsibility of this committee to keep the conditions under which intercollegiate sports are conducted under close and constant review and appraisal and to promote inter-institutional cooperation designed to effectuate the spirit and intent of this agreement.

The Committee on Administration shall have a chairman and a vice-chairman who shall also serve as secretary of the Committee. The chairmanship of the Committee shall be held in annual rotation by the representatives of the member institutions in the order indicated in paragraph V sub-paragraph 4. The chairman shall set the date and place of the regular meetings and of any special meetings requested by the representatives of any three institutions.

Each institution agrees to furnish the Committee on Administration such information affecting the organization, support, and conduct of intercollegiate sports, other than with respect to player eligibility and basic policies, as the Committee may deem necessary to the effective discharge of its purpose.

It is expected that the Committee on Administration will keep all matters coming within the purview of this agreement, other than eligibility and basic policies, under review and will from time to time make recommendations to the Presidents’ Policy Committee with respect to such matters and any other such matters of general concern as the proper place and treatment of scouting, athletic publicity, operating budget and ticket practices, and the control of “extra-curricular” activity of coaches, such as broadcasting, telecasting, or writing of publication on the subject of athletics. The members of the group agree to abide by any decisions within the purview of the Committee on Administration which are approved by a majority of the eight institutions on the committee.

B. Committee on Eligibility

Each institution shall name a representative to the Committee on Eligibility who shall be a fulltime member of the academic faculty of the institution. It shall be the responsibility of the Committee on Eligibility to administer rules of eligibility established by agreement of the participating institutions. The committee’s administration of these rules shall be with due regard to the circumstances in individual cases and at all times in a manner calculated to promote the amateur spirit. Exceptions to the eligibility policies established by the group may be allowed in individual cases in which the circumstances are unusual and the Committee on Eligibility is of the opinion that the exception will be in accord with the spirit and objectives of this agreement.

The Committee on Eligibility shall have a chairman and a vice-chairman who shall also serve as secretary of the Committee. The chairmanship of the Committee shall be held in annual rotation by the faculty representatives of the member institutions in the order indicated in paragraph V, sub paragraph D. The chairman shall set the date and place of the regular meetings and of any special meeting requested by the representatives of any three institutions.

Each institution agrees to provide complete information to the Eligibility Committee concerning all candidates for freshman and varsity football teams and in other sports on request. It is expected that the information required by the Committee will largely relate to admission records, course grades, academic standing, prior academic connections, if any, and financial aid. The Committee shall be free at all times to request from member institutions whatever information it deems necessary to the successful discharge of its duties, and it is the spirit and intent of this agreement that any questions or rumors concerning the status of any player in connection with matters covered by this agreement shall be made the subject of full and frank discussion in the Committee on Eligibility in order that the utmost mutual confidence and respect may be maintained on these matters between members of the Group.

It is expected that the Committee on Eligibility will keep all matters coming within the purview of this agreement, including particularly eligibility questions, under constant review and shall from time to time make recommendations to the Presidents’ Policy Committee with respect to any changes in policies deemed to be advisable. It shall prepare detailed rules necessary for the effective administration of the policies of eligibility agreed to by the Group. These detailed rules shall be invariably reported to all member institutions promptly and formally. Decision of the Eligibility Committee, including rulings on the eligibility of individual players, shall be settled by a majority of the eight institutions on the Committee, and such decisions shall be enforced by the proper institutional authorities.

c. Presidents’ Policy Committee

The Presidents’ Policy Committee shall consist of the eight Presidents of the subscribing institutions. This Committee shall have full and final responsibility for the determination of all agreed policies of the Group and with respect to the organization and operation of the Committees on Administration and Eligibility.

The Presidents’ Policy Committee may from time to time request the Committees on Administration and Eligibility to study and report on specific policy problems, and may from time to time invite either or both Committees to meet with the Presidents’ Policy Committee.

The Presidents’ Policy Committee shall have a chairman and a vice-chairman who shall also serve as secretary of the Committee. The chairmanship of the Committee shall be held in annual rotation by the Presidents of the member institutions proceeding in the alphabetical order of the institutions. The vice-chairman shall be the member of the Committee next in line for the chairmanship. The Committee shall meet at least once a year at a time and place to be arranged by the Chairman. Special meetings may be called at any time upon the initiative of the Chairman or by the request of three members of the Committee.

The Presidents’ Policy Committee shall take decisions on all matters within its responsibility by the affirmative vote of six members of the Group. The Committee may, upon the request of the chairman, consider and act upon a matter by mail or telegraphic vote, provided that the vote is unanimous.

The terms of office of the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman (who shall also serve as Secretary) of each of the three committees shall begin January first. The officers shall serve on each post for one year, the sequence to be keyed to the alphabetical rotation of the Presidents’ Policy Committee in accordance with the following table:

It is the spirit of this agreement that it shall be carried out through wise and flexible administration and in a setting of mutual respect and confidence among the members of the Group as institutions having a common dedication to the purposes and principles of higher education.

This agreement shall become effective upon the prior approval thereof by all the governing boards of the subscribing institutions as attested to by the signatures of the Presidents. A subscribing member may withdraw from the Group upon giving written notice of such intention two years in advance. Amendments of the agreement pertaining to membership shall be made only with the approval of all the institutions acting through their respective governing boards.
