Both Warren and Foster worked with Dion on her previous English-language album. The song is a downtempo pop ballad in which the singer thanks a loyal loved one for guiding, encouraging, and protecting her throughout her life, and making her who she is today. Warren said the song was a tribute to her father. Been You Loved Me was the theme song of the 1996 film Up Close & Personal, starring Robert Redford and Michelle Pfeiffer. However, the song was not included in the film's soundtrack. Be and You Loved Me was released as the first single from Falling Into You in North America, South America and Asia in February 1996. Published as the second single in Australia (April 1996) and Europe (May 1996), 1996), Falling into you. The song is written in the key of D♭ major at a slow rate of 60 beats per minute. Dion's vocals range from A♭3 to E♭5 in song. The final chorus is set to E♭ major. [2] The Critical Reception Because You Loved Me received positive reviews from most music critics. Senior editor of AllMusic, Stephen Thomas Erlewine praised ballads like Because You Loved Me To Fall On You. [3] The advocate described it as a great ballad and an emotional roller coaster. [4] Larry Flick from Billboard wrote that Because You Loved Me is, filled with great romance, larger-than-life production, and a climax best described as the musical equivalent to Fourth of July fireworks. [5] Another billboard editor, Paul Verna also pointed out chart-topping Because You Loved Me. [6] Dave Sholin from Gavin's Report wrote, How about this bold prediction: It will be one of the first major successes of 1996! An expected Celine Dion media blitz this spring is sure to take her and this project away to the next galaxy. [7] Hartford Courant noted it as a luxurious love song. [8] Stephen Holden of the New York Times praised the song, calling it this year's Wind Underneath My Wings. [9] Richmond Times-Dispatch chose Been You Loved Me as one of the best songs for the album Falling Into You. [10] Christopher Smith from TalkAboutPopMusic described it as a beautiful, soulful ballad in its own inimitable way and noted that Dion activates power over the final choirs. [11] Commercial performance In the United States, Because You Loved Me became Dion's second number a single, after The Power of Love in 1994.
