8. Spokeo - Best To Identify Spam & Scam Callers

Spokeo is another web-based phone number lookup site that sifts through over a billion phone directories and white pages to provide the details you need. A simple phone number search helps you know who is calling by uncovering their identity, location, pictures, and social media profiles.

Just enter the 10-digit phone number in the search bar and let the website do its magic. Unfortunately, Spokeo charges for in-depth reports. A single phone number report is $1.95, and a monthly subscription costs $13.95. Finding information in public archives or court records will set you back an additional $2.95 per search.

Highlights

- Free trial: Spokeo offers a free trial for first-time users with unlimited access to their database for reverse phone number lookups.
- Multiple services: Spokeo lets you run background checks, name lookups, email lookups, and address lookups.

- Public search directory: Spokeo has access to approximately 300 million public records.
- Geo-grouping algorithm: Search results can be categorized by location to help narrow down the results and pinpoint the wanted caller.

Pros

- Easy site navigation
- FCRA-compliant
- Extensive public records
- Multiple ways to find someone
- Convenient customer service
- Guaranteed confidentiality
- Completely free trials

Cons

- Only available in the USA
- Sometimes displays outdated info
- Requires sign-ups and charges for detailed results

9. BeenVerified - Best for Confidential Phone Number Lookup

BeenVerified, made famous by the MTV Catfish TV show, has become an industry standard for reverse phone lookups. Thanks to its access to tens of thousands of public records on social networks, government records, and census data, you can discover fraudulent telemarketers and internet scammers.

Users' reports provide the caller's criminal history, spam history, and potential friends and associates. But it is not all free. BeenVerified memberships cost $26.89 monthly and allow clients to conduct unlimited searches. However, you must spend one dollar to access the trial period.

Highlights

- Mobile app: BeenVerified has an easy-to-use app that comes in handy for iOS and Android users.
- Support different numbers: BeenVerified can help look up mobile and landline phone numbers.
- Private search: Measures like SSL encryption with a key length of 256 bits are used to protect your private data and financial transactions from prying eyes.

Pros

- Fully transparent
- Legally acquired data
- Convenient mobile app

Cons

- You need to register an account
- Mixed user reviews
- Not free
- Reports take longer to load
