

Remember It Will Stand

by William Brown, MD

In a time when music was a force,
The Showmen took the stage with no remorse,
Their doo-wop and R&B were pure,
Their sound was one that would endure.

Rock and roll, a song "It Will Stand,"
A force of nature that would command,
The rhythm and beat, a powerful force,
This music would take its course.

The Showmen, a group of soul,
Their music was their only goal,
Their voices were a symphony,
A sound so sweet, it was heavenly.

Rock and roll, a rebel sound,
A force of nature that would astound,
The rhythm and beat, a powerful force,
This music was an unstoppable source.

The Showmen knew the power of music,
Their sound was one that could never be muted,
Their legacy lives on through the years,
Their music still brings joy and cheers.

Rock and roll, a sound so pure,
A force of nature that will forever endure,
The rhythm and beat, a powerful force,
This music will continue to be our source.

The Showmen, a group of power,
Their music will live on, hour by hour,
Their sound, a metaphor for life,
A powerful force that cuts like a knife.
