AFRICAN NEWS

Cameroon saw its state-run firm SNH invite interested parties to attend a presentation and data consultation for the promotion of four open blocks in the Bomana, Lungahe, and Ndian River Blocks, in the Rio del Rey Basin, and the Manyu Block, in the Mamfe Basin.

The licensing round was launched on January 14 and the latest date for submission of proposals will be June 25.

The data consultations are organized in collaboration with Dancy Dynamics Ltd. and CGG, international consultants in the domain of specialized services in data management.

The data consultation sessions will be available in London on April 23-25 and in Houston from April 28-30. On the mornings of April 23 in London and April 28 in Houston there will be an opportunity to hear presentations on the exploration opportunities, the contractual and fiscal terms, and the legal framework for upstream petroleum activities in Cameroon. Private data rooms will be available for three days, with slots available to book for private viewing, and a private room available for one-on-one meetings.

More information or attendance can be gathered/reserved from Dancy Dynamics.
