

LogiTalk | Carson Tueller on Diversity & Intersectionality of Disability

NEWS RELEASE BY LOGITECH

Northampton, MA | December 06, 2021 01:11 PM Eastern Standard Time

LogiTalk welcomes Carson Tueller, a speaker, coach, and accessibility advocate, whose experiences as a disabled person and a member of the LGBTQ community have driven his activism in diversity, equity, and inclusion. He discusses his journey to rediscovering his worth inside of his disability, and the need for global change in how we approach accessibility.

Hear from more incredible people on our LogiTalk podcast feed, available wherever you listen.

About LogiTalk This interview series recognizes the people who are pushing beyond reason to inspire and change the world. In each episode, Gabriella Deyi sits down with our guests to explore who they are and how they defy logic with their passions, their identities, their activism, their careers, their platforms, their entrepreneurship, and especially their stories.

View additional multimedia and more ESG storytelling from Logitech on 3blmedia.com