

Changing Your Browser's Language Settings

Firefox

1. Click on F10 to reveal the menu
2. Go to Tools > Options
3. Click on the Content tab
4. On the bottom will be an item for Languages: Choose your preferred language for displaying pages
5. Click on the Choose button

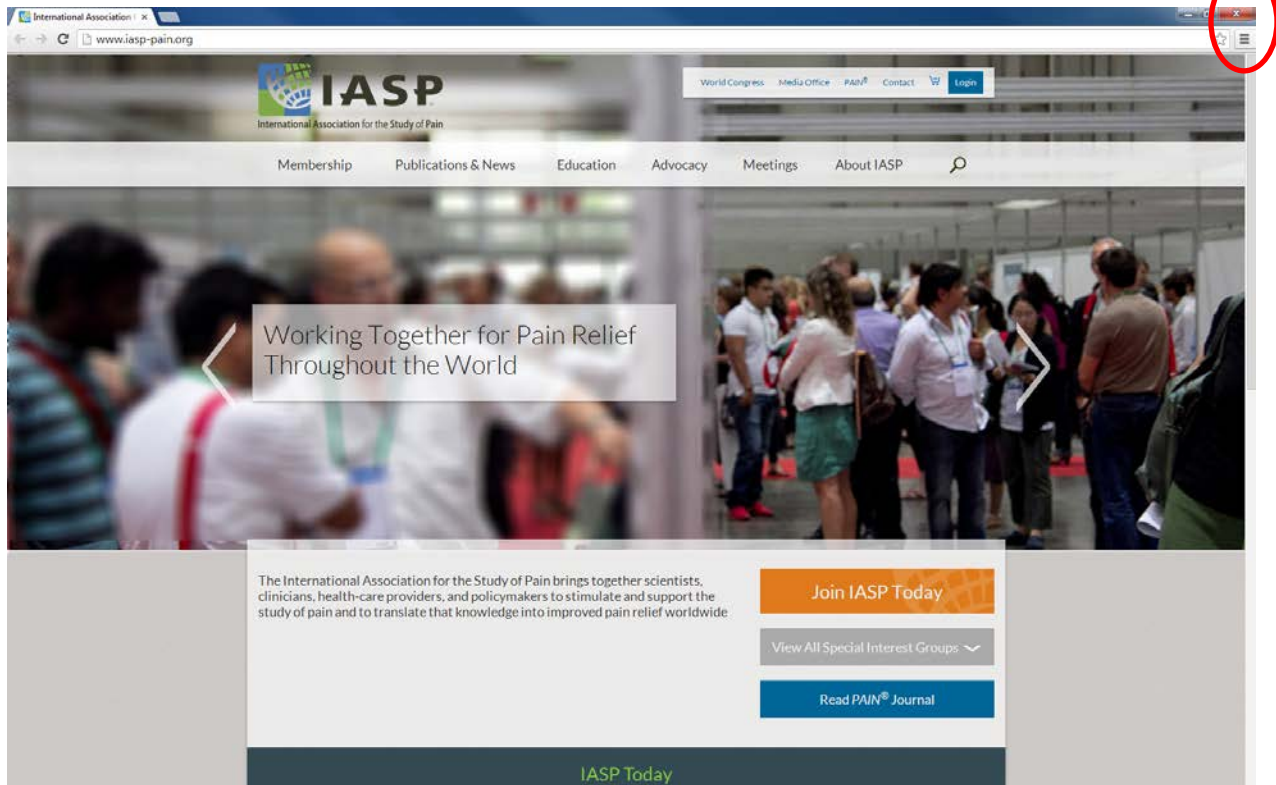

6. Make sure English/United States [en-us] and English [en] are present. If not, they should be added using the “Select a language to add” button. NOTE: English has to be FIRST on the list. Other languages maybe included in the list but English has to be on top.

Chrome

1. Click on the small icon to the far right of the browser's URL bar to reveal the menu

2. From the Menu go to Settings > Show Advanced Settings > Languages
3. Click on the “Language and Input Settings” button
4. Make sure English (United States) and English are in the Languages column. If not, they should be added using the “Add” button. NOTE: English has to be FIRST on the list. Other languages maybe included in the list but English has to be on top.
5. Click on “Done”

