March Madness Final Four 2023:

IntroductionSan Diego State Aztecs (current moneyline) vs Florida Atlantic University Owls (current moneyline)

Time: April 1, 2023 6:09 EST

Location: NRG Stadium - Houston, TX

TV: CBS

Florida Atlantic has made history as the first No. 9 seed in the Final Four since 2016 and they are narrow underdogs to the Aztecs entering this game. This is their fourth game as underdogs in tournament games and so far the Owls are 3-0 ATS as such. The Aztecs have covered in their last six games.

With a two-point spread and a 132-point over/under, oddsmakers are predicting a defensive-heavy game from both squads.

UConn Huskies (current ML) vs Miami Hurricanes (current ML)

Time: April 1, 2023 8:49 EST

Location: NRG Stadium - Houston, TX

TV: CBS

The Huskies are the favorite in this game, and now the leading favorite to cut down the net on April 3. But they first have to outlast a talented, hardworking Miami team that upset a very talented Texas team in the Elite Eight. Free throws were crucial for the Hurricanes in their win last round, having made 28 of the 32 total. Free throw rate allowed is a weakness of UConn, as they rank 319th in the country in that category. This will be something to watch.

Still, the Huskies are strong 5.5-point favorites over the Hurricanes. They have covered in nine of their last 10 games and four straight heading into this game.

How to Bet the Total on Final Four Games

Betting totals, or the over/under, is one of the most popular wagers that sports bettors make. In essence, oddsmakers set a projected total points to be scored between the two teams playing. As the bettor, you decide whether you think the total points will be over or under that total, hence the term "over/under." An example of this type of bet is as follows:

DraftKings Promo Code Bonus Bet Example: UConn Huskies vs. Miami Hurricanes Moneyline Odds

If you sign up on this page, you can a bet $5 win $150 bet. If you were to place this on the Miami Hurricanes moneyline and the Miami Hurricanes were to win, you would get six $25 bonus bets.

These odds are drastically improved as currently the Miami moneyline is at +205. A $5 bet on Miami to win, only earns a total payout of $15.25.

Note that you can use this DraftKings promo of Bet $5 get $150 on any of the moneyline's for the Final Four to change the odds to +3000, but paid out in bonus bets.

How to Bet on March Madness: Moneyline Betting

Moneyline bets are one of the most common and simple ways to bet on sports. When you (the bettor) pick a team's moneyline, you are simply picking that team to win outright, no matter what the score is. The team with minus odds (-) typically indicates the favorite, and the team with plus odds (+) typically indicates an underdog. An example of this type of bet is as follows:

BetMGM Promo Code Example Bonus Bet: UConn Huskies vs. Miami Hurricanes Moneyline Odds

When you use BetMGM promo code NDBONUS, you can ensure that your first bet with BetMGM is refundable as a bonus bet worth up to $1,000. You can place your first bet on March Madness and if you lose, you can still use that bonus bet to wager on the UConn vs. Miami game.

For example, BetMGM has UConn as moneyline favorites (-250) and Miami as moneyline underdogs (+210). So oddsmakers are giving UConn the edge to win outright in this game. If you think UConn will win, you can place a $10 bet on the Huskies' moneyline that would payout $14, if they do in fact, win. However, if you think Miami will win, a $10 bet on their moneyline would payout $31 because the odds of them winning were longer. The higher payout is typically associated with betting the underdog.

Should you choose to bet either team's moneyline ahead of their game on Saturday, BetMGM will refund your stake if your bet loses. So, if you bet $50 on Miami's moneyline and UConn wins, BetMGM will refund you $50 in the form of a bonus bet to bet on anything that BetMGM offers odds on. The maximum it will refund you is $1,000.

How to Bet the Points on NCAA Tournament Games

An oddsmaker will signify the balance between two competitors with a points spread. The underdog is marked by a "+" sign followed by the number of points an oddsmaker believes they might lose by. The favored team would be marked by a "-" sign and the number of points the oddsmaker believes they might win by. This is not a bet on whether a team will win or lose, but a bet on whether a team will cover the point spread that an oddsmaker lays out. An example of this type of bet is as follows:

Caesars Promo Code Bet Credit Example: UConn Huskies vs. Miami Hurricanes Point Spread

Use the Caesars Sportsbook promo code NDFULL to sign up with Caesars and your first bet will be refunded (up to $1,250) if it loses. You can use either your first bet or your bonus bet to place a wager on the Miami vs. UConn point spread.

Caesars Sportsbook has Miami at +5.5 and UConn at -5.5. This indicates that UConn is "giving" 5.5 points to Miami. A bet on Miami +5.5 means that the bettor thinks that Miami will lose by fewer than 5.5 points or win. A bet on UConn at -5.5 means that a bettor believes that UConn will win by 5.5 points or more. If your team does not win/lose by the point spread, your bet would fail to "cover." The standard odds for this type of bet is -110 so the payout is the same.

For example, if you bet UConn at -5.5 and the final score is 75-72 (UConn win), then your bet would not cover the point spread, and therefore, would not win. If UConn wins 80-72, then it would cover the point spread because they won by more than 5.5 points. Your bet would win.

How to Bet Responsibly on the Final Four

March Madness brings everyone together, basketball fans or otherwise, and for sports bettors it's an exciting opportunity to bet on the country's top basketball programs. That being said, it should be entertaining and for fun and not a way to make a living or chase debts. Here are some tips on how to ensure you have a fun time, under control:

Responsible Gaming Tip 1: Use legal, regulated operators

The use of offshore sports betting sites is not only illegal, but they are unregulated, which means the money you bet is not 100% secure. If something were to happen to it, there would be no way to get it back. With March Madness being such a popular time to bet on sports, either casually or with an operator, make sure that you are in a state where sports betting is legal, when you participate.

Responsible Gaming Tip 2: Set spending/time limits

Several sportsbooks allow bettors to place spending or time limits on their account. Limits like this are useful to prevent you from spending money that you don't have or chasing your losses. Once you have hit your limit, the sportsbook won't allow you to place any more wagers until the allotted time period is up. You can set this within your settings in the sportsbook.

This is especially important with so many March Madness games to bet on. There are a lot of opportunities to place wagers, but you don't have to use every opportunity. It's okay to be a spectator in some games and a bettor in others.

Responsible Gaming Tip 3: Know your resources

If you do find yourself in trouble, know that you have free resources available to you to help. You can call the National Problem Gambling Helpline at 1-800-522-4700 24/7 or check out organizations like the National Council on Problem Gambling. They are dedicated to helping people overcome gambling addiction and problems.
