

Curriculum Vitae

Christian Giliberto

Education

Eastern Connecticut State University – B.A. in Philosophy (expected graduation Spring 2021)

Udacity – Certificate in Deep Learning and Artificial Intelligence

Areas of Specialization

Phenomenology, (undecided)

Additional areas of Interest

Ancient Western philosophy (esp. presocratics), Classical Chinese philosophy (esp. Daoism/Zhuangzi), 19th-20th century German philosophy (including German Idealism, Nietzsche), 20th century French philosophy, metaphilosophy, philosophy of mathematics, philosophy of science (general, biology, physics), Indian philosophy, philosophy of mind and cognitive science, metaethics, philosophy of law

Invited Talks

“Can Artificial Intelligence Think? A Challenge from Husserlian Phenomenology”.
COPLAC Northeast Regional Undergraduate Research, Scholarly and Activity
Conference 2020.

Professional Activities and Associations

Ancient Philosophy Society – Student Member

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Philosophie e.V. – Student Member

Hegel Society of America – Student Member

Heidegger Circle – Student Member

North American Nietzsche Society – Student Member

Society for German Idealism & Romanticism

Society for Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy

Honors or Awards

Academic Excellence Scholarship

Languages

English (native), German (native) French (advanced reading, basic spoken), Ancient Greek (intermediate reading), Classical Chinese (elementary reading)

Philosophy Courses Taken (upper division)

Feminist Philosophies

Global Ethics

History of Ancient Western Philosophy

Human Rights: Natural and Civil

Independent Study – Badiou, Deleuze, and Contemporary Mathematics

Independent Study – The Relevance of the Body in Heidegger and Husserl (preliminary title)

Pandemics: Philosophy and Politics

Philosophy and Death

Philosophy of Law

The Rediscovery of Being in Nietzsche and Heidegger

Topics in Philosophy – Philosophy of Mind

Yoga, Philosophy and Practice