I am an ambitious undergraduate seeking an internship, assistantship, or remote, part-time job in 2024. I am eager to delve into topics related to cybersecurity, project management, and sociology while contributing my leadership, organizational, and communication skills to a dynamic team. Current student looking to join the workforce to gain real-world experience. The ability to complete tasks on time in both individual and team settings is for me. I am reliable and ready to learn and grow with your company.
