

WELCOME TO

COMEDY
KEY WEST

OUR STORY

On a chilly October evening in Boston, MA, in 2007, Boston Headliner Tom Dustin & Joe Madaus were playing softball at Teddy Ebersol field. Tom was the commissioner of the Boston Comedy Softball League & Joe sucked at pitching. Between innings, Tom made some very witty cracks about Joe's failure at throwing a softball & they both laughed. Tom laughed louder. Then Tom said, "Madaus, I'm not going to mess with you anymore". Joe said, "Why not, Tom"? "Because you shouldn't kick a dog that doesn't bite." And they became instant friends.

Soon after, Joe moved to Key West to work on a TV show that no one has heard of & Tom crushed his gigs across the continent & was the first American to win the Great Canadian Laugh-Off. (Closing the contest to future Americans). USA! USA! USA!

In 2016, Joe, with his partner Anne Walters, attempted a 5 week experiment & started Comedy Key West in Anne's yoga studio. The show was called the "Downward Dog Comedy Showcase". The first night had 39 audience members, 15 comedians, and ran for a solid 2 & 1/2 hours. Although successful, they were promptly told to never perform in the studio again. With a quick pivot they found themselves performing again at the Bottlecap Lounge. At this point Joe realized he would need some world class talent if they were going to make it past week 5, & called up his old buddy Tom Dustin to see if he'd come down.

After much convincing, Tom came down to Key West to be the first headliner, & Comedy Key West was born. For 3 years, Tom sent Joe great acts & in 2019, Tom took the plunge & moved to Key West full time. During the Covid Crisis, the Bottlecap closed & Comedy Key West relocated to our current location, 218 Whitehead Street where comedy related events happen 6 to 7 nights a week.

Joe & Tom brought on a killer team to help them build the club to what it is today. Kristen Borowski, from Chicago, runs the bar operations, comedian James Scott Patterson works both behind the scenes & on stage, and they are joined almost every night by local performer Steven Crane & Pulitzer Prize winning journalist, Gwen Filosa.

Now, Tom brings many of the best acts in the world to the club to headline & Joe still sucks at pitching. Check out our calendar for a complete list of events!
