Proactive caught up with Phunware chief operating officer Randall Crowder, who provided context and insight on the launch of the PhunToken on Uniswap, a decentralized cryptocurrency exchange. "I think we are the first public company to issue its own digital token," Crowder told Christine Corrado. "Nobody's really gone through to try and build an ecosystem truly around a utility token that can be used in the real world." To learn more about Phunware, click here.
