"Coming of the King," Dr. Ellis C. Johanson directing and Mrs. R. T. Fetherston at the organ. Soloists were Mrs. LeRoy DeLand, Mrs. George Parrish, Mr. Arlold Davis, Miss Ruth Johanson, Dr. B. F. Johanson, Arthur Millar, Dr. DeLand, and Wendell Thorngate. Included also were trio and men's and women's voice numbers. The annual pageant was directed by Mrs. DeLand, the title being "Christmas Is a Miracle." The story of how a "dead" church was brought back to life as a result of the faithful care of the janitor and the Christmas dream of a crippled boy. Christmas music was broadcast over the outdoor speaker Dec. 19 through 26 as a project of the Pro-Con group. This group had their season's party at the home of the Parrishes, Sunday, Dec. 27. The children's division party was at the church, Sunday, Dec. 13. The Mothers' Council had theirs on New Year's Eve, and afterwards enjoyed a chili supper at the farm home of Russell Maxson. On Christmas Day there was special music by the choir and the boys' quartet, and in the evening we were told the story of the "Other Wise Men" in pictures.

On New Year's Eve the young people had a watch-night party. The annual candlelight Communion service was Friday, Jan. 8, with our new pastor in charge, assisted by Pastor Coltrin. It was beautiful and impressive. So begins 1954, which we hope will be a blessed and prosperous year for all our people. — E. M., Correspondent.

BERLIN, N. Y. — We are starting the new year with gratitude for the improvement in the health of our pastor who was obliged to drop everything and rest for six weeks. It was voted that the laymen would take over the Sabbath morning service, but it has fallen largely on the laywomen. One service was in charge of Victor Burdick who had been studying medicine in Albany and attends the Schenectady Mission. The Schenectady congregation came with him and we all had dinner together after the service.

On account of sickness and inclement weather which prevented rehearsals, our Sabbath school used a new method for its Christmas program. Each family having children prepared something for the children to do. Recitations, instrumental and vocal music, Bible readings, and distribution of gifts made a very good program.

On the first Sunday of the new year our annual church meeting was held with dinner at the church. The following officers were elected: moderator, Carlton Greene; clerk, Arlie Greene; chorister, Matie Bullock, assistant, Frances Ellis; organist, Matie Bullock, assistant, Eunice Maxson; advisory board, Arlie Bentley and Elmer Stuart; trustees for three years, William Bentley and Roy Wright; treasurer, Robert Bentley; ushers, Eunice Bentley, Ruth Ellis, Howard Ellis, Robert Ellis; Recorder correspondent, Mildred Greene; superintendent of the cemetery, William Bentley. Our pastor was given a call for another year.

We have in our congregation a family (Carlton Greene's) with four generations living in one house.

We are looking forward with anticipation to the Eastern Association and the yearly meeting to be held with us this year, and preparation has already been started. — A. Mildred Greene.

She had become a Christian at an early age but accepted the Sabbath after her marriage, and worshipped with a small Seventh Day Baptist church in Moody County. In 1897 she moved to Milton, Wis., in order that her children might have better educational facilities. Lincoln

Lincoln was religious. "I know," he once said, "that the Lord is always on the side of the right; but it is my constant anxiety and prayer that I and this nation should be on the Lord's side."

When Lincoln spoke of the people, he meant all the people: white and black; Protestant, Catholic, and Jew; native- and foreign-born. In this great heart, there was no room for shabby prejudice or petty bigotry. Race and creed he saw as natural differences, in no way setting limits to a man's capacities or his human rights.

MISSIONARY BOARD GLIMPSES

The editor is primarily concerned with printing a steady flow of Christian news and timely articles for the encouragement, stimulation, and edification of the church, most of whom are more or less connected with Seventh Day Baptist churches. It is also his happy responsibility to handle all communications of the American Sabbath Tract Society and to supervise the mailing of all tracts and audio-visual aids requested.

Membership on the Board of Managers of the Seventh Day Baptist Missionary Society and its Committee on African Interests is another thing that brings happy responsibilities and broader viewpoints. The literature work and missionary work of any people, and particularly a people with a peculiar truth, are bound to be extensive and closely related.

The quarterly meeting of the Missionary Board was held Sunday, January 24, in Westerly, R. I., with about two thirds of the managers present. Two weeks prior to the meeting, standing committees and some with special assignments had been considering the encouragements and problems of the field, and were ready to bring in reports and recommendations. Only thus could the board in one short afternoon give consideration to the many things demanding attention.

Rev. Everett T. Harris, secretary for both home and foreign work, may be considered the key figure back of the success of the work. Conferring with president and treasurer, counseling with committees, and co-ordinating the work keeps him busy indeed. The encouraging, challenging missionary items in the pages of the Recorder are largely the work of his hand.

A full statistical report of the January meeting is scheduled to appear soon in a printed paper, "The Missionary Reporter," which will be sent in limited quantities to all churches and ministers. At this time we give only a glimpse of the reports given and action taken.

The Missionary Evangelistic Committee and the secretary gave details of work planned or already carried out on the various field. Some items that has already appeared in these pages. As the stories break about evangelistic and revival programs they will also appear in the

BIRTH OF A CHURCH

While most of us were shivering at the mere thought of the low temperatures reported in upper Minnesota and Wisconsin, two of our northernmost churches were laying the foundations for a new Seventh Day Baptist church organization. Pastor David Clarke of New Auburn, Wis., and Pastor Kenneth Van Horn of Dodge Center, Minn., with local and college help, undertook tract distribution and evangelistic meetings in the climate of winter in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, commonly known as the Twin Cities.

The results of this labor of love appear on another page of this issue. The Twin Cities Seventh Day Baptist Church has been organized to serve this metropolitan area of well over three quarters of a million souls. More of the story will be told in a later issue.

Churches are not born without agonizing prayer. On December 20 one of these young pastors wrote asking for "constant, sincere, effective, fervent prayer that God's will may be done in earth as it is in heaven. Prayer has been our first method, and it seems that we are being led to continue on." At the conclusion of the letter is this paragraph:

"Somehow I have a feeling that something is going to happen. What it is, I do not know. My only recourse again is prayer and faith in God in His infinite wisdom to lead us in the path of service. He has accepted us already.

A telephone call to Dodge Center on Friday, January 29, revealed that the pastors were presenting the next day three possible plans for the future of the group. Their faith was rewarded. A church was born.

When a man leaves God, things start happening to him. When he comes back to God, things start happening for him. —Selected.

should in no way decrease our love for the older children in America, Europe, Asia, or Africa. Or the same love (if it is true love) can stretch well beyond the present limits of our purse.
FATHER DIVINE AND FAITH

In the November 11 issue of Christian Century, W. E. Garrison has a two-thousand-word review of a new book by Sara Harris, “Father Divine, Holy Husband.” Many thoughtful people have long wondered how this little black man could in thirty years gather to his organization such untold wealth and to himself the worship of half a million Americans. His followers regard him not as a prophet but as Almighty God. Some answers to the question, “How then, these things be?” are given in the review. W. C. quote:

“First, when people are getting satisfaction for their most poignant needs, they can believe anything that must be believed in order to keep the source of their satisfaction functioning.

Second, if belief is to be based on authority rather than on reason, then the more completely unreasonable the proposition is that is presented for belief the more likely it is to be believed...In the area of arrogant and dogmatic authoritarianism, nothing succeeds like excess.”

Furthermore, Father Divine has no financial worries. He never has to wonder if his new believers will give a tithe or if they will be financially faithful to him. He expects and receives, not tithe contributions, but total contributions. In return he gives his people a sense of security. The reviewer remarks that the movement bears close resemblances to the great monastic orders.

How easily people follow a strong delusion! How very easily swallow blasphemous lies! How wantonly they pour all their treasures at the feet of an impostor! How weak-kneed by comparison are the beliefs and benivolences of many of those who claim to grasp the true Gospel! Do you realize that in October only 3.81% of the budget was raised, and in November only 2.47%, when 83.35% should have been paid in each month? That is 52.85% instead of 16.77% — less than half what the budget called for. Do you still wonder why the workers did not get their salaries on time? Ponder this, too. Thirty-one and one-half of the budget was due, and only 12.6% had been paid in. That’s just half the quarter’s budget raised. Not a very good outlook for our denominational workers, is it? Remember, if YOU do not pay your share, our workers suffer, and our work is stopped. The things will not be accomplished, and we will have to retrench next year instead of extending our work according to the needs and the calls that are coming.

New Church Organized in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.

The Twin City Seventh Day Baptist Church was voted into being on Sabbath Day, January 31. Members were present to make this important decision, and other absent ones who had made known their wishes will join as charter members, it was decided.

Following the worship service conducted by Rev. Kenneth Van Horn a business meeting was called with Stanley W. Rasmussen as moderator and Sarah Moore as clerk. After the vote which instituted the church, it was agreed that a business meeting will be held February 13 to elect officers and adopt a constitution and by-laws.

As the meeting concluded the members of the new church joined hands in a circle for the benediction, then, together with the 25 guests who were present, sang “Blest Be the Tie That Binds.”

This solemn resolution by the Twin City group to form a new church is taken in faith that we are being led by the Holy Spirit, and that with God’s help we will grow an independent church. We believe that by this action we move forward in faith together.

We are very grateful for the help given by the semiannual meeting. We cannot sufficiently thank Rev. David Clarke of New Auburn, Wis., and Rev. Kenneth Van Horn of Doctrine Center, Minn., for their constant help and encouragement and for the extensive evangelistic efforts in our community that led us to this step. We are deeply indebted to all the others who have helped with time, money, and prayers.

We request prayer help. We will soon need a more suitable location for a church home. [We believe the present place of meeting is Woodruff Hall, Prior and St. Anthony Avenues, St. Paul. E. B.

Death of Rev. P. Taekema

A telegram from G. Zylstra, secretary of the conference of Seventh Day Baptist Churches in Holland, brings the sad news that Pastor P. Taekema departed this life on Sunday, January 31, 1954. This leaves the Dutch churches without an ordained minister. We are thankful for the speedy transmission of the news so that we on this side of the Atlantic may help to bear up the family and churches in prayer.

We trust that a story of the life of Brother Taekema may be available soon. The following paragraph from the 1953 report of Secretary E. T. Harris gives a little glimpse of his year's work, which was only slightly less rigorous than the year before.

"Rev. P. Taekema continues to serve as pastor of Seventh Day Baptist churches in New York. He reports a total of 763 visits and conversations among members and nonmembers during the year, preaching every Sabbath except three. He writes, 'I have the regular pastoral care of Haarlem and The Hague (churches) and besides I am at free times in to know is not whether they “influenced a few,” but whether their influence was sufficient to win some. Rev. P. Taekema is a free parishioner, the only one in the church. He preaches every other Sunday. He is a fine gentleman, and the Lord will give little or nothing at all to a movement that is only vaguely Christian, though wholly good. — Cecil G. Osborne in Missions."

When missionaries come home, one of the things our members want to know is whether their influence was sufficient to win some. Rev. P. Taekema is a fine gentleman, and the Lord will give little or nothing at all to a movement that is only vaguely Christian, though wholly good. — Cecil G. Osborne in Missions.
LITERACY UNLOCKS THE BIBLE

(In the Recorder for January 11 we quoted part of a tape-recorded message of Dr. Frank Laubach showing how he prepares reading lessons in 169 languages to help some of the world's 1 billion, 200 million illiterates to read — to read the Bible. In this second article we quote statements that show how people learning to read can be taught to love Christ.)

We are trying to introduce the Bible to the whole wide world. Now we have discovered, while we were doing this, another thing that's quite wonderful. It is that when you sit down beside a man and teach him to read, if you love him properly, it's a wonderful way to win friendship and win him to Jesus Christ. We didn't know that when we started. It wasn't our purpose. We were just going to teach the Christians to read the Bible. But now we've discovered that all over this area where I work there are as many as 1200 million who can't read at all and about 300 million more who can't read very much. They are mad to learn to read — not only the Christians but the non-Christians. The non-Christians of the world are hungry.

Everybody in my school of 1200 million people — everybody has the same disease. It's noetic or bacillary dysentery. A great many of them also have other diseases. Then they are also sick of mind as well as sick of body. They are in debt. They have been swindled. There are men above them who are fooling them. They have to borrow money. They borrow 40 rupees and find that they have signed for 400 or 500 when they return the money. They hear about a fellow the other day who was asked by one of these educated scholars to rent his house. He had put his thumb mark on a paper that sold his house for the price of one month's rent. And this is one thing that they hate it! They're terribly unhappy and very anxious to better their condition. And when you ask them what they'd like to do the best thing they'd like to have, the thing that they ask for most of all is to learn to read. They think that you are where you are because you can read the Bible. They ask for exact knowledge and they can progress; and they are where they are because they are ignorant. That's what they think. Are they right? I think so. I don't think there is any dividing line between barbarism and civilization which is so clear-cut as the dividing line of the ability to read. So they are crazy to begin to read.

Now we have a wonderful breakthrough because of this. Let me tell you another thing. It wasn't always here. It wasn't so many decades ago that they were in a state of despair. The missionaries would go to them and preach this good news and they wouldn't believe it. It was too good to be true. What Jesus said they wouldn't believe. But they changed their minds. This, friends, is the greatest fact on earth today. The 1200 million illiterate have changed from a state of sullen despair to grim determination.

So Christianity began to take this vast, sleeping, despairing multitude from despair to hope. And then came our inventions: the airplane; the radio; the motion pictures; the war, sending the soldiers around the world. They have heard our 'Voice of America' which keeps shouting that America believes that everybody has the right to life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Everyone has the possibility to do the best that's in him. Now that's new: that's democracy! Democracy came from the Bible. It is the most unifying doctrine given to the world. It changes the whole pattern. That's the reason why these multitudes have now awakened and have changed from despair to hope. This gives us a wonderful opportunity. I'm tingling with it.

I'm just back from Asia. I want to tell America what you probably don't know. I was going on now you could make these 1500 million people Christians just about as easily as you could make them literate. And it is a wonderful thing. And it is something that you and I can do. And we ask ourselves this: What would most people do if they had the possibility to do this? What would they ask for now and what would they ask for tomorrow? I asked 4000 men and the answer was this: 'We want to open their eyes if they were blind.' You see, you are teaching him you pray for him, because of that you never scold him. You never frown. You never ask him a question he can't answer. You never say no to him because grownup people don't like to be contradicted. You just put him on the back and look surprised at him and tell him how bright he is, because he doesn't say anything. He wants you to appreciate it. Don't tell him the lessons are easy. Just tell him how bright he is. Perhaps you led him, because nobody ever praised this man before. Remember he was a nobody down at the bottom in despair. His hand was grooping up but nobody had ever taken it before. But now you are saying, 'You are beginning to read. It's wonderful! You really ought to be a teacher.' That brings tears to his heart. Twenty minutes or an hour ago he was nobody. Now you are going to make a professor of him. The women often cry when they tell them that. I like to see people when they are that way. It is a wonderful thing to see the change in these people, seemingly in a few minutes. I have more fun than anybody who ever lived, I believe. I have nostalgia to be back with my illiterates. That's where I want to be — beside an illiterate and seeing the change.

Then you tell them, 'You know why I'm teaching you?'

'No.'

'I learned it from Jesus. I'm His follower. Every minute of His day He spent helping people. He would walk down the street looking for a chance to heal them if they were sick; or to feed them if they were hungry; or to open their closed eyes if they were blind. You were blind.' But your eyes are being opened. The greatest secrets of the world are in books. And now your eyes can be opened too. And this is the greatest book of all. Jesus sees in you the possibilities. This is the beginning of the whole thing. I couldn't thank Him enough. The church at Corinth did not understand. They were branding them together because we did not understand each other or understand God's purpose in our lives.

Paul explained to the Corinthians that God divides men into three groups. Two of these groups are undesirable to Him. The natural, unspiritual, or material man may be learned, gentle, eloquent, and fascinating or the opposite. He rejects spiritual truth. It is foolishness to him. Read 1 Corinthians 2: 14.

The spiritual man walks in the Spirit in communion with God. He may not always understand. He tries to please God. Read 1 Corinthians 2: 15.

The carnal man is a babe in Christ but still worldly. He has not grown in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Read 1 Corinthians 3: 1.

The carnal or worldly man loves the world and the things of the world. Read 1 John 2: 15. He may express that love in many ways. Carnal Corinthians expressing it in envy, strife, and division. They were saying, 'I am of Paul or Apollos. They were branding themselves with names. They had forgotten that they were to be 'laborers together with God.' Read 1 Corinthians 3: 5.

We are building together on the foundation of Jesus Christ. What kind of structure are we building? God will give the increase to individuals, churches, and denominations. Read 1 Corinthians 3: 6.

"For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building. According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon." FELLOW WORKMEN FOR GOD

Rev. E. A. Coltrin

The church at Corinth did not understand that they were to work together for the Lord's work. Many times we have not worked together because we did not understand each other or understand God's purpose in our lives.

Paul explained to the Corinthians that God divides men into three groups. Two of these groups are undesirable to Him.

The natural, unspiritual, or material man may be learned, gentle, eloquent, and fascinating or the opposite. He rejects spiritual truth. It is foolishness to him. Read 1 Corinthians 2: 14.

Report from British Guiana

Word comes from Pastor Ben Berry that it is hoped that there will be baptismal services soon at Verogeneq and also at Wakenaan. He writes, "We brought off a joint rally to raise funds and were able to raise seventy dollars. The church at Wakenaan needed new bridge across the treenb (brook) so we have erected a strong bridge there. We are now concentrating on new pews.

Pastor and Mrs. Joseph Tyrrell reported from Parika that work had been done on the church grounds and building, also painting of the roostum at the Peters Memorial Seventh Day Baptist Church. They expressed thanks for help given and closed with these words, "trusting that the Lord may help us to launch further out in the deep to win souls for the Master's Kingdom."

Pastor Alexander Trotman writes from Henrietta on the Essequibo Coast that he is very much in need of an out-board engine. We can supply you with a boat if we be assisted with an engine." The Pomeroon Church is a "river district."

A letter of appreciation tells that Mrs. Trotman’s sight is gradually returning, "the news brings much joy to all those who have been carrying this matter in our prayers."

Through the special gifts of the Marlboro Sabbath School and the Philadelphia Fellowship a portable organ is being supplied for the Essequibo mission area and a kerosene-powered slide projector is to be donated to the British Guiana Council of Churches for the use of Supervisor Warder Fitzrandolph while visiting on the field and such other uses as the council may decide. Plans are now under way for Brother Fitzrandolph to make his next supervisory visit early in March, 1954.

Pastor Charles Belgrave reports: "My house-to-house work continues in which two Bible studies were given this quarter with good interest shown. The preaching service continues at the almshouse with an average of 10 present every Sabbath. Aside from this, individual visits are made. I am pleased to note one quarter of the year with one more addition to our group.)"

Jamaica News

Missionary Warden Fitzrandolph’s report to the Kingston Seventh Day Baptist Church gives an idea of some of his varied activities. He writes:

"First I want to thank all the ministers, deacons, leaders, and laymen of this church who have shouldered so much responsibility and worked so faithfully carrying on the various activities of this church. All the regular services of the church have been conducted."

"Your pastor has led seven prayer meetings in Kingston Church, preached in Kingston Church four times, preached in many churches or acted as chairman to rallies thirteen times, baptized six people, three of them in Kingston Church."

"Communion services were held in Bath, Spring Hill, Orange Bay, and Kingston, one funeral was conducted, babies blessed, and weddings and other activities too numerous to mention."

In reviewing the work of the field before the Joint Conference assembly at board meeting on January 5, 1954, of which he is corresponding secretary, Mr. Fitzrandolph reports as follows:

"There has been distinct progress made in church building. Wakeham has been completed, and Higgintown, Blue Mountain, Bath, Lemon Hall and Orange Bay, Waterford and Bowensville are making long strides toward completion."

"New church buildings have started to be raised in the past year: Albion Mountain, Post Road, Accompong, Belle Castle, and Davyton. Albion Mountain and Post Road are already worshipping in their new structures. Belle Castle is roofed."

"Church membership is also increasing although I do not have reports from all the churches to make proper comparisons. But the work is spreading. Nine years ago we had no groups worshipping in Jacksontown, Orange Bay, Comfort, Davyton, Accompong, and the calls are coming faster than we can answer the appeals."

"Progress is indicated by the increase of paid field workers and the increase in their pay. Our workers are not paid enough, however, and it is my hope that means will be found to increase their remuneration, at this board meeting."

"Progress is also seen in Crandall High School. That a morale builder it has been. God has certainly blessed us in our efforts in this branch of our activities. We still have one step forward which many of us desire for our country school. But let us not be discouraged. Think how long we laboured and waited for Crandall High School."

Pastor Socrates Thompson serves the Luna Church and teaches in Crandall High School. Principal O. B. Bond has written of the excellent work being done by Socrates both as teacher and as his assistant.

A recent letter from Pastor Thompson states, "Kindly note that our permanent address is now 47 Oakland Road, Whitley Town P.O., and not 1 Slips Pen Road. This and 29 Charles St., are about the only addresses for us at present."

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER
Friday, March 5, 1954

Theme: That They May Have Life.
We would call your attention to the third section of our goals for this year. This section, now how much we will strive to attain World Day of Prayer services.* If there is no public service in your community won't you make it a day of prayer at home? Perhaps your family would be interested in participating in this literally around-the-world worship service.

Thousands of Christians in the United States and in 31 other countries will be affixed in prayer on that day. For centuries women have prayed for a better world. This regular observance began in 1887. The purpose of the day is to unite all Chris-

The Christian Culture Committee has ordered 85 World Day of Prayer services. These have been sent to the keyworkers in each society as well as to our ministers in New Zealand, Jamaica, British Guiana, Ni

From the Women's Board

Two refrigerators for the missionary families in Jamaica seem assured. At the meeting of the Women's Board it was voted to supply whatever amount was still needed to purchase this much needed equipment. We do not at this writing know just how much that will be. We understand that some gifts from groups and individuals have been received along with previous donations, but this board is now undertaking to compile and arrange this material—a considerable task.

Elder Clifford Beebe writes that Rev. John McKay will assist in a series of special meetings at the Carraway Church, Putnam County, Fla., in late January or early February. Mr. Beebe has been planning and hoping for such evangelistic meetings for some months and this board has been standing ready to help with the expenses when arrangements could be made. An item of $100 was placed in the present budget for this purpose and is now being needed. Will those of you who have previously been promised that these meetings will reach and bless many. Will you not also keep them in your thoughts and prayer?

We are enthusiastic about a new tape recording that will be ready for use after February 1. Rev. Leon Lawton of Los Angeles recorded on tape many hours of the 1953 Conference in prayer. He has put the highlights of the full week’s program on a tape that runs for 95 minutes. Anyone who has felt that prayer was an inspiring glimpse of Conference. Those who were at Conference will be happy to be recalled to their minds the program, and those who were not there can in this special meetings in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area are going forward. By the time you read this the meetings will have closed. This board is glad to have had a small part in this work by helping with the traveling expenses of two young men from Wisconsin, Edwin Green and Justin Camenga. The sum of $50 was forwarded, some of which has been returned. Many Seventh Day Baptists in and around the Twin Cities have worked and prayed for the success in this undertaking, and we join our prayers with those of people all over our denomination that their work may be blessed.

The committee at work on preparation of the Jamaican booklet reports that through the assistance of Miss Evalois St. John considerable material has been received from the files of the Historical Society. A lengthy letter has also been received from Rev. O. B. Bond on the present conditions and needs in the school. The committee is now undertaking to compile and arrange this material—a considerable task.

Appraising the public attitude toward the liquor question, the American Business Men’s Research Foundation suggested that “The solution upon which the solution of the alcohol problem can be successfully dealt with is an efficient, comprehensive knowledge of the facts, namely: How alcohol affects longevity, society, crime, divorce, production, prosperity, and individual happiness.

“Only passapass weight of the whole truth of the alcohol problem, and continued uninterrupted dissemination of the facts will greatly hasten immediate solution of the problem,” concludes the Foundation.

We need to remember that in China the per capita yearly income is $23; in India it is $45; in Indochina, $35. Against this we should contrast the per capita income of Great Britain — $660, and still further, consider the income in the United States — $1,260.

Report of Executive Secretary of Board of Christian Education

Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, 1953

I must first express my appreciation for the neat and orderly condition in which I found the files of records, materials, correspondence of the board. I am not promising that this will be true in that condition. I am grateful, for, the cordial welcome and friendly assistance I have received from my family upon our arrival in Alfred and since.

Much of my time, especially at first, was spent in reading for orientation in the field and its literature. Correspondence has been rather light, particularly with our own churches. A request from a director of religious education in a church in Oregon for samples of our literature for young people was honored and an appreciative acknowledgment was received. Approximately $5.40 has been spent for postage.

I have met with the Committee on Church Schools, the Finance Committee, and the Executive Committee, and have counseled with President Rogers, Dr. Ben Cranston, Mrs. W. D. Reeder, Mrs. Mervin Nida, and others. Articles for the Sabbath Recorder have been supplied at frequent intervals.

Following the General Conference I visited the White Cloud, New Auburn, Milton, Milton Junction, and Albion Churches giving talks and showing slides of the work in Chile.

In company with Secretary Crofoot I attended the North Central Association at Dodge Center, October 2 to 4, speaking once in Jamaica and once on religious education as it applies to Seventh Day Baptists in the coming year. En route to and from Dodge Center there were opportunities at Battle Creek and Milton for private conversations on our work and problems.

From October 23 to 27 I accompanied Secretary Crofoot to Rhode Island where I spoke on Jamaica at the First Hopkinson Church and attended the Missionary Board meeting, and a meeting of our denominational secretaries.

The first of December, 82 letters were sent out to pastors and leaders and superintendents calling attention to Youth Week.
and Race Relations Sabbath, and offering to visit churches in January, April, or June to stimulate the people, discuss with teachers their problems, and perhaps teach a course in Leadership Training. A packet of material for Race Relations Sabbath was enclosed with each letter. Requests have already come for me to visit three churches.

There is a wealth of splendid literature full of inspiration and valuable instruction for leaders and teachers. The problem is to get people to want it, to read it, and to pay for it. If it grows on our board, as I see it, is to impress people that the leadership of boys and girls and young people is a divine calling and tremendously important to every church. I believe we should give more attention to our young people to inspire, train, and put them to work. They have the necessary enthusiasm and courage which the older generation seems largely to have lost.

I believe a careful study of all our publications should be made with a view to possible improvement of content, organization, and methods of production and circulation.

Neal D. Mills
Executive Secretary.

Dear Barbara:

I recently noticed that the Girl Scouts in Troop 33 here in Adams Center. I have earned 16 badges.

If I am a First Class Scout and am working on Curved Bar, the highest rank a Girl Scout can be.

I went to church camp for the first time this summer. It was the first camp we've had here in the Central Association for a few years.

We rented the 4-H Camp. We named it Camp Harmony. I am looking forward to going again next year.

Dear Barbara:

I was sorry to have to be so late in getting your interesting letter into the Recorder. My family and I were visiting out of state and did not get your letter in time.

If there were three letters dated ahead of yours and Nancy's. You certainly are a busy woman, and much to be envied.

If we are happy, are we not, when we are busy? I know I am. But as you probably noticed, I also got a few years. We rented the 4-H Camp.

We had a wonderful Christmas at home with tree and decorations, and we hung stockings. My best present was a microscope, and we are using it on bugs and plants, a drop of blood, etc.

I hope you had a Happy New Year.

Your friend,

Dear Mrs. Greene:

I am in kindergarten this year. I like it. I like to go to school on the bus. There are twenty-five kindergarteners on our short street and we have a bus just for us. We are making things. I made a table decoration for my mommies and daddies.

We are going tomorrow to Rochester for a weekend with my grandparents and
INTRODUCTION TO ST. LUKE

Our churches on the West Coast report growing interest in their Bible Reading Fellowship. Those who enroll are reading the New Testament through between January and June. We pray below a portion of the outline of Luke sent out to the readers. Mimeographed outlines like this will be available from week to week by applying to the Riverside or Los Angeles Churches.

Author

Luke, the beloved physician (Col. 4: 14). He is also the reputed author of Acts, both books being addressed to the same person. Luke was a close friend and traveling companion of Paul. Though not an eye-witness to the facts he records, he carefully collected this information from eyewitnesses and as a "historian" he "trace[d] the course of all things accurately from the first." It is probable that he obtained the account of Christ's birth from His mother, Mary. Date uncertain.

Distinctive Features

1. Our Lord specially presented as the friend of publicans and sinners — the outcasts of society (Luke 5: 29; 7: 29, 34, etc.), manifesting tenderness, compassion, and sympathy (13: 1; 19: 41, etc.) which went beyond the limits of national prejudice (6: 6; 14: 1; 17: 11, etc.). Hence Luke alone gives parable of the Good Samaritan and notes that the one leper who gave thanks to God was a Samaritan (17: 16, 18).

2. Many references to women: Elizabeth; Anna; the widow of Nain (7: 11-15); the repentant woman (7: 37); ministering women (8: 2); the daughters of Jerusalem (19: 28); Martha and Mary of Bethany (10: 38-41); Mary Magdalene (24: 10).

THE SABBATH RECORDER

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES

SHILOH, N. J. — The annual church meeting was held January 3. Pastor Lippincott was asked to serve us again this year. Moderator B. B. Sheppard was also re-elected. Many committee reports were given, and a successful year was revealed by reviewing the accomplishments mentioned in the reports.

Dinner was served in the dining room to those who were able to attend for the day.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society held the January meeting in the church basement. A soup and pie luncheon was served and very well attended.

On January 16 in the weekly church bulletin the following announcement was found: "In Memoriam — The Schaible family is presenting to the church a tape recorder in memory of their parents, George and Jennie Schaible. It is the wish of the family that this recorder be used to bring cheer to the shut-ins. A brief dedication ceremony was a part of the morning service. This tape recorder will have a vital place in the work of the church."

The six weekly meetings of the West District Bible Conference are now in progress, Jan. 18 to Feb. 22 inclusive. Dr. William Powers of Eastern Baptist Seminary is the leader in the study of "Great Bible Doctrines." The meetings are being held in Greenwich this year.

Mrs. Percy C. Davis.

DENVER, COLO. — An interesting and helpful movie, "The Beginning of the Rainbow," was shown by Pastor Dickinson Friday evening, Nov. 27, 1953.

Because of weather conditions and scattered cottage prayer meetings have been held this winter.

Co-operating with the United Church Women of Denver, the Ladies' Aid served supper for the servicemen at the YMCA on Sunday, Oct. 25, followed by an hour of singing with Ted Hansen at the piano. Pastor as master of ceremonies and Mrs. McChlann as sponsors. Ted left the next morning for San Diego to begin a four-year term in the Navy.

We have enjoyed having our Salem College girls, Katherine Davis and Jeanette Haling, with us through the holidays. For our Christmas celebration this year, Mrs. Robert McLachlan portrayed the Christmas story by flannelgraph. By using five boards with beautiful pictures and scenery on each, she told the old, old story in a moving way.

The Sabbath school's regular missionary program and special collection this last quarter were devoted to Jamaica. The offering amounted to $27.10.

On Friday, January 1, they drove here for a church meeting at 4 p.m. They are earnest young people and made a favorable impression on us all. After hearing their testimony it was voted to receive them after baptism.

Clifford Beebe came from Pomona Park to administer the baptism since both Dr. Crofoot and Rev. Elizabath Randolph by reason of ill health were unable to administer the rite.

Mr. and Mrs. Berger stayed overnight at Miss Randolph's and were received as members before the celebration of the Lord's Supper on Sabbath day.

At the annual business meeting of the church on January 10, 5 officers were re-elected: J. N. Norwood, president; Dr. Ruth T. Rogers, vice-president; L. Emile Babcock, clerk; W. A. Titsworth, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Rogers, pianist.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed for the fine piano recently given to the church as a memorial to Clarence M. Rogers by his wife and family.

J. W. Crofoot was appointed chairman of a committee on pulpit supply, a position held during the fall by W. A. Titsworth.

Among those preaching during the last three months have been Clifford Beebe and his son, David, Nathan Branch, and Mr. Crofoot of our own number, and two of the retired ministers now living in Olds Hall, a local home for retired ministers of all Protestant denominations.

Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that thou wilt give the United States in thy holy protection; that thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government, and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large. And finally, that thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the divine Author of our blessed religion, without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation. Grant our supplication, we beseech thee, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.
