

Curriculum Vitae

Anneliese V. Estes

8101 Candies Creek Ridge Rd., Charleston, TN
anneliesevestes@hotmail.com, (423) 813-0385

31 January 2026

EDUCATION

Lee University, Cleveland, TN

Expected Graduation Date: May 2026

Bachelor of Science, Biology Pre-Medical

GPA: 3.69

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

SEA-GENES Undergraduate Research Program, Lee University, Cleveland, TN
Spring 2026

Honduras Medial Missions Trip, Lee University, Cleveland, TN & Dyer Rural Hospital
May 31-June 14, 2024

SEA-PHAGES Undergraduate Research Program, Lee University, Cleveland, TN
Fall 2022 – Spring 2023

Presentations:

- Lee University Poster Symposium, “The New Big-Shot in Town: Semaglutide” Spring 2025
- Lee University Poster Symposium, “Pucker Up with PTC: An Analysis of PTC Population Genetics at Lee University” Fall 2023
- Lee University Poster Symposium, “DNA Master: Discovering the Starts in Schimmels22” Spring 2023
- Lee University Sea-Phage Regional Poster Symposium, “DNA Master: Discovering the Starts in Schimmels22” Spring 2023
- Lee University Poster Symposium, “The Phage Next Door” Fall 2022

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Alpha Epsilon Delta: Member, Spring 2023 – Present, Associate Member, Fall 2022 – Fall 2023

Tri-Beta: Member, Fall 2023 – Present, Treasury Officer, Fall 2024 – Fall 2025

HONORS/AWARDS

- Lee University Dean’s List, Fall 2022 – Spring 2023
- Certificate of Recognition, Outstanding Freshman English Student, November 2022

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

Honduras Medical Mission: May – June 2024, provided medical care to villages within the mountains of Honduras for two weeks. Service included scribing, visual acuity testing, medication dispersion, and brigades to more distant villages.

Operation Christmas Child: Every year since 2017 (2-3 days annually), Packed and shipped boxes of toys and necessities to children across the globe so they may feel love and hope in difficult times.

Hope Again Christmas Outreach: Every year since 2022 (2 days annually), Hosting a Christmas party for children with an incarcerated parent and families in dire situations. Administered by Breakaway Outreach Ministry.

The Caring Place: As required assistance between 2023 and 2024 (once a month), Welcoming and addressing the social needs of the disadvantaged of Bradley County Tennessee.