Buhari and his party, the All Progressives Congress (APC) had accused the Goodluck Jonathan led-administration of undermining previous audit of the agencies.

Last week, DAILY POST reported the tension in many of the agencies marked for investigation of corrupt practices.

Those still in office as well as former staff, including retired or sacked workers, are monitoring developments and anxious of contents of the audit report, it was learnt.

Edo State Governor, a member of the National Executive Council-backed committee set up to investigate NNPC financial accounts had disclosed that the audit of affected agencies would cover the period between January 1, 2010 and June 30, 2015.

With this action we have to wait for the audit reports before Ministers are appointed! The "change" is approaching top gear...Lol

DOES IT MATTER? ARE YOU HOPING TO BE MADE A MINISTER? WHY ARE YOU RANKLED BY THIS ACTION?

REMEMBER, "STEALING IS NOT CORRUPTION". EH?

I DON'T KNOW HOW A NIGERIAN PRESIDENT CAME UP WITH THIS KIND OF DEFINITION. IS THIS YOUR OWN DEFINITION, TOO?

PWC would have not be among the audit firm since they have carried out audit report without satisfaction. We support the overhauling of all the departments and ministries, this will be clean slate.
