Unable to see or identify the individual recall flag as well as being unable to hear sound signals, making it leaving you unknown as to whether or not to return behind the line. In addition to the other variables such as the canopy of the start boat, the digny on top of the start boat, the R.O and all volunteers colourful shirts on top of the cabin, the flying of the blue station finishing flag during start. All of this combined makes it impossible to identify whether or not at fault of being over and return behind the line if so
