

El Pollo Loco Calls for Recognition During Hispanic Heritage Month

NEWS RELEASE BY PORTER NOVELLI

Northampton, MA | September 17, 2021 12:32 PM Eastern Daylight Time

This week marks the beginning of Hispanic Heritage Month. It is a time to celebrate the community's achievements and contributions to American history. Yet, while this population makes up over 18 percent of U.S. inhabitants, Hispanics are historically underrepresented across industries. This week, we dive into one brand's efforts in the food sector by calling for more Hispanic chefs to be professionally acknowledged. This week marks the beginning of Hispanic Heritage Month. It is a time to celebrate the community's achievements and contributions to American history. Yet, while this population makes up over 18 percent of U.S. inhabitants, Hispanics are historically underrepresented across industries. This week, we dive into one brand's efforts in the food sector by calling for more Hispanic chefs to be professionally acknowledged.

Read the full insight here: <https://bit.ly/3nGafft>

View additional multimedia and more ESG storytelling from Porter Novelli on 3blmedia.com

Tags

RESPONSIBLE BUSINESS & EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT