Hello, I am Jay Regan, aka Just Jay I am a Singer-songwriter and performer from Philadelphia. I am the former writer and lead vocalist of many original bands in the Philadelphia area, now performing my own solo material.

My music is rock based and incorporates varied musical styles such as classic rock, modern rock, R&B, folk and blues. I draw my inspiration from many things in my life, including my family, my inner most feelings, world events, and fiction.

On April 7, 2017 I released my 15 track second CD "Wash Me" recording a selection of my songs I had written between my debut release "Dreams & Nightmares" in 2014. The songs included here are multi-genre covering many different styles. This latest release is "dirtier" than the last CD and is where the name "Wash Me" was born. I am currently playing live in support of the CD and booking a late summer mid coast tour. Key tracks: Grow, Right Between the Eyes, March of the Romans, Faces, Can't Let Go and No Place to Turn.

Press and achievements:

Despite my complaint about the production values, Wash Me is a first-rate album. Jay Regan has mucho talent as a singer/songwriter. Wash Me is original and creative. - Randy Radic, Huffington Post \(Apr 23, 2017\)

While the record does not have a clear path, where Regan is concerned, this doesn't matter much as each song stands on its own, ready to connect with its own group of listeners. - Lauren Gribble, Listen Here Reviews \(Apr 26, 2017\)
