SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a guidance for industry entitled “Institutional Review Board (IRB) Review of Individual Patient Expanded Access Requests for Investigational Drugs and Biological Products During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency.” There is currently an outbreak of respiratory disease caused by a novel coronavirus. The virus has been named SARS-CoV-2, and the disease it causes has been named Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). On January 31, 2020, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) issued a declaration of a public health emergency related to COVID-19 and mobilized the Operating Divisions of HHS. The public health emergency declaration was renewed on April 21, 2020. In addition, on March 13, 2020, the President declared a national emergency in response to COVID-19.

FDA is issuing this guidance to provide recommendations regarding the key factors and procedures IRBs, including for reviews conducted by a single-member, should consider when reviewing individual patient expanded access submissions for patient access to investigational drugs for treating COVID-19.

Under FDA regulations, three categories of expanded access are available: expanded access for individual (also known as single) patients, including for emergency use; expanded access for intermediate-size patient populations; and “treatment” expanded access for larger populations. This guidance applies to individual patient expanded access requests, as outlined in 21 CFR 312.310. The recommendations in this guidance are intended to assist IRBs in conducting efficient reviews of individual patient expanded access requests.

In light of the public health emergency related to COVID-19 declared by the Secretary of HHS, FDA has determined that prior public participation for this guidance is not feasible or appropriate and is issuing this guidance without prior public comment (see section 701(h)(1)(C)(i) of the FD&C Act (21 U.S.C. 371(h)(1)(C)(i)) and 21 CFR 10.115(g)(2)). This guidance document is being implemented immediately, but it remains subject to comment in accordance with the Agency’s good guidance practices statute and regulation.

This guidance is intended to remain in effect for the duration of the public health emergency related to COVID-19 declared by HHS, including any renewals made by the Secretary in accordance with section 319(a)(2) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 247d(a)(2)). However, the recommendations described in the guidance are expected to assist the Agency more broadly in its continued efforts to facilitate access to drugs through expanded access beyond the termination of the COVID-19 public health emergency and reflect the Agency’s current thinking on this issue. Therefore, within 60 days following the termination of the public health emergency, FDA intends to revise and replace this guidance with any appropriate changes based on comments received on this guidance and the Agency’s experience with implementation.

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the current thinking of FDA on “Institutional Review Board (IRB) Review of Individual Patient Expanded Access Requests for Investigational Drugs and Biological Products During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency.” It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

This guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget.
