Over a Decade of Improving Aid Effectiveness and Sustainability in Global Health through Training, Coaching, and Strategic Consulting
Health systems rely on individuals to create and implement policy, use best practices, and continually learn and adapt to changing circumstances. Every person has the power to make a difference in the health system. Why not you?

RGH100: 1 COUNTRY, 1 SYSTEM, 100 DAYS

Partnering with development leaders - in foundations, implementing agencies, and governments - we provide strategic services to support the common goal of improving health systems.

In 100 days a lot can get done. And a lot can be measured and evaluated. The program RGH100 will help you build a solid and sustainable foundation that can revitalize a local health system.

Anatomy of a Health System

And how RGH can strengthen it

A health system comprises three levels that need to be strong and interdependent: primary care facilities provide the foundation; secondary care and educational institutions comprise the second level; government sets policy at the top. Professionals at all levels must be ready to collaborate, coordinate, and effectively share knowledge. This approach transforms a health system into a sustainable health system.

But there are often gaps in every system that affect the country’s health programs and prevent them from running smoothly and improving the healthcare delivery process.

RGH has solutions, including the RGH100, to help partners fill-in these gaps to make the system work better together, and become more efficient and sustainable.

---

The RGH Approach

We have three core beliefs

- Everyone has the right to the highest attainable standard of healthcare
- The medical knowledge and technology to save millions of lives already exists; what the world needs is more effective systems to deliver care
- The better prepared health and development professionals are, the better they can apply their know-how and support a sustainable health system to deliver healthcare without donor assistance

Partnerships

The Power of One

In 100 days a lot can get done. And a lot can be measured and evaluated. The program RGH100 will help you build a solid and sustainable foundation that can revitalize a local health system.
Our job is to make high quality healthcare and universal coverage a reality in every facility and community of a country. We improve quality by reducing errors in healthcare delivery and by simplifying delivery processes. We start with individual health workers to optimize their performance. In this way, we enable them to strengthen the health system where they work to ensure high-quality, equitable healthcare everywhere, everyday.

“RGH was very responsive, knowledgeable and flexible to meet the training needs of the participants.”
– Holly McCandless
Program Officer

RGH Services

Our job is to make high quality healthcare and universal coverage a reality in every facility and community of a country. We improve quality by reducing errors in healthcare delivery and by simplifying delivery processes. We start with individual health workers to optimize their performance. In this way, we enable them to strengthen the health system where they work to ensure high-quality, equitable healthcare everywhere, everyday.

“The program is well-balanced; it is voluminous and compact, informative and flexible.”
– Nata Metreveli
Program Participant

Let’s Get It Done.

Learn more about how we can support your mission
www.RealizingGlobalHealth.com
RGH consulting, training, and coaching services provide

- Solutions that follow the principles of The Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness
- Solutions that help develop sustainable systems and deliver high-quality health care
- Improved performance leading to long-term impact
- Personalized solutions for you, your team, and your organization

In 100 days or less RGH’s training programs support individuals and implementing agencies that are strengthening health systems worldwide. Clients realize rapid and sustainable results.

The program has got me excited about public health again.

– Rowan Wagner
Program Participant

It has been a pleasure working with your team and we look forward to your continued support in this region.

– Charles Mandivenyi
Performance Management Evaluation and Learning Specialist

Are you ready to try something new to address global health challenges?

Contact RGH to learn more about our approach.

Contact RGH to learn more about our services and how they can work for you.

www.RealizingGlobalHealth.com
703-978-3331
info@RealizingGlobalHealth.com