Plot Summary

Mit makes a snowman. Nan watches but the snowman has no face. Nan flies away. She returns with a carrot for the snowman's nose, then coal for his eyes and a stick for his mouth. Then the final touch—a hat! Ann is angry when she sees her hat on the snowman. Nan suggests that a bucket can be used instead of the hat. The bucket makes the snowman complete.

Each new word throughout the program is repeated at least five times in the book in which it first appears and five more times in the next ten books.

In 1972, the federally funded Southwest Regional Laboratory for Educational Development & Research and Ginn and Company published The Sam Books of early readers as part of a Beginning Reading Program. Because it was federally funded, federal law required the program be placed in the public domain in 1977.
