Hold Wall Street accountable

YES [] NO [] Do you support a full investigation into the Wall Street banks' role in crashing our economy—and if warranted, criminal prosecutions of bankers who broke the law—as well as compensation and principal reduction for homeowners who were harmed by the banks' fraudulent and illegal practices?

YES [] NO [] Do you support major changes to the banking system that would reduce the risk of future financial crises—including breaking up the biggest banks and restoring the wall between commercial and investment banking (along the lines of Glass-Steagall) to protect families' government-guaranteed deposits from being used for risky Wall Street speculation?

Good Jobs and Shared Prosperity

YES [] NO [] Do you support a major public investment in jobs—such as repairing crumbling schools and highways, wiring the entire country with high-speed Internet, weatherizing millions of buildings to save energy, and ensuring that states have the resources needed to keep teachers, police, and firefighters working—to create at least five million new jobs?

YES [] NO [] Will you support strengthening the rights of workers to join together in unions and collectively bargain with their employers?

YES [] NO [] Will you oppose cuts to Social Security benefits, Medicare benefits, and Medicaid benefits, and will you work to strengthen and expand these vital programs?

YES [] NO [] Do you support a right to education and helping students struggling with loans—who are graduating with debts averaging $25,000 or more—by expanding programs that keep loan payments affordable based on a student's income, as well as strengthening protections against predatory lending?

Everyone must pay their fair share

YES [] NO [] Do you support treating money earned from investments similar to money earned from work so that millionaires like Mitt Romney don't pay lower tax rates than middle-class families—and will you oppose any bill that extends the Bush tax cuts for income over $250,000 per year?

YES [] NO [] Do you support a Wall Street tax on financial speculation to make sure Wall Street firms are trading responsibly and paying their fair share?

Democracy for the 99%, not just the 1%

YES [] NO [] Do you support a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United and decisions giving corporations the same Constitutional rights as people, and to place reasonable limits on political spending and contributions?

YES [] NO [] Do you support fair, clean elections, where candidates who capture the enthusiasm of enough small donors in their home state receive matching funds, so that everyday people can have the same voice in our government as the rich and well-connected?

The organizations sponsoring this questionnaire are asking all candidates—federal, state, and local—to tell us where they stand on these critical issues.

This questionnaire is sponsored by organizations including: Progressive Change Campaign Committee, Democracy For America, MoveOn.org Political Action, Campaign for America's Future, Common Good Action, NY Working Families Party, Progressive Majority, Rebuild The Dream, and USAction for a True Majority PAC who have agreed not to deeply support candidates for Congress, state, or local office that do not at least fill out and return the questionnaire.

Please check YES or NO to the questions on the above page. You may append comments if you wish. Your responses to these 99Elect questions will be made public.
