SUGGESTIONS
• Play this game each night for five minutes.
• If your child is stuck on a word, have them tell you the sounds slowly. Ask them to put them back together.
• Once your child is able to read the sentences with accuracy, have them pay close attention to the punctuation at the end. Demonstrate how readers can read with expression.
• Once your child is able to read the sentences with accuracy, have them read the sentences as a different person (an old man, Spongebob, a teacher, a baby, etc.)
