3 MS. CLARKE: We meet in the most tragic of 4 circumstances, tragedy in the lives of the victims of the 5 bombings, lives that were lost and torn and shattered: the 6 loss of a precious eight-year-old boy, whose smile captured all 7 of our hearts; a young woman who -- with an infectious laugh, 8 who was always there for her friends and her family; a young 9 graduate student whose passion for music was so clear, and she 10 embraced Boston as her home away from home; and a very fine 11 young police officer whose lifelong dream was to protect and 12 serve.

13 The circumstances that bring us here today still are 14 difficult to grasp. They're incomprehensible. They're 15 inexcusable. You just heard about the devastation, the loss, 16 and the unbearable grief, and we're going to see it, feel it, 17 and agonize with every witness who comes to talk about what 18 they saw, they felt, and they experienced and what happened to 19 them and to those that they love.

20 For the next several weeks, we're all going to come 21 face to face with unbearable grief, loss, and pain caused by a 22 series of senseless, horribly misguided acts carried out by two 23 brothers: 26-year-old Tamerlan Tsarnaev and his younger 24 brother, 19-year-old Jahar.

25 The government and the defense will agree about many

1 things that happened during the week of April 15th, 2013. On 2 Marathon Monday, Tamerlan Tsarnaev walked down Boylston Street
3 with a backpack on his back, carrying a pressure cooker bomb,
4 and put it down in front of the Marathon Sports near the finish
5 line of the marathon. Jahar Tsarnaev walked down Boylston
6 Street with a backpack on his back carrying a pressure cooker
7 bomb and placed it next to a tree in front of the Forum 8 restaurant. The explosions extinguished three lives. They 9 unalterably injured and devastated many others.

10 After their pictures were on television and on the 11 Internet, Tamerlan and Jahar went on a path of devastation the 12 night of April the 18th, leaving dead in their path a young MIT 13 police officer and a community in fear and sheltering in place.
14 Tamerlan held an unsuspecting driver, Dun Meng, at gunpoint,
15 demanded his money and compelled him, commanded him, to drive
16 while Jahar followed behind.

17 The evening ended in a shootout. You've heard about 18 it. Tamerlan walked straight into a barrage of gunfire, 19 shooting at the police, throwing his gun, determined not to be 20 taken alive. Jahar fled, abandoned a car, and was found hiding 21 in a boat.

22 There's little that occurred the week of April the 23 15th -- the bombings, the murder of Officer Collier, the 24 carjacking, the shootout in Watertown -- that we dispute. If 25 the only question was whether or not that was Jahar Tsarnaev in

1 the video that you will see walking down Boylston Street, or if 2 that was Jahar Tsarnaev who dropped the backpack on the ground, 3 or if that was Jahar Tsarnaev in the boat -- captured in the 4 boat, it would be very easy for you: It was him.

5 So you might say, why a trial?

6 Now, you've heard several instructions, and when we 7 sat in this courtroom at the table -- you may remember that -- 8 the judge talked to you about how this is a capital trial. The 9 government has elected to seek the death penalty, and in a 10 capital trial there are two phases --

11 MR. WEINREB: Objection, your Honor.

12 MS. CLARKE: -- one in which --

13 THE COURT: Overruled. Go ahead.

14 MS. CLARKE: -- one in which the jury makes a 15 determination of guilt and one in which the jury makes the 16 determination of the appropriate penalty.

17 The indictment in this case is not that simple. It's 18 30 counts. You heard the counts described. It's 74 pages 19 long. There are complicated federal charges involved. And 20 there will be much for you to analyze and decide.

21 But the essence of the charges are four sets of 22 criminal acts: the bombings at the marathon that killed three 23 people and injured many others, the murder of Officer Collier, 24 the carjacking, and the shootout in Watertown.

25 We do not and will not at any point in this case

1 sidestep -- attempt to sidestep or sidestep Jahar's 2 responsibility for his actions, but the indictment alleges, and 3 the prosecutor talked with you about why, and we think the 4 question of why is important, and this is where we disagree.

5           We have a different answer to this question: What 6 took Jahar Tsarnaev from this (indicating), Jahar and his 7 brother -- what took Jahar Tsarnaev from this (indicating) to 8 Jahar Tsarnaev and his brother with backpacks walking down 9 Boylston? What took Jahar Tsarnaev from this to this 10 (indicating)?

11           The government has told you their answer to the 12 question of why, and we ask you to look further. Clearly, 13 Tamerlan Tsarnaev became obsessed with violent Islamic 14 extremism. He became increasingly religious in a radical way.
15 He traveled to Russia in -- for six months in 2012 and explored
16 violent jihad with people over there. He became aggressively
17 obsessed with talking about Islam because of his radical views 18 and his insistence that people accept them and agree with them.
19 He disrupted services at the mosques here in Boston where he 20 once fit in. It was Tamerlan Tsarnaev who self-radicalized.
21 It was Jahar who followed him.

22           The evidence will show that Tamerlan planned and 23 orchestrated and enlisted his brother into these series of 24 horrific acts. Tamerlan Tsarnaev did the Internet research on 25 the electronic components, the transmitter and the receiver

1 you'll hear more about, for the two bombs, and he bought them.
2 Tamerlan Tsarnaev had the Russian-translated version of how to 3 build a bomb on his computer. Tamerlan bought the BBs that 4 were in the shrapnel that were in the pressure cooker and the 5 pipe bombs. Tamerlan bought the pressure cookers. Tamerlan
6 bought the fireworks that went into making the bombs. Tamerlan
7 bought the ammunition. Tamerlan bought both of the backpacks.
8 Rubber gloves with explosive residue on them were found in 9 Tamerlan's car. Tamerlan led the way down Boylston Street.
10 Tamerlan shot and killed Officer Collier. Tamerlan pointed the 11 gun at Dun Meng, demanded his money, commanded him to drive
12 away, telling him, "I just killed a police officer."

13           You'll hear evidence about computers and the 14 electronic devices, phones, hard drives that were seized in 15 this case, and it will show that Tamerlan spent much of his 16 time on the Internet in death and destruction and images of 17 carnage in the Middle East. Make no mistake, Jahar Tsarnaev's 18 computer had many of the materials that the prosecutor told you 19 about: Inspire Magazine, "Join the Caravan," a number of 20 extremist materials that you'll hear about. But there will not 21 be any evidence that Jahar downloaded those materials as if he 22 were searching the Internet to find them.

23           The earliest traces of any extremist materials go back 24 to a thumb drive, a jump drive. You know what I'm talking 25 about? You stick in the computer and you transfer files. The

1 earliest traces of the extremist materials traced back to this 2 thumb drive that has never been found, but forensics can tell
3 you about it. The last traces of attachment -- when you stick 4 it into the computer and pull it out, the attachment into the 5 computer -- were into Tamerlan's laptop, Jahar's laptop, and a 6 desktop computer that was at the Norfolk Street apartment where 7 Tamerlan and his wife and daughter lived, where the family had 8 lived. The last known attachment was, then, the day that 9 Tamerlan left for Russia for six months in 2012.

10 So as you hear the computer evidence, please ask:
11 What's the source of the document? Where else was it? Who 12 else had it? Where did it come from? Can I know by the fact 13 that it's on there who put it there and why?

14 An analysis of the computer evidence will, at 15 baseline, show that both Tamerlan and Jahar's computers had 16 this library of extremist materials, but the evidence will also 17 show you that, while Tamerlan Tsarnaev was looking and immersed 18 in death and destruction and carnage in the Middle East, Jahar 19 spent most of his time on the Internet doing things that 20 teenagers do: Facebook, cars, girls. The evidence will also 21 help point you in the direction of understanding the flow of 22 the materials: who got what first, who got the most, and who 23 had the most.

24 The evidence will not establish, and we will not 25 argue, that Tamerlan put a gun to Jahar's head or that he

1 forced him to join in the plan, but you will hear evidence of 2 the kind of influence that this older brother had.

3 MR. WEINREB: Objection, your Honor.

4 MS. CLARKE: During the period of time --

5 THE COURT: Very limited evidence, if that, but go 6 ahead.

7 MS. CLARKE: Thank you, your Honor.

8 During the period of time when Tamerlan was becoming 9 more radical and traveling to Russia and identifying with 10 violent jihad, the evidence will show you what was happening
11 with Jahar. His parents: his dad, Anzor; his mother, 12 Zubeidat --

13 THE COURT: I think this is -- yeah, I think the 14 family history is not appropriate, as I previously indicated.

15 MS. CLARKE: His parents left and moved back to 16 Russia. He was a student at UMass Dartmouth, but things were 17 not going very well. His grades were plummeting; he wasn't 18 going to class; and he was in danger of failing out of school.
19 And Jahar, in one of those tough times of adolescence, as we 20 all know, became much more vulnerable --

21 MR. WEINREB: Objection, your Honor.

22 MS. CLARKE: -- to the influence --

23 THE COURT: No, go ahead.

24 MS. CLARKE: -- of someone that he loved and respected 25 very much: his older brother.

1           You'll see from the evidence that Tamerlan had a 2 special kind of influence dictated by his age, their culture, 3 and Tamerlan's sheer force of personality. They committed the 4 acts in April of 2013 that led to death and destruction, and 5 they are inexcusable and for which Jahar must be held 6 responsible. But he came to his role by a very different path 7 than suggested to you by the prosecution: a path born of his 8 brother, created by his brother, and paid by his brother. And 9 unfortunately and tragically, Jahar was drawn into his 10 brother's passion and plan, and that led him to Boylston 11 Street.

12           The government talked to you about writings that were 13 in the boat where Jahar was found hiding and where he had found 14 a pencil, and those writings are very important to read in 15 their entirety. And you'll see them. You'll get to read them.
16 But essentially what Jahar wrote was, first, he expressed that 17 he was jealous of his brother who had achieved martyrdom and 18 his wish that he would as well. He wrote that he perhaps 19 guessed that he was alive so that he could shed some light on 20 their motives, and he wrote words that he had read and 21 heard -- read and heard -- that the United States was 22 responsible for the suffering of Muslims around the world.

23           We ask you to carefully evaluate the testimony -- and 24 there will be testimony about these writings, not just the 25 writings themselves -- but about the writings inside the boat,

1 where they came from, and how deeply rooted they may or may not 2 be.

3 And at the end of this first phase of the case, we 4 think that you will have the evidence that you need to make the 5 decisions about the 30 counts, about the four sorts of -- 6 essence of the criminal charges. We think that you will have 7 the evidence that you need to weigh and analyze and make the 8 decision in the first phase. But there will be questions that 9 we cannot answer now. There will be questions that we ask you 10 to carry over to the second phase, as the judge has explained.

11 When we talked to you in voir dire around this table 12 centered in the courtroom, the government, the defense, the 13 Court was here. Most of you acknowledged that you knew 14 something about this case. And most of you said -- or many of 15 you said that you had seen images of devastation, and many of 16 you knew about certain events --

17 MR. WEINREB: Objection, your Honor.

18 MS. CLARKE: -- and people whose lives --

19 THE COURT: Go ahead.

20 MS. CLARKE: -- were changed.

21 But none of you would be sitting here today, right 22 now, had you not convincingly and with conviction told us that 23 you can remain open through this phase, that you can hold your 24 questions throughout the trial, and that you can remain open -- 25 your hearts and minds open to thinking about the evidence all

1 the way.

2 Witnesses -- many witnesses are about to start to be 3 called, some who work in forensics, some police officers who 4 risked their lives, a number of first responders who cared for 5 victims, a number of victims who were injured, and survivors, 6 eyewitnesses, people that lost loved ones. We're all going to 7 see and listen to their testimony with heavy hearts.

8 Holding your assurances to us that you can hold your 9 minds open to not only listening to the who, what, where, and 10 when, but to the how and why, those assurances are going to be 11 tested and going to be very difficult promises to keep.
12 Holding the questions that you have that can't be answered in 13 this phase, holding them open -- your hearts and minds open 14 until the second phase will not be an easy task, but that's 15 what you promised when you swore your oath as jurors. That's 16 what the judge expects. That's what our system of justice 17 expects. It's going to be a lot to ask of you to hold your 18 minds and hearts open, but that is what we ask.

19 Thank you.
