

2 Years from Now

By June 1, 2022 I will have passed the NCLEX Nursing Exam and started working on an inpatient medical surgical floor or LDRP Unit at either Corning Guthrie or Robert Packer Hospital to further my nursing career and continue towards my dream of being a skilled, liked, and knowledgeable nurse.

By June 1, 2022 I will have gone or signed up to go on a Medical Mission Trip as a part of a Medical team to another country using my nursing skills and license there!

By June 21, 2022 I will figure out where I want to live permanently whether that be living in an apartment or potentially buying a house close to where I am employed to help my independence from my parents and start becoming more of an adult.

5 Years from Now

By August 1, 2025 I will have already started or been almost done with a Nurse Practitioner Program while still working in the hospital setting with the potential of the hospital I am working at paying for me to continue my education.

By 2025 I will have had all the speciality training needed to be a nurse on a LDRP Unit in a hospital and will continue to practice this even after getting my Nurse Practitioner Degree or be pursuing a spot in a Nurse Midwifery program.

By December 30, 2025 I will be completely independent from my parents by continuing to live in my own place and pay my own bills and grocery spendings. Specifically these things will include phone bills, house/apartment bills and food, electricity, wifi, and gas.
