Dear Representative,

On behalf of our more than one million members from all 50 states, Susan B. Anthony Pro-Life America supports and will score in favor of H.R. 6359, the Pregnant Students' Rights Act. This legislation amends the Higher Education Act to ensure students at colleges and universities are made aware of the rights and the resources available to pregnant and parenting students, even before they might need such resources.

No student should have to choose between their education and their child. It is no small feat to complete a college degree while pregnant. Students who choose both education and family are courageous and deserve support. Whether students parent or make an adoption plan for their child, they can thrive, learn, and prepare themselves for a bright future ahead. Pregnant and parenting students make up nearly a quarter of undergraduate students and nearly a third of graduate students, so the need for parenting resources is clear. Unfortunately, all too often a college campus can feel like a child-free or pregnancy-free zone. Students need to know that there are resources and accommodations available to help them when pregnant on campus.

A recent peer reviewed study shows that as many as 60% of women who have abortions reported that they would have preferred to give birth if they had received more support from others or had more financial security.

H.R. 6359 is straightforward legislation that ensures students do not wrongly assume that their only options are to choose between their education and their child. Colleges and universities must make pregnant and parenting students aware of their life-affirming rights and of the on-campus and community resources available to them. Further, the bill makes clear a student's right to file complaints under Title IX if she is discriminated against on the basis of her decision to carry her child to term.

Susan B. Anthony Pro-Life America supports and will score in favor of H.R. 6359.

Sincerely,

Marjorie Dannenfelser
