[6] A sequel was announced by the makers shortly after the commercial success of the first film. [7] In November 2017, a press release from Dharma Productions revealed that the sequel is due to be released in 2018; It will be directed by Punit Malhotra and star Tiger Shroff in a leading roles. [7] The film was announced four years after Malhotra's previous directorial Gori Tere Pyaar Me in (2013). [8] It was to be prepared in collaboration with Johar's Dharma Productions and Fox Star Studios. [7] The film's announcement by the company is initially narrowed with another production of his, Dhadak (2018), which roused speculations that Ishan Khattar would star in the film. Johar denied the news, saying the reports were baseless and untrue. [6] The announcement did not reveal the rest of the cast; Media reports speculated that either Disha Patani or Ananya Pandey would play the leading lady opposite Chunky Pandey's daughter Shroff. [8] [9] In April 2018, Johar announced that the film's laces will be Pande and Tara Sutaria and both of them will make their film debuts. [10] Television actor Abhishek Bajaj made his film debut by playing a rival suited to Shroff's character. [11] Harsh Beniwal, a YouTuber, also makes his film debut as a Sikh student; In preparing for the role, he put up weight and increased his beard. [12] Malhotra said the story of both the films is unrelated: The film intends it's not the one of the first part of me either, so Tiger. It's a fresh take on this subject. It's more about sport and action. Malhotra took experience from his time as a student at Mumbai's HR College of Commerce and Economics, but made the film version quite lavish. Malhotra was initially supposed to work on a different film with Shroff, but two-three months before filming, he finished the project and wrote a new script, which is a sequel to Student of the Year. [13] In response to allegations that the film raised unhealthy hopes for college life, Shroff said, What you see here is a fun school. It's a school that you want to be a part of everyone else. We wanted everyone to fall in love with it. [14] He plays an underdog in the film, expressing, it's like Superman has been stripped of his powers. [15] Sameer Soni, who first appeared in Malhotra's I Hate Love Stories in 2012 and had since moved in direction, returned to acting playing a college principal, a supporting role similar to the one originally portrayed by Rishi Kapoor in Student of the Year. [16] However, the principal in the first film was identified as gay, while a heterosexual played by Sony was more comical. [16] Media outlets speculated that Sidharth Malhotra, Varun Dhawan and Alia Bhatt, who starred roles in the previous film, will feature in a cameo appearance for a song. [17] May 2019, it was revealed that Bhatt features in a special appearance for the hook-up song with Shroff. [18] As a part of Facebook original Will Smith's bucket list, Will Smith appeared in a song in the film to satisfy his desire to appear in Bollywood production. Principal photography principal photography for student of the Year 2 began in Dehradun on 9th April 2018. Shortly afterwards, parts of the film were shot in Rishikesh and Mussoorie as part of the programme. Sets were also set for the film in Film City, Mumbai. [5] After the production of the film was delayed, Sutaria's filming programme triggered a confrontation with her second project Kabir Singh; He skipped that film to make sure the shooting took place smoothly. [21] A four-day sequence was filmed in Thailand in August 2018. [22] Filming ended with the shooting of the climax sequence in September 2018. [23] Student of the Year 2 was produced on an estimated budget of £650 million, including promotion and advertising costs. [24] Reviewing the soundtrack, Pratyushuti Ganguly of FirstPost wrote, Unfortunately, tracks like Hook Up Song and Mumbai Delhi's Kudian probably indicate that the understanding of young [transal.youth] pulse is a tad misguided in this film. [25] The song Yeh Jawaani Hai Deewani, originally sung by Kishore Kumar and composed by R D Burman for the soundtrack of the 1972 film Jawaani Diwani, was produced for the film with vocals provided by Vishal Dadrani and Payal Dev, and was rebranded as Jawaani Song. [26] The pictured hook-up song on Bhatt and Shroff was sung by Neha Kakkar and Shekhar Ravjiani. [27] Mumbai Delhi Di Kudiyan, though not used in the film released as the second song, was only starred as a promotional song, while Main was also seen pictured on Shroff in the film replacing Nahin Soya, who only released with full audio jukebox. Pakistani singer Atif Aslam had earlier recorded his version in November 2018 but in the 2019 Pulwama attack, Arjitt Singh had to replace Aslam for the soundtrack version of the film. [8] [9] [7] In April 2018, first look posters featuring Sutaria and Pane were released announcing new cast members; It was somewhat controversial due to the children of other actors, and this led to allegations of johar promoting nepotism. [28] A press release from Dharma Productions on 30 July 2018 said that the release date of the film was postponed till May 10, 2019 as science fiction was expected to compete with 2.0 (2018). [29] [30] On 10 April 2019, two new teaser posters were released presenting Shroff's look as a student. [31] [32] Another set of posters featuring Sutaria and Pandey was released on April 11, 2019. [33] On 12Th April 2019, a dramatic release poster of the film was shared by Johar on his Instagram account; [34] Rediff.com's Keshamya Daniels wrote about the trailer, while the cast and her acting look quite promising, the story - not so much. [35] A special screening was held for close friends and other actors before the release. [36] Reception Critical Response Student of the Year 2 was released for a typically negative review from critics. It holds a rating of 7% on Rotten Tomatoes. [4] [37][[38][39] The criticism was mainly directed to the film's screenplay and unreal setting. [40] Meena Iyer of Daily News and Analysis gave it three stars out of five, writing, It's like the film, which draws inspiration from Archie Comics With Tiger being Archie Comics Archie, flanked by a Veronica (Ananya) and daughter (Tara). She concludes, in addition to Will Smith's miss-if-you-wink appearance, look at [the film] for Tiger. Even when things around him are caving in, his ballet grace is intact. [41] Mumbai Mirror's Kunal Guha gave two and a half stars out of five and leaned it over the tested formula, but thus, there is something to win about a man with minor means, forcing his privileged adversary to dust off. [42] Nandini Ramnath of Scroll.in, who gave the film two stars out of five, wrote, The sequel that nobody wanted is neither an improvement on the original nor its downgrade, referring to what won it as the glamed-up version of Wah! Sikandar (1992). Ram Nath felt that Panday showed potential in the film [a] boys and no fun. [43] In a more positive review, The Times of India's Ronak Kotecha gave the film three stars out of five, writing that it was not that ishq wala love Enough dosti, high school drama and cool stuff to keep you going. [44] Manjusha Radhakrishnan of Gulf News said the film [i] was ritual and gaga, but fun; He felt the first hour is extremely pleasant, [but] the second half is really painsstaking. [45] Ambika Sachin of Khaliz Times wrote, Call it guilty happiness or escapism, let's get one thing out of the way, no one goes for Karan Johar's film hoping for great cinema it offers three out of five stars. [46] Bollywood Hungama Ke Taran Adarsh praised screenplay for being plausible as his case with some entertaining, dramatic and even moving moments. Overall, Student of the Year 2 is an entertaining and enjoyable fare that will strike a chord in the hearts of the audience, he wrote. [47] NDTV's Saibal Chatterjee gave it a one-and-a-half star out of five and called the film a strongly escapist campus-rampus music with a nastily, incredibly passive boy and tight-clad girls... Adding games that make as much sense as a camel race on an airport tarmac, there's not a single moment in the movie that can be described as prevalent. [48] Similarly, Shubha Gupta of Indian Express gave a one-and-a-half star out of five and obviously, this class of 2019 has a predictable heartbeat, which is to be expected in an underdog story, but it is so arbitrary disappointing: from KJo I expect a lot more swish and shine. She realised that Shroff performs his dances and fights efficiently, even if [he] is struggling to look like a student. [49] Writing for Firstpost, Anna M. M. Vetricpad gave the film one-and-a-half stars out of five: the cliché is piled on the cliché in this unoriginal screenplay. [50] CNN-News18's Rajeev Masand gave it two stars out of five and said, Student of the Year 2 is both predictable, and far from the original... It's not Baywatch, it's just unnecessary. [51] The film flopped at the box office. In India, the film had an average opening for earlier shows, with an occupancy rate of 20-25%. It went on to earn Rs 11.75-12 crore on its first day in India, becoming the 5th highest opener of the year. The film earned fair growth on Saturday, rs 13.5-13.75 crore net. [54] The ipi final on Sunday and the 2019 Indian general election were affected by the collections and the film's earnings came down to Rs 12.25-12.5 crore net. [55] The next day, the film collected about Rs 5 crore net, which was considered an average. [56] On Tuesday, it earned a fair amount of Rs 4.75-5 crore. The film net rs Rs 4 crore on Wednesday and Rs 55.25 crore for the first week of Rs 55.25 crore with Rs 3.5 crore on Thursday. [58] On its second Friday, the film registered a 60 percent drop as collections reached the Net of Rs 1.5 crore. [59] The second weekend collection was Rs. 6 crore net. [60] On its second Monday, the film earned ₹1.15 Net. [61] After the fall in collections in the second week, the film stopped screening in most theatres. [62] It has earned ₹98 crore worldwide, earning Rs 65 crore in India and Rs 330 million abroad. [3] The Home Video Film was made available as VOD on Prime Video on 1 September 2019.
