General Information

Venue: Princeton Theological Seminary (64 Mercer Street, Princeton, New Jersey 08542-0803, USA). Opening events, plenaries, and most panels will take place on the campus in the Seminary's library (campus maps).

Registration: Open to the general public. On Friday 10:30am, registration will be possible in the lobby of the Seminary library (standard fees apply). Note that presenters and panelists are limited to those who received email confirmation of their submitted paper's acceptance in our program.

Format: As a general rule, for presentation purposes, papers should be limited in length to 20 minutes.

Accommodations and Meals

On campus: The Seminary's Erdman Center offers a range of room configurations, costing from $60 to $120 per night. You can book a room online (Erdman bookings) or call 609-497-7990 or 800-622-6767, ext. 7990 (toll free).

Off campus: Homewood Suites (a Hilton property, 2.4 miles from the Seminary) offers rooms at a special conference rate (from $110-$120) including breakfast, a free shuttle service to and from Princeton and the Seminary campus on request. You can book your room at Homewood Suites online (Discounted Room Rates at Homewood Suites) or call at 609-720-0550. Other Princeton area hotels: Check online at the Princeton Visitors Bureau.
Meals

Your conference fees include tea and coffee breaks, three lunches (Saturday, Sunday, Monday), and the banquet dinner Saturday evening. The Seminary is located within walking distance of downtown Princeton where a large selection of restaurants can be found (local Princeton restaurants).

Parking

Parking for the conference is available at the Seminary Library. Vehicles can enter the parking area from either Stockton Street or Library Place (campus maps). Ask for a parking permit in the lobby at the registration desk. Without a permit, your vehicle may be ticketed.

Getting to Princeton

Transportation, Directions, Maps

Princeton's closest international airport is Newark Liberty International Airport. Philadelphia International Airport is also conveniently located. Getting to Princeton from JFK and LaGuardia in New York City would take longer and be more expensive. Travelers coming to Princeton by train (from the airports or other destinations) should get off at Princeton Junction (on the Northeast Corridor of New Jersey Transit). At Princeton Junction, transfer to the local train called the "Dinky," a one-stop service that ends in Princeton. Taxis to the Seminary are available at Princeton Junction ($18 approx.) or from the "Dinky" Station in Princeton ($8-$10 approx.). Walking to the Seminary campus from the "Dinky" Station takes 15 to 20 minutes (on a slight incline).
By Air

From Newark Liberty International Airport

The Olympic AirPorter shuttle service takes you to the Nassau Inn in Princeton, a few blocks from the Seminary campus. You can book online or call to make a reservation (800.822.9797, within the US, or 732.938.6666 from outside the US).

The AirTrain takes you from all airport terminals to the Newark Liberty International Airport Train Station. Take New Jersey Transit southbound trains (Northeast Corridor) to Princeton Junction. From Princeton Junction, take the local train (the "Dinky") to Princeton Station.

From Philadelphia International Airport

Take the R1 High Speed Rail Line (from platforms on the pedestrian bridges and commercial roadway) or local taxi service to 30th Street Station in Philadelphia where you can purchase a SEPTA/NJ Transit ticket to take the SEPTA (Southeastern Pennsylvania Transit Authority) train to Trenton and from there the New Jersey Transit train to Princeton Junction. From Princeton Junction, take the local train (the "Dinky") to Princeton Station. The Olympic AirPorter shuttle service is also available for travel to and from Philadelphia International Airport.
By Bus

From the Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York City (41st Street and 8th Avenue)

Purchase a Suburban Transit bus ticket to Princeton at windows 16 through 19 on the first floor of the Port Authority Bus Terminal. Board the bus on the 3rd floor (4th level) at gates 420 through 422. The bus leaves every half hour between 6AM and 11 PM on weekdays and between 9 AM and 11 PM on weekends, and every half hour on the hour until 1 AM. The trip takes 1 and 1/2 hours. Ask the driver to let you off at the end of Nassau Street at the intersection with Mercer Street and Route 206, and walk from there to the Seminary campus.

By Train

From New York City (and north) and Philadelphia (and south)

New Jersey Transit services Princeton from the north (New York City, Newark, etc.), with connecting service from the south (Trenton, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington DC, etc). All Amtrak trains stop in Trenton but only some stop at Princeton Junction, so please check.
