McCapMediaWire -- Arma Services Inc. (OTC: ARMV) a leading innovator in the carbon offset market, is thrilled to announce an exclusive partnership with SURECO & Partners to release new technologies designed to foster sustainable solutions throughout Latin America, the Caribbean and beyond. This strategic collaboration aims to maximize the positive impact of both organizations in the fight against climate change, ultimately transforming the region and its public and private entities, and communities.

SURECO & Partners, led by CEO and founder Jessica Jacob, is a dynamic consulting firm specialized in climate finance with a network of more than 70 professionals that originated from her extensive experience working with the financial sector, UN system, and the Green Climate Fund. United by a shared passion for sustainability, SURECO & Partners is dedicated to providing the highest quality services to advance sustainable advise, support, and solutions across the regions.

Only in the past two years, SURECO & Partners supported more than 12 countries and was awarded contracts with very reputable institutions such as The World Bank Group, United Nations Environmental Program, Food and Agriculture Program (FAO), the Central American Bank of Economic Integration (CABEI), the Latin American Association of Development Financing Institutions (ALIDE), GIZ, Delphos International, AVINA Foundation, among others.

Some of these contracts include the development of Bolivia's Climate Finance Forest Strategy, development of the Environmental, Social and Gender guidance and tool for the Government of Nicaragua, supporting the accreditation process to the Green Climate Fund of more than 5 development banks to name a few, development of Climate Change projects and programmes such as in Brazil, Suriname, and Colombia, development of public and private partnerships with national Banking Associations in Honduras and Guatemala, among others.

SURECO & Partners boasts a diverse and experienced team of professionals, each contributing their unique skill set to support the organization's mission of developing strategies, policies, digital tools and systems for sustainable consulting services, offering the best solutions and professionals according to the specific needs of the clients.

Among the esteemed Board and Advisory members include: Maricielo Glen de Tobon, former General Secretary of the Latin American Federation of Banks-FELABAN; Francisco Domínguez, former Minister of Environment of Dominican Republic; Harishkumar R. Dave, Former Deputy Managing Director at National Bank for Agriculture and rural Development (NABARD); Benedict Libanda, Chief Executive Officer at the Environmental Investment Fund of Namibia; UnaMay Gordon, former Principal Director, Climate Change Division, Government of Jamaica; Renée González, General Director of the Mexican Fund for the Conservation of Nature; Mustapha Mokass, Founder of Climate Finance A. & Carbon Offsetting; Victoria Miles, Founding partner of Global impact; Jeffrey Lamb, Director of the Climate Financing Division in the Kiribati Republic; among others.

In addition, SURECO & Partners is honored to have Javier Manzanares, former Executive Director of the Green Climate Fund, as an unpaid Co-chair. His extensive experience includes serving as Co-CEO of Climate Coin, Director and Representative for the MERCOSUR Region at UNOPS, Division Manager of Investment and Development Banking at BCIE, and Executive Vice President at the International Financial Bank in Miami.

This diverse and talented group of individuals enables SURECO & Partners to effectively drive innovative and sustainable solutions in Latin America and the Caribbean, making the partnership with Arma Services Inc. a powerful force for positive change in the region.

Arma Services Inc., driven by a mission to revolutionize the carbon offset market, empowers organizations to create a more sustainable future through cutting-edge AI-powered software. This innovation sets a new standard for efficiency, transparency, and collaboration in the global climate change arena. Arma is confident that its AI system will serve as a powerful tool in the hands of environmental organizations working tirelessly to combat the climate crisis.

Eric Nixon, CEO of Arma Services Inc., expressed his enthusiasm for the partnership, stating, "We are excited to collaborate with SURECO & Partners, a company with a strong commitment to creating sustainable solutions in Latin America and the Caribbean. Our combined expertise and innovative technologies will enable us to make significant strides in the ongoing battle against climate change, and we're eager to see the transformational impact of our efforts."

Jessica Jacob, CEO of SURECO & Partners, also shared her optimism about the collaboration, saying, "On behalf of the entire team, we are proud to partner with Arma Services Inc., a company that shares our dedication to sustainable development in the regions. By leveraging their advanced technologies, we can amplify our reach and effectiveness, ultimately delivering lasting, positive change for the environment and the communities we serve."

With this exclusive partnership, Arma Services Inc. and SURECO & Partners are poised to create a lasting legacy of positive change in the Latin American and Caribbean regions. Together, they will lead the way in driving innovation and sustainable solutions, working to ensure a greener and more prosperous future for generations to come.
