The elegant CR1080, one of the smallest and PC towers available, packs a punch with support for full-size ATX motherboards, power supplies and graphics cards. The case is designed with dual compartments with fans to direct airflow over critical components for improved cooling efficiency.

100-Word Copy

The elegant CR1080, one of the smallest and PC towers available, packs a punch with support for full-size ATX motherboards, power supplies and graphics cards. The case is designed with dual compartments: one for the motherboard, CPU and graphics card, and other for the power supply and storage drives. This design directs airflow over critical components for improved cooling of the CPU, GPU and motherboard. Additional mount points provide more cooling options for more fans or liquid cooling radiators.
