Crime Victim Assistance Funds

Each state has a crime victim assistance or compensation fund. If you want to apply for victim compensation, you should contact the program in the state where the crime occurred. There is no national or federal victim compensation program, except for U.S. residents who are victims of terrorism in foreign countries.

Source: National Association of Crime Victim Compensation Boards

http://www.ovc.gov/
Department of Justice’s Office for Victims of Crime
810 Seventh St. NW
Washington, DC 20531
Phone: 202-307-5983
OVIC Resource Center: 800-851-3420

https://www.ovc.gov/about/victimsfund.html
Crime Victims Fund

https://www.ovc.gov/grants/index.html
Grants & Funding

Brochure on Victims’ Rights

http://www.nacvcb.org/
National Association of Crime Victim Compensation Boards
P.O. Box 16003
Alexandria, VA 22302
Phone: 703-780-3200
While NACVCB provides some info to victims on how to get compensation, their membership is comprised of employees and board members of the government crime victim compensation boards. The mission of the National Association of Crime Victim Compensation Boards is to provide leadership, professional development, and collaborative opportunities to our members to strengthen their capacity to improve services to crime victims and survivors. NACVCB shares a vision of working together so that every victim compensation program is fully funded, optimally staffed, and functioning effectively to help victims cope with the costs of crime.

http://www.victimsofcrime.org/
National Center for Victims of Crime
2000 M Street NW, Suite 480
Washington, DC 20036
Phone: 202-467-8700
Email: info@victimsofcrime.org
The National Center for Victims of Crime is a nonprofit organization that advocates for victims' rights, trains professionals who work with victims, and provides information on victims' issues.

http://law.lclark.edu/centers/national_crime_victim_law_institute/
National Crime Victim Law Institute
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd.
Portland, OR 97219
Phone: 503-768-6819
Email: ncvi@lclark.edu
NCVLI is a national nonprofit legal education and advocacy organization whose mission is to actively promote balance and fairness in the justice system through crime victim centered legal advocacy, education, and resource sharing. NCVLI works to ensure that victims of crime are informed of their rights and can find resources to enforce their rights. They provide general information on their website about the rights of crime victims and also provide referral information to other agencies that may be able to provide direct assistance. NCVLI does not, however, provide legal advice to victims, cannot conduct research on individual victim’s cases, and cannot serve as an individual victim’s attorney.

http://www.trynova.org/
National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA)
510 King St., Suite 424
Alexandria, VA 22314
Phone: 703-535-6682
Toll-free: 800-879-6682
NOVA is a non-profit organization that provides information resources on victims’ rights and compensation.

The information contained in this message is presented for the purpose of educating and informing you about paralysis and its effects. Nothing contained in this message should be construed nor is intended to be used for medical diagnosis or treatment. It should not be used in place of the advice of your physician or other qualified health care provider. Should you have any health care related questions, please call or see your physician or other qualified health care provider promptly. Always consult with your physician or other qualified health care provider before embarking on a new treatment, diet or fitness program. You should never disregard medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read in this message.

This project was supported, in part, by grant number 90PRRC0002, from the U.S. Administration for Community Living, Department of Health and Human Services, Washington, D.C. 20201. Grantees undertaking projects under government sponsorship are encouraged to express freely their findings and conclusions. Points of view or opinions do not, therefore, necessarily represent official Administration for Community Living policy.