The First National Bank of Toppenish, Washington was capitalized at $25,000 in 1905 when it was granted charter 7767. The original officers of the bank were: F. A. Williams, president; E. J. Jaeger, vice-president; with H. M. Gilbert, cashier. The bank was still doing business in 1934 when only $6,250 was reported in outstanding notes.

In this latest supplement we are pleased to list 149 previously unreported notes that have surfaced since supplement VIII appeared in PM number 84, page 338. Of the 149 notes listed, 42 are from heretofore unreported chartered banks. These notes are indicated by having an asterisk placed to the left of the charter number, and will be removed from the permanent record of unreported charters in the upcoming revised table that will appear in Paper Money in the near future.

Chronology of a Security Printer

Goes Lithographing Celebrates Centennial

Through the intercession of Larry Adams, Mr. Robert W. Goes has made available the following chronology of the Goes Lithographing Co. in connection with its centennial being celebrated in 1979. Those milestones which are of special interest to collectors of security paper are:

1879 — Goes & Quensel is organized. Corporate charter issued, and Charles B. Goes became the founding president.

1880 — Lithographer to the trade, throughout the country, for letterheads, envelopes, invoices ... providing quality and service, which laid the foundation for the trade's acceptance of the stock lines created through the ensuing years.

1884 — The first stock certificate blanks were published. This was the foundation for all of the present Goes stock lines sold to printers, stationers and office suppliers.

1890 — The company name is changed to Goes Lithographing Company.

1898 — The first calendar pads and an occasional lithographed art print were produced; expanding the markets sold by Goes to include wall decor, advertising producers and distributors.

1902 — Plant was moved to 42 West 61st Street, Chicago, the present location of the main office and production facilities. Now over 100,000 square feet. This move was made just before the "offset" revolution in the lithographic industry. The plant's saw-tooth roof construction, for north light, was a first of its kind. The plant became a showplace, as well as a center for students and craftsmen of the lithographic processes.

1904 — Posters for circus and vaudeville promotions are published extensively through 1916.

1906 — The first modern Harris offset press using zinc plates, was installed in the Goes plant opening the modern era of offset lithography. This was a sister press to the one that, on its 60th anniversary, in 1966, was accepted by the regents of the Smithsonian Institution and displayed there.

1907 — Goes published a complete line of lithographed blanks, including stock certificates, bond and charter forms.
