

Here's a more detailed breakdown of the tailgating rules:

Permitted Items & Activities:

All parking lots are open for tailgating: This includes the Upper North lot, which is a popular spot.

Sealed, non-alcoholic beverages: You can bring in sealed, non-alcoholic beverages up to 32 ounces.

Food and snacks: Tailgaters can bring in their own food and snacks.

Reusable water bottles: It's a good idea to bring a reusable water bottle to stay hydrated, especially at Red Rocks' high altitude.

Lawn chairs and blankets: These are great for setting up your tailgating area.

Small tables or trunk space: This can be helpful for organizing food and drinks.

Coolers (with ice): Keep your drinks and snacks cool.

Grills: Grills must be off the ground and fully extinguished before showtime.

Alcohol: While alcohol is permitted in the parking lots, it cannot be brought into the venue itself, and glass bottles are prohibited.

Portable propane grills: These are allowed, but make sure they are off the ground and extinguished before the show.

Prohibited Items & Activities:

Glass bottles: No glass is allowed at Red Rocks, including in the parking lots.

Open flames or fire pits: These are not permitted.

Alcohol inside the venue: Alcoholic beverages are prohibited inside the amphitheater.

Kegs, hard liquor, and vending: These are not allowed.

Large quantities of alcohol: Excessive alcohol consumption can lead to problems.

Items like yoga mats, camping mats, and tarps: According to a local news source, these are not allowed.

Weapons of any kind: Weapons are strictly prohibited.

Tips for Tailgating at Red Rocks:

Arrive early: To secure a good tailgating spot, especially for popular shows, it's recommended to arrive early, perhaps two hours before the doors open.

Be prepared for the altitude: Red Rocks is at a high altitude, so stay hydrated and consider bringing electrolyte drinks.

"Leave no trace": Pack out everything you pack in, leaving your tailgating spot clean and tidy.

Check the weather: Red Rocks weather can be unpredictable, so dress in layers and be prepared for potential changes.

Have fun! Enjoy the pre-show atmosphere and camaraderie with fellow concertgoers.
