Gas royalty

The royalty is a tax on oil production that focuses on the oil produced in Mozambique, from the development and production areas.

The current production capacity is 183 MGJ / year in the Temane CPF; the amount of royalty gas to be delivered to the government is 9 MGJ / year. Make sure that not all capacity of the processing center and facilitation (CPF) is being explored.

The chart below presents the amounts of royalty gas were delivered to the government both in kind or in cash.
