

The Corporate Service Council (CSC) is Points of Light's premier global platform for advancing corporate volunteerism. Since its inception in 2005, the CSC has convened an elite group of companies to leverage the power of employee volunteers to create change in our communities. CSC members include more than eighty of the world's largest and most successful companies.

GOALS

In the 2016-2017 program year, the Corporate Service Council will lead the expansion of high-impact volunteering by:

- * Providing companies with resources and relationships to maximize the impact of their volunteer programs for their communities and for their business' bottom line
- * Growing the understanding of how corporate volunteerism connects to global needs, goals, and requirements
- * Considering expanded opportunities for high-impact skilled volunteering through employee talents and interests across professions, industries and issues
- * Exploring strategies and identifying opportunities for collaboration among companies to increase impact and effectiveness of service and philanthropy

MEMBER BENEFITS

Members have access to Points of Light's expertise on corporate volunteerism, peer-to-peer engagement opportunities through exclusive calls and in-person meetings, and compelling opportunities to engage senior executives across organizations.

- * Advisory Services: Points of Light staff will connect you with experts and companies willing to share their expertise and experiences
- * Best Practices and Benchmarking: Regular access to research on best practices and benchmarking
- * Corporate Service Council LinkedIn Group: Access to members-only group for knowledge sharing, best practices, and research
- * Senior Executive Networking and Learning: Exclusive events for you and the senior executives across your organization to engage with volunteer and CSR leaders
- * Learning Labs: Global online working groups and learning sessions with focus on specific employee engagement topics that are open to all volunteer leaders
- * Regional Meetings: Access to forums that bring together regional volunteer champions for training and networking hosted by CSC members, POL, and local partners
- * Expert Hotline: Members have access to Points of Light experts who have decades of practical experience to meet today's employee engagement and corporate social responsibility challenges

CORPORATE SERVICE COUNCIL

MEMBER PLEDGE

Active engagement is a responsibility of Corporate Service Council members. We ask that you and your organization commit to:

- * Help Yourself: Participate in at least two general CSC meetings (in person or by phone) and engage at least one senior executive to participate in a convening annually
- * Help Your Peers: Engage with your peers in sharing knowledge and expertise
- * Help the Field: Share best practices and benchmarking data for Points of Light annual research
