Taglines: This is the story of the world's secret that only me and she knows. Weathered with your (tenki no ko) Review: Weathered with you is another great to watch Japanese animated film, and it's obvious that only Japanese animators can make a film like this and make it work, each scene is beautiful and detailed maxin and it makes me wonder how can people be able to make staff like this so clean and gorgeous to look at, characters in a film are fully developed and I end up on their side and to take care of them until the end, I just wished that we would see some more staff in a story about controlling weather and not just making clouds go away . I think that writers don't have a bigger idea what to do with her abilities and they satisfy themselves with simple and most obvious one ,weathered with you is beautifully animated movie that fans of this work will appreciate it . .
