Wakefield auction

Peter and Maryanne Quinn

Wakefield School held its annual auction Saturday, April 13, and it was an "Olympic" success. The auction was held in the school's transformed gym. The theme of the evening was "A Greek Odyssey," complete with a "Barthenon" and two Greek gods roaming the floor.

Fund-A-Scholar donations, which go directly to financial aid, were made in honor of Peter Quinn's 17 years of service and dedication to Wakefield School.

Some exciting items offered up at the auction this year included Elizabeth Locke jewelry, paintings by Elizabeth Dunning and Teresa Duke, trips to Jamaica, England, and Bath County, visits to local wineries and vacations on the Chesapeake Bay, Hilton Head Island and Kiawah Island.

Corporate sponsors included Virginia Ride,

Bartlett Tree Experts and Griffin & Errera Orthodontics. Amazon Web Services, Yoast, Hyde & Barbour and Vision Design Studios also provided paddles, valet parking, and marketing and graphic design, respectively. The auctioneer was Sherry Truhlar with Red Apple Auctions. The auction coordinator was Ezie Junksala.

Committee members and volunteers included Gray Carr Griffin, Cynthia Benitz, Marci Cesanek, Ginny Collins, Heather Dean, Rippy Gill, Whitney Petrilli, Georgina Watt, Desiree Moore, Beth Grunstein, Jim Junksala, Carolyn Parent, Betty Beamon, Jennifer Neff, Leslie Wise, Jennifer Dominick, Sandy Gilchrist, Karen McGinniss, Jennifer Miller, Cindy Voeder Bruegge, Natalie Edens, Danielsa Bushara, Laura Floyd, Juanita Koopillal, Arlene Solari, Lisa Winnick, Gina Anderson, Debbie Peck, Laurie Arnold and Michelle LaRose.
