

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of ST. LOUIS
CENTRAL TO AMERICA'S ECONOMY®

B. Ravikumar

Senior Vice President

b.ravikumar@stls.frb.org

B. Ravikumar is a senior vice president and deputy director of Research at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. He is also a Visiting Professor of Economics at Washington University in St. Louis. Before joining the Bank in 2011, he was on the faculty in the economics departments at the University of Iowa, Arizona State University, Pennsylvania State University and the University of Virginia. His current research focuses on macroeconomics, international trade and economic development. He received his Ph.D. in economics from the University of Iowa and his Master of Science in economics from Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh. In addition, he has a master's in industrial engineering from the National Institute for Training in Industrial Engineering, a bachelor's in electrical engineering from the Indian Institute of Science and a bachelor's in physics from the University of Bombay, India.