SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Introduction:

On September 18, 2018, the Federal Maritime Commission (FMC or Commission) issued a Notice of Filing and Request for Comments to obtain public comments on Petition No. P3-18, the petition of the World Shipping Council (WSC), (Petitioner) pursuant to 46 CFR 502.92 “... for an exemption from service contract filing and essential terms publication requirements set forth at 46 U.S.C 40502(b) and (d), respectively...” Petitioner further petitions the Commission for the initiation of a rulemaking proceeding to amend its service contract regulations set forth at 46 CFR part 530 in a manner consistent with the requested exemption.

Comments were received in support of WSC’s petition from Atlantic Container Line, AB (ACL); the National Industrial Transportation League (NITL); and the Caribbean Shipowners Association (CSO). Frankford Candy LLC (Frankford) and Wheaton Grain Inc. (Wheaton) filed comments opposing the petition.

On December 20, 2019, the Commission issued an order denying in part and granting in part the petition. Specifically, the Commission denied WSC’s request for an exemption from the requirement in 46 U.S.C. 40502(b) that ocean common carriers file service contracts with the Commission. Pet’n of the World Shipping Council for an Exemption from Certain Provisions of the Shipping Act of 1984, as amended, and for a Rulemaking Proceeding, Pet. No. P3-18, slip op., (FMC Dec. 20, 2019) (P3-18 Order). In contrast, the Commission granted WSC’s request for an exemption from the requirement in § 40502(d) that carriers publish ETs with each service contract, determining that an exemption from § 40502(d) would not result in a substantial reduction in competition or be detrimental to commerce. Id. The Commission also determined to initiate a rulemaking to implement the ET publication exemption. Id.

The Commission is therefore proposing to amend its regulations in part 530 in accordance with the P3-18 Order and requests comment on the proposed changes. The Commission emphasizes that the scope of this rulemaking is limited to amending part 530 in line with the Commission's decision. The merits of WSC's petition and the Commission's findings in the P3-18 Order are outside the scope of this rulemaking.

Background:

The Shipping Act of 1984 (the Shipping Act or the Act) introduced the option for liner services to be priced via negotiated service contracts between ocean common carriers and their shipper customers, rather than solely by public tariffs. Pursuant to the Shipping Act and FMC regulations, ocean freight rates, surcharges, and accessorial charges had to be published in tariffs, or agreed to via a service contract filed with the Commission. Contemporaneous with the filing of service contracts, ocean carriers were required to make publicly available a statement of the essential terms (ET) of the service contract, including the line-haul rate, in tariff format.

The Ocean Shipping Reform Act of 1998 (OSRA) amended the Shipping Act of 1984 to eliminate the requirement that service contract rates be published in the carrier's public tariff. Pub. L. No. 105-258, § 106. One of the primary impacts of OSRA was to render service contract rates confidential, and thus no longer available to ocean carriers and shippers as carrier pricing information. In addition, similarly situated shippers could no longer utilize the rates and terms of published service contracts. Subsequent to OSRA, the ET publication has been limited to: origin and destination port ranges, commodities, minimum volume or portion, and duration. The deletion of rates from the scope of the ET publication protected U.S. exporters from their foreign competitors who would be able to ascertain proprietary business information from these publicly available essential terms. At the same time, the ET publication was also no longer useful either to shippers in contract negotiations with carriers, or among carriers as a tool in potential pricing coordination.

Discussion:

As explained in the P3-18 Order, the Commission's experience indicates that the publication of Statements of Essential Terms corresponding to individual service contracts is of questionable value. No commenters claimed a use for these publications, nor does the Commission use them in-house inasmuch as the Commission has the ability to access complete service contracts, including rate matrices and contract terms.

In determining how to best implement the determination to exempt carriers from the ET publication requirements in 46 U.S.C. 40502(d), the Commission notes that § 40502(d) and the Commission's regulations at 46 CFR 530.12 require that carriers publish concise Statements of Essential Terms corresponding to individual service contracts in tariff format. In addition to the required Statements of Essential Terms, carriers often include in their ET tariff rules and notices that generally apply to all service contracts. An ocean carrier's ET tariff may therefore comprise two components: (1) tariff rules and notices that generally apply to all service contracts; and (2) the required concise Statements of Essential Terms corresponding to individual service contracts.

The general tariff rules and notices are rarely amended once initially published. Indeed, there are significant benefits to publishing a "blanket" rule or notice in the carrier's ET tariff that applies to most, or all, service contracts, thereby eliminating the potential need to periodically amend hundreds of individual service contracts. In contrast, a Statement of Essential Terms is published in the carrier's tariff when each new service contract is confidentially filed, and typically must be reviewed by the tariff publisher each time a contract is amended, whether or not it is ultimately determined that the public terms must be updated. In some cases, the Statement of Essential Terms is continuously updated to keep the ET amendment number in sync with the contract amendment number.

Although the Commission has determined to exempt carriers from the requirement that they publish Statements of Essential Terms for individual service contracts, the Commission wants to ensure that carriers continue to publish generally applicable service contract tariff rules and notices. The Commission therefore proposes to replace the requirement in § 530.12 that carriers publish Statements of Essential Terms for individual service contracts with a requirement that carriers publish general service contract rules and notices as a separate part of the individual carrier's automated tariff system. The Commission is also proposing changes to a number of other sections in part 530 to reflect the elimination of the Statement of Essential Terms publication requirements. Finally, the Commission proposes to correct in part 530 outdated references to FMC bureaus and offices, as well as correct an outdated reference to a Department of Defense Command.

Regulatory Notices and Analysis

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, provides that whenever an agency is required to publish a notice of proposed rulemaking under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), 5 U.S.C. 553, the agency must prepare and make available for public comment an initial regulatory flexibility analysis describing the impact of the proposed rule on small entities, unless the head of the agency certifies that the rulemaking will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. 5 U.S.C. 603, 605. Accordingly, the Chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission certifies that the proposed rule, if promulgated, will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. The regulated business entities that would be impacted by the rule are vessel-operating common carriers (VOCCs). The Commission has determined that VOCCs generally do not qualify as small entities under the guidelines of the Small Business Administration (SBA). See FMC Policy and Procedures Regarding Proper Consideration of Small Entities in Rulemakings (Feb. 7, 2003), available at https://www.fmc.gov/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/SBREFA_Guidelines_2003.pdf.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501-3521) (PRA) requires an agency to seek and receive approval from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) before collecting information from the public. 44 U.S.C. 3507. The agency must submit collections of information in proposed rules to OMB in conjunction with the publication of the notice of proposed rulemaking. 5 CFR 1320.11.

The information collection requirements in Part 530, Service Contracts, are currently authorized under OMB Control Number 3072-0065. If approved, this rule would eliminate for VOCCs the publication of concise statements of essential terms in their carrier automated tariff systems. The proposed rule would require VOCCs to continue their general practice of publishing service contract rules and notices in their carrier automated tariff systems. The proposed rule does not make any changes to the requirement to file service contracts with the Commission.

As background, of the 155 vessel-operating common carriers serving the U.S. trades, 68 do not file service contracts with the Commission, and thus would not be impacted by this rulemaking. Further, of the 87 carriers that file service contracts, 31 filed less than ten contracts or amendments thus far in FY 2019, with ten of those only filing 1 contract this fiscal year. Among VOCCs that utilize service contracts more extensively as a pricing mechanism, only 31 filed over 100 original contracts this fiscal year.

With respect to the cost savings associated with eliminating the publication of statements of essential terms corresponding to original service contracts and amendments, the Commission estimates the savings to VOCCs as roughly 41,048 man-hours, for an approximate savings of $1,987,133 annually.¹ Service contract rules and notices in carrier automated tariff systems, on the other hand, are rarely published or revised, inasmuch as they govern a broad swath of carrier contracts, and many times are intended to quickly and efficiently address an ad hoc industry situation.² Thus, in any given year, there may be no new service contract rules or notices published in a carrier's automated tariff system. The Commission observes that the benefit of maintaining rules and notices which allow a carrier to avoid revising hundreds of service contracts greatly outweighs the burden of publishing such a notice. The Commission invites comment on this.

Regarding the burden associated with the filing of service contracts with the Commission, a substantial majority of filers, 74 percent, have recognized greater efficiencies by automating their service contract filing processes using the Commission's "web services" automated filing system. Using FY 2018 figures, BTA staff estimates the remaining burden associated with service contract filing to be roughly 3,542 man-hours, or $402,088 annually.³

using the Commission's most recent fiscal year's filing statistics for new contracts and amendments. In FY 2018, 47,962 new service contracts and 772,803 amendments were filed.

² As one example, a major ocean carrier published a blanket notice in its ET tariff applying to hundreds of its service contracts when it deployed an extra loader vessel to meet unexpected shipper demand. This notice allowed existing contract rates applying to a specifically named service string to also apply to cargo moving on the extra loader vessel, thereby eliminating the VOCC's burden of amending hundreds of service contracts.

Inclusive of the burden associated with the Service Contract Rules Publication requirement,⁴ the entire burden associated with this information collection is calculated as $3,482,351 for contract filers, a substantial reduction.

In compliance with the PRA, the Commission has submitted the proposed revised information collection to the Office of Management and Budget.

Comments are invited on:

- Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Commission, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Whether the Commission's estimate for the burden of the information collection is accurate;
- Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected;
- Ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

Please submit any comments, identified by the docket number in the heading of this document, by any of the methods described in the ADDRESSES section of this document.

National Environmental Policy Act

The Commission's regulations categorically exclude certain rulemakings from any requirement to prepare an environmental assessment or an environmental impact statement because they do not increase or decrease air, water or noise pollution or the use of fossil fuels, recyclables, or energy. 46 CFR 504.4. The proposed rule amends the requirements related to the publication of essential terms associated with service contracts. This rulemaking thus falls within the categorical exclusion for actions related to the receipt service contracts (§ 504.4(a)(5)).

Therefore, no environmental assessment or environmental impact statement is required.

Executive Order 12988 (Civil Justice Reform)

This rule meets the applicable standards in E.O. 12988 titled, “Civil Justice Reform,” to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden.

Regulation Identifier Number

The Commission assigns a regulation identifier number (RIN) to each regulatory action listed in the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions (Unified Agenda). The Regulatory Information Service Center publishes the Unified Agenda in April and October of each year. You may use the RIN contained in the heading at the beginning of this document to find this action in the Unified Agenda, at <http://www.reginfo.gov/public/do/eAgendaMain>.
