Not a tree.
But a remembering.
We are the axis.
We are the bridge.

from star

we rise by remembering we return
by giving birth

WARNING

This is just a guide. Camps and mutant vehicles that wished to be in the guide, are. Those who wished to remain stealth, are. All contents and times are subject to change without notice and at the whim of the playa.

This year, the Rock Star Librarian Music Guide turns 21. Old enough to buy its own whiskey and still too wild to sit still.

The Year Everything Cracked Open: 2025. It was one of the hardest years of my life. It was also the year that seeded beauty, love, and the best next half of my life. Because I refused to shrink from what breast cancer had to teach me, and I refused to let it eat me alive from the inside out.

I cried. I grieved. I raged, in full punk rock fashion, channeling every last drop of it into poetry, song lyrics and a book with a title I don't apologize for: Cancer, the Gift. Instead of closing down, I leaned in. I couldn't change the diagnosis, but I could change my attitude, my outlook, my daily emotional setpoint. I didn't bypass my feelings. I felt every single one, closer and rawer than ever. And then, on the other side of each wave, I chose Joy. Defiant Joy, right now, and then again in the next now, until it became my baseline.

Grief passed through. Joy stayed standing. And love bloomed right alongside it. Turns out my breast cancer story and my love story are intertwined at the root. One doesn't exist without the other. I wouldn't have met my Matt. (Love you, babe!)

2026: The Year of the Fire Horse. And hoo boy, it has lived up to its name: Dream job. New town. New ring. Boss babe branch manager of a killer library. (Yes, I'm a real librarian.) And I said yes to Matt, too.

Breast cancer became my divining rod for living the fuck out of life right now.

PSA: Self-Refer. Don't Wait. Whatever's under your shirt - if it's got some mileage on it, self-refer. Don't wait for permission. Get the mammogram. Get the ultrasound. If you're younger and something feels off, anything, get checked anyway. Early detection gave me options most people never get. It saved my life. Don't wait. Might as well knock out that colonoscopy while you're in the neighborhood. Being proactive is fucking sexy.

The Mighty Three: Once again, from the bottom of my heart: Damian Tarnawsky - Burner, Dust app creator, true rock star. Collaborating with you is a dream, and this guide is the best it's ever been because of it. Thank you. And a huge dusty hug and high-five to Avi Flombaum, who once again took a mountain of JSON and transmuted it into the pretty thing you're holding right now. We're a small team of three. We're also a mighty one. I am endlessly grateful.

BIPOC BEATS COLLECTIVE

The BIPOC Beats Collective exists to amplify the voices of Black, Indigenous, and People of Color sound artists in Black Rock City. Born from a commitment to Radical Inclusion, we connect, support, and uplift BIPOC musicians while partnering with theme camps and mutant vehicles to bring diverse sounds to the playa.

- BIPOC Sound Artists - Highlights performers in the Collective.
- BIPOC Beats Collective Friends - Marks camps and mutant vehicles creating inclusive spaces in collaboration.

Together with allies, we're reshaping the musical landscape to celebrate BIPOC creativity. Support, participate, and connect - because every beat of inclusion enriches the whole community.

Camps, mutant vehicles, and artists can reach the Collective at bipocbeatscollective@gmail.com.

HOW TO SPEAK TO LAW ENFORCEMENT

Your best defense against citation or arrest may be politeness.

Nothing requires you to incriminate yourself, and an officer may cite you for revealing any illegal behavior.

If you wish to exercise your right to be silent, say so out loud.

Officer, my name is [give your real name].

Am I free to go?

If I am not free to go, please explain to me your probable cause for stopping me.

I politely decline to give you any further information.

I do not consent to a search of me or my belongings, tent, vehicle, or camp.

WHEN CAN THE POLICE STOP & SEARCH ME?

Police may briefly stop to ask for your identity without probable cause of a crime.

Probable cause means an officer must be able to point to specific facts indicating criminal activity.

Police may not require you to answer additional questions, detain or search you without either consent or probable cause.

An officer may ask your consent to search you or your belongings. Your refusal to give consent does not constitute probable cause for a search.
