Pro bono through Taproot Foundation may be fee-free, but it does take careful planning and management to ensure success for nonprofits and their volunteer partners. Let's get you all the tools you need to dive into great project management!

Taproot has partnered with the Project Management Institute of New York City (PMINYC) for a free webinar on Wednesday, December at 1 p.m. ET, that will prepare nonprofits and volunteers for taking on pro bono successfully. Attendees will walk away from this event with:

- Best practices for planning for and managing partnerships with skilled volunteers
- Expert advice from the PMINYC team
- A guide to requesting project management support (and more!) through Taproot's free programs

Register now for this free webinar—and invite your colleagues! Taproot will save plenty of time for Q&A with the panelists so the more the merrier.
