Re: Letter of Recommendation for Craig Dreoulas

To whom it may concern,

As an instructor at Southern New Hampshire University, I had the privilege to have Craig Dreoulas in one of the courses I teach in the online program. Mr. Dreoulas has been a student of high quality and has strong dedication to the academic demands of university level work.

His efforts demonstrated an ability to conduct research and to have strong understanding as to how to evaluate source materials and information. He has strong compositional skills that presented the researched details in a display that is reader friendly to any audience.

His work in the class proved his ability to follow directions and to discuss topics with other students. I found many of his assignments and online posts to be of top quality and informative.

I endorse Craig Dreoulas for any admissions or position that requests his qualities of academic ability and profession.

Sincerely,

Rick Gianni
