

Terms Of Use

- The data available in this site is open, and no license is required to use/re-use it.
- When you come across to some statistics that may interfere privacy of others, kindly cooperate with the Centre to protect that privacy and inform the Cen
- The data should not be used illegally either where you are, or where we are.
- We provide web-services through API to exchange data and metadata to be embedded into your application. All these services are certain to failure. We n time to time, so you may experience some of your services not working. We may also stop providing any service, or block access to our services to anyone