Simple ways to make a home more secure

Creating a safe and secure home is easy when you follow these tips.

Exterior Doors

- 1 Install Schlage deadbolts on all entry doors, including the door leading from the garage to the home's interior
- 2 Add Schlage security hardware, such as wide-angle eye viewers, on solid doors so visitors can easily be seen from inside the home
- 3 If the home has sliding glass doors, use a secondary interior locking device, such as a "charley bar," in the track can prevent break-ins
- 4 Use solid core or metal doors at all entry points. Always have locks re-keyed before new homeowners or renters move in

Protecting Windows

- 5 Double-hung windows can be made more secure by bolting the upper and lower sashes together or by inserting a metal bar in the track to prevent opening
- Keep doors and windows locked when the home is unoccupied.

Safety Outside the House

- 6 Make sure the home has adequate exterior lighting – there should be at least 100 feet of visibility around entryways
- 7 Install and encourage homeowners to use a home alarm system

- 8 Keep landscaping well trimmed, especially around windows and doors
 - 9 Install motion sensor lights near rear or side entry doors
- Remind homeowners not to hide a key outside the home; instead give a key to a trusted neighbor or set a code for neighbors to use with an electronic keypad lock or deadbolt
- 10 Be sure that house numbers are clearly displayed so that emergency vehicles and police can easily find the home

Personal Property and Outdoor Valuables

- 11 Secure outdoor storage spaces, grills and lawn furniture with Schlage padlocks and locking cables
- Use high security, laminated padlocks to secure storage sheds or garage doors, especially during home construction

Security When the Home is Unoccupied

Remind homeowners to have a trusted neighbor pick up newspapers and mail while they are away

Suggest that homeowners ask a neighbor to park a car in the driveway if they will be away for an extended period of time

Finishes for every taste and style.
