2013 INDUSTRY RESOURCE GUIDE

DHI IS PLEASED TO PRESENT THE annual consolidation of the Buyer's Guide, Wholesale Distributor Directory, Distributor Directory, Sales Agency Directory, Consultants Directory and Fire Door Assembly Inspectors Directory. Whether you need information on manufacturers, products, suppliers, distributors, spec writers, inspectors or consultants, you'll find it all in this unique, comprehensive Resource Guide for the openings industry.

DHI is the leading voice of the openings industry, and its publications are the most widely read in print and online. Specifically targeted to audiences within the distribution channel, our readers are the architects, distributors, specifiers and decision makers at companies around the globe. We are the source they depend on for information regarding code issues, trends, education and networking. As a result, DHI is ideally situated to promote communication between sales agents, distributors, manufacturers, consultants and consumers. No matter what you need, you'll find listings of individuals and companies that are capable of providing custom-designed solutions for your job.

By serving as a conduit to help build alliances and relationships, DHI will strengthen your position as an expert working to safely secure the built environment. We hope that you'll retain this issue as a year-round resource in print and online and that you will use it monthly, weekly, if not daily as you discover industry news, learn best practices, and build a mutually beneficial network with some of the industry's best companies and leaders. Visit www.dhi.org and click on "Publications" to access this edition of Doors & Hardware magazine year round!

FOUNDATION

Committed to advancing life safety within the built environment.

NOW A DHI CREDENTIAL!

Add these important initials behind your name to promote your specific and essential expertise as a fire door inspector.

INTERESTED IN BECOMING A CERTIFIED FIRE DOOR INSPECTOR?

FDAIs are invited to enroll in Intertek's recently revamped personnel certification program Intertek

Qualified Personnel (IQP)

program. To learn more see their ad on the next page.

Classes and prerequisites available online.

For more information visit:

www.dhi.org/INDUSTRY/fdai

Take Your FDAI Credential to the Next Level

Differentiate yourself amongst fire door inspectors by becoming third-party qualified through Intertek's Qualified Personnel (IQP) Program.

We partner with DHI to ensure our program's personnel receive the highest level of training and education. After successful completion of DHI's FDAI Program, you then become eligible to become an IQP - Fire Door Inspector.

As an IQP you separate yourself from the competition by going beyond industry requirements and choosing a program with more stringent checks and balances. This makes you a more trusted inspector in the eyes of AHJs and facility managers.

Our program provides a competitive advantage by broadening your service offerings, increasing credibility, and limiting liability.

To learn more about becoming an IQP visit intertek.com/IQP or read our article on the next page.

Valued Quality. Delivered.

There are Many Fire Inspectors in the Field Today

Make Yourself Stand Out

Intertek

Valued Quality. Delivered.

In today's competitive world, you need a distinguishing advantage to get ahead of your competition. That is why Intertek created the Intertek Qualified Personnel (IQP) Program: to help you stand out amongst the competition.

The IQP – Fire Door Inspector Program is, in part, an extension of DHI's FDAI Program and adds more value to the inspection by independently qualifying inspectors and requiring third party audits and continued education to ensure that fire and/or egress door assemblies remain compliant with NFPA 80 and NFPA 101.

Stemming from the program that began in conjunction with DHI in 2007, the IQP – Fire Door Inspector Program is Intertek's next evolution of its original Certified Fire and Egress Door Inspection (CFDI) Program. Since the inception of the CFDI program, changes in the industry have created more opportunities for third party inspections and require a higher quality, more comprehensive inspector.

From an FDAI to an IQP

A person cannot become an IQP - Fire Door Inspector without first becoming an FDAI. Intertek has

“Intertek has teamed up with industry partner, DHI, to create an opportunity to bring even more value to FDAIs through the IQP Program.”

teamed up with industry partner, DHI, to create an opportunity to bring even more value to FDAIs through the IQP Program.

Once individuals are awarded the FDAI credential, they are then eligible to become an IQP - Fire Door Inspector. Once completing the program, FDAIs have three years to apply to the IQP Program. Once an IQP, participants must complete ongoing education and re-qualification every three years in addition to having their companies audited for quality and assurance. It is this higher level of commitment by IQPs that helps provide differentiation in the market.

After completing inspections, IQPs can provide detailed reports to business owners/managers regarding the status of each of their fire and/or egress doors. IQPs can also apply a program specific label to the fire or egress rated assembly to indicate to AHJs that a proper inspection was given to the opening by a qualified Intertek personnel, giving the AHJ confidence in the inspection.

The IQP Advantage

The bottom line: IQPs are held to a higher standard than their industry counterparts. Members receive increased marketability through Intertek affiliation and their efforts to educate stakeholders on the benefits of independent, third-party inspections. This leads to acceptance and recognition by AHJs and positions the IQP as the most recognizable, trusted, and preferred inspector in the market. This all leads to increased effectiveness in the field, allowing you to save time and money while reducing liability for facility managers and building owners.

The Growing Bond: AHJs & IQPs

Authorities Having Jurisdiction (AHJs) have long struggled to have the resources required to perform all the necessary inspections and there has been a growing trend for AHJs to turn to trusted private sector entities to assist them in keeping their communities safe. Enter the IQP. Intertek is working with local and State Fire Marshals, code officials, and electrical inspectors to continually grow their trust in the IQP Program, its inspectors, and the value they bring.

As a stakeholder in the welfare of their community, IQPs work with local AHJs to enhance and grow this relationship - leveraging both the Intertek brand and the elevated requirements of the IQP Program to build trust and confidence in the partnership. For the IQP, the standards are high, but so is the difference they bring to the market.

Manufacturers Directory

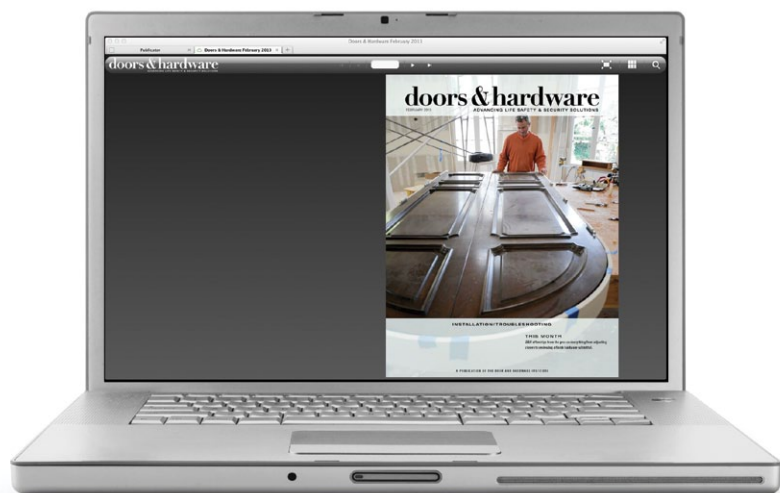

THE 24TH EDITION OF THE MANUFACTURERS DIRECTORY

will serve as your handy desktop reference to the manufacturing companies in the architectural openings industry. In this first section of the Annual Buyer's Guide, you'll find alphabetical manufacturer listings that include key personnel, email and website addresses, and a short description of the company. The second section includes a product index and provides an overview of the categories included and their location in the Guide, followed by the list of products with their respective manufacturers.

To find a manufacturer, refer to this listing or the DHI website at www.dhi.org under "Buyer's Guide." The website is updated regularly with new manufacturers in your area.

To review this issue of Doors & Hardware online and share this link with customers and stakeholders, go to www.dhi.org/dandh.

All company descriptions were furnished by the manufacturers and should not in any way be considered an endorsement by DHI of the company or its products.

The real reason your door drags.

Your problem door isn't a door problem.

Your sticking door probably isn't the door's fault. Butt and pivot hinges wear out quickly on high-traffic entrances. Stress focused on only two or three hinge points eventually deforms the hinges, making your door hard to close and compromising security.

A SELECT geared continuous hinge fixes your "problem door" for good.

A SELECT geared continuous hinge distributes stress along the door length, giving it durability proven by more than 25,000,000 open/close cycles in independent testing. That's why we can offer the industry's only Continuous Warranty™ covering any failure of our aluminum geared continuous hinges — with no expiration date.

Wholesale Distributor Company Directory

Corporate
Members
of DHI

THIS SECTION OFFERS INFORMATION ON COMPANIES

dedicated to providing quick, convenient access to products, making the supply chain more efficient and productive. They inventory many of the products available in the Industry Product Listings from the companies listed in the Manufacturers Directory.

All companies listed within this section are corporate members of DHI.

To find a wholesale distributor, refer to this listing or the DHI website at www.dhi.org under "Distributor Listing." The website is updated regularly with new wholesale distributors in your area.

To review this issue of Doors & Hardware online and share this link with customers and stakeholders, go to www.dhi.org/dandh.

All company descriptions were furnished by the wholesale distributors and should not in any way be considered an endorsement by DHI of the company or its products.

WR RINGHEIM is a wholesaler of builders hardware and access control equipment. We have been in business for over sixty years, and today we specialize in the IR family of brands, just like we did in 1950. Products and technology have changed, but our drive and determination to provide customers with quality hardware at a reasonable price has not changed.

Distributor Company Directory

Corporate
Members
of DHI

NO MATTER WHAT YOU NEED, YOU WILL FIND DISTRIBUTOR

companies here that can help you create solutions that are custom-designed for your job. When used in conjunction with the other resources in this publication, this listing will allow industry end users, architects, specifiers and building owners to have easy access to the full spectrum of resources for all of their architectural openings needs.

The Distributor Company Directory starts with an alphabetical distributor company listing that includes notations about whether the company has staff with the DHI certifications AHC, CDC, EHC or AOC. The educational and testing requirements to achieve these certifications exist to assure the construction industry that those using the official seal are knowledgeable about technical and code requirements. Similarly, distributor companies that have a credentialed Fire Door Assembly Inspector on staff (FDAI®) to conduct these inspections and assist building owners in ensuring that their facilities are compliant with NFPA 80 (2007 edition) regulations also are noted.

All companies listed within this section are corporate members of DHI.

To find an AHC, CDC, EHC, AOC or FDAI®, refer to this listing or the DHI website at www.dhi.org. The website is updated regularly with consultants in your area.

To review this issue of Doors & Hardware online and share this link with customers and stakeholders, go to www.dhi.org/dandh.

All company descriptions were furnished by the distributors and should not in any way be considered an endorsement by DHI of the company or its products.

Need help specifying today's complex openings?

Consultants Directory

DHI HAS A TRAINED AND CERTIFIED TEAM

of professional consultants who have achieved and maintained a high level of professionalism through their unique expertise in the complex field of architectural openings and access control. Architectural Hardware Consultants (AHCs), Certified Door Consultants (CDCs), Electrified Hardware Consultants (EHCs) and Architectural Openings Consultants (AOCs) have proven skills and technical knowledge for the architectural openings industry. The letters after a consultant's name identify that person as a certified professional with expertise in the servicing and specification of architectural doors and hardware for all types of buildings

To review this issue of Doors & Hardware online and share this link with customers and stakeholders, go to www.dhi.org/dandh.

The Continuing Education Program

An asterisk (*) appears next to the names of those consultants who participate in DHI's Continuing Education Program (CEP). Participation in the program offers certified consultants an opportunity to establish themselves as professionals who are the most current and up to date on developments within the industry, as participation in the program requires ongoing education in order to maintain certification.

What DHI Consultants Can Do for You:

DHI consultants can assist in the coordination process between architects, owners, contractors and building officials, as it relates to architectural openings. They:

- Help interpret door and hardware requirements as established by the model code groups and federal ADA standards
- Offer professional preparation of building architectural specifications or their interpretation
- Provide experienced advice to help find solutions for door and hardware problems, regardless of product type or manufacturer
- Act as an industry resource for answering questions relevant to the architectural openings industry
- Furnish expert direction for building security and life safety, from simple locksets and exit devices to sophisticated electronic access and egress control

To find an AHC, CDC, EHC or AOC, refer to this listing or the DHI website at www.dhi.org under "Find a Certified/Professional." The website is updated regularly with new consultants in your area.

New Online Codes Update Course!

Not just for fire door inspectors.

CEP points for credentialed consultants and codes update information for everyone.

CE600 – 2012 Update: Fire and Egress Door Assembly Inspections

Online, Self-Paced, Anywhere, Anytime!

This course covers changes in:

- NFPA 80, Fire Door and Other Opening Protectives – 2010 edition
- NFPA 101, Life Safety Code® – 2009 edition
- NFPA 101, Life Safety Code® – 2012 edition

Upon successful completion of this course:

- Participants in the Intertek Certified Fire Door Inspector Program will satisfy their continuing education requirement.
- Credentialed consultants will receive 50 technical CEP points toward recertification.

For more information or to enroll, visit www.dhi.org.

Fire Door Assembly Inspectors Directory

DHI'S ANNUAL FIRE AND EGRESS DOOR ASSEMBLY

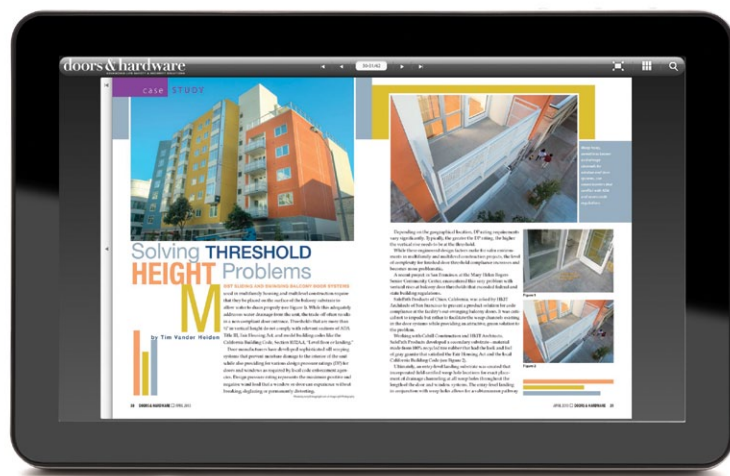

INSPECTION (FDAI®) program is a four-part program combining education, certification, risk management, and advocacy through the joint efforts of DHI, INTERTEK, TELCOM and the DOOR SECURITY & SAFETY FOUNDATION. Together, they are committed to advancing life safety within the built environment.

Based on NFPA 80, Standard for Fire Doors and Other Opening Protectives (2007 edition), documented inspections for fire-rated door assemblies are required on an annual basis. The individuals included in this directory have been credentialed by DHI to conduct these inspections and can assist building owners in ensuring that their facilities are compliant with NFPA 80 regulations.

To find an FDAI®, refer to this listing or go to www.dhi.org/fdai and click "Find a Certified/Professional." Search by city, state, zip code, country or company name. Be sure to reference this section of the website for the latest updates in code adoption by states, links to the Reed Building Code Reference Library, and information on inspection insurance, forms and much more.

To review this issue of Doors & Hardware online and share this link with customers and stakeholders, go to www.dhi.org/dandh.

We Know Insurance Details!

DHI-SPONSORED INSURANCE PROGRAM ★ ADMINISTERED BY TISC

With the DHI-Sponsored Insurance Program, we can provide you ways to lower your risk through customized insurance policies and risk education. The DHI Board of Governors approved the formation of a DHI-sponsored comprehensive business insurance program in conjunction with its strategic partner, TISC (Telcom Insurance Services Corporation).

TRUST. As members of the Institute, DHI has your company's best interests at heart. DHI and its strategic partner will work to meet and exceed all of your insurance needs. The program offers a full range of insurance coverages including: Property and Casualty, Directors and Officers, Employment Practices Liability, and Professional Liability.

Like most other small to mid-sized businesses, our daily focus is in our core competencies. When we need insurance help we lean on the folks at Telcom.

We have a lot of options today, and let's face it, we're all challenged to exceed the expectations of our own customers. Telcom has worked hard to earn our business and solve our problems. They asked the questions to truly understand our business in order to build a program that fit our needs.
