SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance entitled “Recommendations to Reduce the Possible Risk of Transmission of Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease and Variant Creutzfeldt Jakob Disease by Blood and Blood Components.” The draft guidance provides blood establishments that collect blood and blood components with revised recommendations intended to reduce the possible risk of transmission of CJD and vCJD by blood and blood components. The recommendations in the draft guidance apply to the collection of Whole Blood and blood components intended for transfusion or for use in further manufacturing, including Source Plasma. FDA is revising or removing our current recommendations to screen blood donors for: (1) geographic risk of possible exposure to bovine spongiform encephalopathy, including time spent on U.S. military bases in Europe; (2) receipt of a blood transfusion in certain vCJD risk countries; (3) risk factors for iatrogenic CJD (i.e., a history of taking human cadaveric pituitary-derived growth hormone; (4) having blood relatives with CJD; and (5) a history of injecting bovine insulin.

In the Federal Register of December 22, 2017 (82 FR 60747), FDA announced the availability of the draft document entitled “Amendment to ‘Revised Preventive Measures to Reduce the Possible Risk of Transmission of Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease and Variant Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease by Blood and Blood Products’” dated December 2017 (December 2017 draft guidance). FDA received several comments on the December 2017 draft guidance. Based on those comments, FDA is announcing a revised draft guidance. The draft guidance announced in this notice replaces the December 2017 draft guidance, and, when finalized, will supersede the document entitled “Revised Preventive Measures to Reduce the Possible Risk of Transmission of Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease and Variant Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease by Blood and Blood Products, Guidance for Industry,” dated May 2010 and updated January 2016.

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on recommendations to reduce the possible risk of transmission of CJD and vCJD by blood and blood components. It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This draft guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501-3521). The collections of information in 21 CFR 601.12 and Form FDA 356h have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0338; the collections of information in 21 CFR parts 610 and 630 have been approved under OMB control numbers 0910-0116.
