

Center Stage from Wolf Trap

showcases live performances from Chamber Music at The Barns. The series presents some of today's finest chamber musicians. Recorded in the acoustically superb Barns at Wolf Trap, these 26 one-hour radio programs include unscripted and spontaneous conversation with hosts Lee Anne Myslewski and Rich Kleinfeldt.

The Barns at Wolf Trap, a year-round facility hailed as "one of the best places to hear music in Washington," has become one of the D.C. area's premier venues.

Consisting of two rebuilt 18th century barns, the venue serves as a theater, a concert setting for Chamber Music at The Barns, and it is home to Wolf Trap Opera. The Barns at Wolf Trap is owned and operated by the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts, a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization. Located just outside of Washington D.C., Wolf Trap presents more than 280 performances each year at its three venues.

A veteran broadcaster and musician, Rich Kleinfeldt is known for his lively dialogues on the popular radio series Indianapolis On-the-Air. Formerly with Voice of America, Rich regularly hosted the daily Morning Maestro, on World Space Satellite Radio, heard worldwide. He performs and tours as a member of the Washington Saxophone Quartet.

Lee Anne Myslewski started her adventurous career swinging above a stage singing Carl Orff's "In trutina". Things change though and now Lee Anne is the Director of Artistic Administration for the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Art's Opera & Classical Programming Division. In this role, she auditions and mentors all Studio Artists for Wolf Trap Opera's summer festival. Lee Anne creates and programs the Chamber Music at The Barns series and brings a unique "behind-the-scenes" perspective to Center Stage.
