For the purposes of this plan document, the term Student Administrative Health Fee (SAHF) also means a funding allocation from Princeton Theological Seminary for the benefits and services specified in this SAHF Plan Document.*

Eligibility
All students enrolled at Princeton Theological Seminary are eligible for the benefits and services specified in this SAHF Plan Document. Certain benefits are contingent on whether a student is enrolled in the Student Health Benefits Plan (SHBP) provided by the Seminary or has personal health insurance (i.e., privately insured).

TeleHealth
To the extent permitted by federal or state laws and regulations, including emergency orders permitting the use of telehealth, the SAHF allows for payment of telephone consultations and Web or Internet-based consultations.

Students covered by the SAHF and covered by private health insurance are also provided telehealth benefits from Teladoc (refer to https://www.teladoc.com). The benefits and services are subject to change without notice. Covered Persons may use Teladoc without cost for services as specified in separate program communication materials. No claims are administered under the SAHF for Teladoc, nor is any claims liability indemnified by the Seminary.

Student Counseling at PTS
The Seminary provides a broad spectrum of counseling, spiritual direction, support groups, and health education and wellness services. Students should refer to the Student Health Program brochure for a description of services, limitations, and applicable copayments or session charges.

Trinity Counseling Service (TCS)
Students covered by the SAHF are eligible for a lifetime limit of 30 counseling sessions at TCS while enrolled at PTS with the following copayments:

$15 for sessions 1-10;
$20 for sessions 11-20; and
$25 for sessions 21-30.

After 30 sessions, TCS bills the student’s insurance company, and the student is responsible for any applicable charge for copayments, deductibles, coinsurance, or excluded services. These benefits are administered by a Claims Administrator retained by the Seminary. There is no involvement of the Claims Administrator beyond the 30 sessions provided, except for students covered by the Seminary’s Student Health Benefits Plan (SHBP).

TCS does not provide medication consultation or management sessions. Single students may use their counseling benefits for pre-marital counseling, just as married students may use their counseling benefits for marriage counseling. No student receives benefits beyond those to which they are normally entitled.

Group Therapy and Group Spiritual Direction Benefits – Provided to Both Privately Insured and SHBP Covered Students

Students and spouses pay $10 per session for groups facilitated by either Student Counseling or Trinity Counseling Service. Except for certain group therapy benefits provided to students covered by the SHBP, these group benefits are administered by the Seminary.

Occupational Health Services

The Seminary has retained Occupational Health Services at Princeton HealthCare System to review and maintain immunization records for incoming students and to provide immunization services for both incoming and international students. Immunization services are also provided for students traveling abroad. The cost for immunizations for incoming international students must be paid by the student at the time of service at Occupational Health Services. The Seminary pays for the cost of immunizations for students enrolled in the Field Education International Program.

PLAN YEAR

Unless otherwise specified, services are provided by SAHF from September 1 through August 31 of each plan year. This includes services for students who have graduated in May but does not include services for students who are not enrolled for the spring semester.

* NOTICE

Unless otherwise specified, the SAHF benefits and services described in this document do not constitute an insurance or health benefits plan. These benefits are provided as a form of Student Administrative Health Fee (refer to CMS-9981-F) that is commonly provided by New Jersey colleges and universities, both public and private institutions.
