

To Whom It May Concern,

12/17/2023

I wholeheartedly recommend Craig Dreoulas, a remarkable individual whose journey through overcoming learning difficulties has been nothing short of inspiring. In my capacity as an Adjunct Professor at Southern New Hampshire University, I have had the privilege of witnessing Mr. Dreoulas navigate academic challenges with unwavering determination, resilience, and an exceptional commitment to personal and intellectual growth.

Craig has consistently demonstrated a strong academic aptitude and an extraordinary level of empathy and understanding towards his peers. He possesses a unique ability to connect with others, creating an inclusive and supportive learning environment. This empathetic nature extends beyond the classroom, as Craig has actively participated in various community service initiatives, showcasing a deep sense of social responsibility.

Their remarkable willingness to learn from mistakes sets him apart. In a world where many shy away from acknowledging errors, Craig embraces each challenge as an opportunity for growth. He approaches setbacks with a positive mindset, displaying a rare maturity that belies their age. This willingness to confront and learn from mistakes is a testament to Craig's character and his commitment to continuous self-improvement.

I am particularly excited to inform you of his expressed desire to run for local political office. Their passion for civic engagement and community service is evident throughout this writing and discussions in our class. Craig has consistently demonstrated strong leadership skills and a genuine dedication to making a positive impact on the community.

I am confident that he possesses the qualities necessary to thrive in a political role. His ability to overcome personal challenges, combined with their natural empathy and commitment to learning, will undoubtedly contribute to their success in any endeavor they choose to pursue. I believe that Craig has the potential to make a significant and positive difference in our community through their dedication to public service.

If you require any additional information or have further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. I wholeheartedly recommend Craig for any opportunities they may seek, and I am confident that they will continue to excel in their future endeavors.

Thank you for considering this recommendation.

Sincerely,

Alex W. Bennett
