

Congratulations, Amy!

We are happy to share that you have been nominated for the Excellence in Student Support Award! You have left an everlasting impression on someone else. Take a moment to reflect upon how powerful that truly is.

Collectively we received nearly 6,000 individual student responses and the number of nominations you individually received is extremely impressive. You should be proud of yourself and the positive impact you've had on many students during their academic journey.

You received enough student nominations to move forward with the next step in the application process if you choose to. Six winners will be invited to speak at Spring or Fall Commencement.

Next Steps

Submit an electronic portfolio including the following items by 11:59pm on March 4, 2024:

- A statement explaining your philosophy for supporting learners at SNHU
- Three examples of student feedback (can be letters of recommendation or other comments you have received)
- A photo of yourself to be printed in the Commencement Program

Your submission will be reviewed by a cross-departmental committee, which will choose six winners – three to be announced at the Spring '24 Commencement and three at the Fall '24 Commencement. More information is available by searching “Excellence in Student Support Award Overview” in Unify Knowledge (article number 000004297). The winners of the award receive a prize of $1,500 and an engraved plaque, presented at Commencement.

If you have any questions, please contact us at commencement@snhu.edu. Thank you for bringing your best self every day and for believing in the power of education.

Warm Regards,
SNHU Commencement Team
